A melodrama in beautiful settings will be offered to the patrons of the Roseburg Theatre Friday evening Jan. 20 "Over Niagara Falls" has been styled by a well known critic in Chicago "the same melodrama." There is nothing especially lurid about "Over Niagara Falls," nothing which does not seem perfectly natural and within range of possibility and there is not a line in the entire production which savors of vulgarity. These are certainly matters which recommend it when considered carefully. Apart from its scenery and realistic features "Over Niagara Falls" has one of the strongest casts ever seen outside of the high priced productions.

JOSEPHSON'S THE BIG STORE

"Over Niagara Falls."

"Over Niagara Falls" is one of the most pretentious scenic productions ever exploited by any management, and those who enjoy melodrama can well employ their time in witnessing this play. It is not alone painted scenery that will greet the eyes but much actual and electrical effects that are sensational in the extreme. The company carries all its scenery and properties and it may be worthy of mention to state that from the rise to the fall of the final curtain not one piece of house-scenery will be utilized. The great scene in Act Three that of Niagara Falls is the most effective and delightful feature of the performance, and the spectator who has seen the real Niagara and heard its thunderous diapason will be surprised at the realism of this production at the Roseburg Theatre Friday evening January 20.

Supervisor Bartrum Honored.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 3, 1905. At the National Forestry Convention held in this city recently, by the American Forestry Association, S. C. Bartrum, of the Cascade Range Forest Reserve, with headquarters at Roseburg, Oregon, was honored with the election of vice-president of this Association for Oregon.

This is an honor worthily bestowed and it is quite likely Mr. Bartrum will accept the high position so unexpectedly tendered him.—Ed.

A Peculiar Affliction.

C. R. Wheeler has been confined to his home for sometime past by a peculiar ailment. Away back in 1861 he had the misfortune to have a sharp thorn about an inch or more in length, broken off in his thigh. It could not be extracted and as the years went by it worked down his leg. For over forty years that sharp bit of wood has been slowly but surely making headway and today it is in his foot and causing him much pain. His intention now is to have an X-ray applied and have it removed.—Drain Nonpariel.
