

ANOTHER BILL OF COSHOW'S REPORTED UNFAVORABLY

The Session is to Continue for Forty Days---To Prohibit Women From Going Into Saloons

SALEM, Or., Jan. 27.—There will be an unfavorable report on the part of the committee on medicine in the matter of Senator Coshow's bill, making it compulsory for parents to have medical aid for their children in case of sickness.

No definite action has as yet been taken on the bill to license osteopathy. Dr. Anderson, of The Dalles, president of the Oregon Osteopathic Association, was before the committee over an hour last evening, explaining his views of the case, but as there are other bills to be introduced it was thought best to wait for a few days before reporting back to the Senate.

Fury Days Session Voted. SALEM, Or., Jan. 27.—Speaker Mills' resolution favoring a 23 days session of the Legislature was voted down in the House yesterday by a vote of 27 for and 30 against.

When the bill came up for final passage yesterday afternoon, Senator Nottingham spoke in favor of it, and said that his measure was intended to protect young girls, who might be induced to enter saloons by side doors when they would not do so by the front door.

Word comes from Los Angeles that the disorders there have broken out with renewed violence. There are 100,000 strikers in and about the city. They have broken the telephone service between Los Angeles and Warsaw.

It is reported that the Winter Palace were riddled with bullets during the firing on Sunday. If this is true it means that numbers of the soldiers were ordered to fire on the strikers instead of their rifles on the palace.

not summon a Republican Legislature to deal with those emergencies, the members should devise a plan for meeting independently of the Chief Executive.

Among the emergencies are cited the possibility of vacancy in the Oregon delegation in Congress and the probability of the Governor's vetoing important measures after adjournment of the present regular session.

This question has been discussed at Salem and on the train to and from the capital for three weeks, and leaders of the Legislature are pondering over it studiously.

RAILROAD SERVICE BILL DEFEATED

Was a Meritorious Measure and Deserved a Better Fate

SALEM, Jan. 25.—The Senate today, after considerable discussion, defeated by a vote of 22 to 6 Malarkey's bill to limit the hours of continuous service of railroad employees permitted to work while employed in train service.

This was a very meritorious and humane measure and deserved a better fate at the hands of the Oregon Senators. For one hour Malarkey held the floor of the Senate this morning arguing eloquently in favor of the passage of the bill limiting the hours of labor of railway employees.

He quoted statistics to show that 10,000 persons in the United States were killed and 75,000 were injured in railway accidents in 1903. The lives of the people need protection, he said. The railroads are short sighted and always opposed to measures in their own interest.

In the Senate this afternoon Wheel-don and Pierce took issue with the statement of members that they could not honestly vote against Malarkey's railroad bill. Both said that they had talked with many railroad men and did not believe such a measure was wanted.
