Must Have Carrier's Creams.—It appears that such a reputation has been established for the excellence of these creams and other fine home manufactured candies that the people will have them even at the risk of "doing time" to get them. His candy products are without doubt the finest manufactured in the state and imbued with this belief and the further impression that owing to the very lucrative business enjoyed by the candy maker a fair purse might be found thrown in the cash register or among the bon bon boxes, some person or persons entered the place Thursday night by removing a screen from the back door and proceeded to go through the cash register which is always left unlocked and sort over the candy boxes one of which contained $2 or $3 in small change, which was appropriated. This leads to the belief that the burglary was committed by some party familiar with the place and who had seen Mr. Carrier place change in the bon bon box on the small shelf. How many choice cream caramels and other sweetmeats were devoured by the bold burglar is not known. There is no clew, however, to the identity of the criminal. Mr. Carrier's store was entered once before, about five months ago. On that occasion the empty cash register was carried out to the woodshed in the rear of the store and broken open.

Passed Bogus Checks.—The Grants Pass Journal says, on last Friday evening several bogus checks on the Roseburg National Bank were cashed by some of the business men of this city, by a man by the name of Frank Hughes. The checks were sent to the Roseburg bank for collection but upon word from there that Frank Hughes had no deposit there subject to check, the suspicions of the parties taking the checks were aroused and search was made for Hughes. Not being found in town, a complaint was sworn out and a warrant issued for him, and the officers are tracing down a clue in which it is believed they will be successful in apprehending their man. T. R. Sheridan of the Roseburg bank states that three checks were issued by Hughes, one for $10 another for $20 and a third for $30, all of which were bogus.

Chinese New Year.—The popping of firecrackers Friday and Saturday in the Chinese quarter in Roseburg ushered in the Celestial new year. That Fourth of July noise is merely the Chinese residents scaring the devil away, and if they scare the old boy bad enough, he will stay away from them all the rest of the twelve months. The American devil is not so easily frightened.

New Rural Route.—A new rural free delivery route has just been put in operation. It starts from Wilbur and after covering a large extent of country returns to starting point. It is the second in the county.

Fine Poultry.—Mr. T. B. Cannon, whose fine white Lashan chickens have long been the admiration of all who have seen them, has decided to handle another fine breed of poultry and with this object in view, pens have been provided for Buff Oringtons, a fine trio of which have just been received by Mrs. Cannon direct from the celebrated pens of L. E. Sears, of Canby, Oregon. This is said to be one of the finest all round fowls in the market and the first of this breed introduced at this place.

Very choice fruit trees, all leading varieties. Spitzberg and Yellow Newtown Pippin apples a specialty. All guaranteed true to name and free from pests. For sale at very reasonable prices by Roseburg Nurseries, H. Schroten, Roseburg, Oregon.

Notice to Creditors. All persons knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned will call at the office of R. W. Marsters, Room 5, Marsters building, and settle the same on or before Feb. 15, 1905. M. 15 p. C. P. DAVIS.

NEW HOME FOR PLAIND DEALER

Valuable Block at Corner of Jackson and Cass Streets Transferred to New Owners

NEW BRICK BUILDINGS

Will be Erected at Once—Consideration Nine Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

One of the largest and most important real estate transfers which has been recorded in this city in several years was consummated late last week in the transfer of the large, valuable, centrally located and commanding lot fronting on three of Roseburg's best business streets—Jackson, Cass and Rose, by Hons. T. R. Sheridan and A. F. Stearns to Horace L. Marsters, Kruse & Newland, the grocers, and a few others being interested in the deal, the consideration being $9,500. This lot is located diagonally across the street from the I. O. O. F. temple and corners on the main street leading from the depot to the business center of the city and is therefore, without doubt the best business location in Roseburg. The lot or block is 80x225 feet and will be built up during the coming season with substantial and modern two-story bricks.

One of the first brick buildings to be constructed thereon will be a commodious and modern new office for the Plaine Dealer, which will face on Roseburg's main business thoroughfare, Jackson Street. This new building will be commodious and equipped with all modern conveniences, while the Plaine Dealer printing plant will be modernized in every particular. This building will be constructed by the present management of the Plaine Dealer, work on which will commence at the earliest possible moment, that the Plaine Dealer's long cherished dream—a central location in Roseburg's business center—may be realized before the present year is far advanced.

Another commodious and modern brick will also be erected on this block at a very early date on the lot purchased by Kruse & Newland, the grocers, who have decided to provide themselves with their own business quarters, and in so doing have secured the cream of the tract, the corner facing both Jackson and Cass streets.

Horace L. Marsters reserves the lot cornering on Cass and Rose streets and will build a fine brick thereon during the coming season for business purposes. Other bricks on this tract are in contemplation and there is little doubt but what this great gap, which has so long been uninviting with its bill boards, and has detracted in appearance from the substantial and commanding surroundings, will soon be the site of Roseburg's best and most imposing structures. This site has long been held for the location of a large hotel, for which it was considered an ideal location, but numerous failed plans for the big enterprise always failed to materialize and the plan was finally abandoned.

That this prominent and valuable block is at last to be substantially improved is a source of much gratification to the residents of Roseburg, who are always pleased to note every step forward in the city's progress and advancement.

Hon. J. S. Gray, our north end representative, was in the city Saturday, returning to the legislative halls this morning. When interviewed by a Plaine Dealer reporter our representative said that the Douglas county delegation were endeavoring as far as possible to obtain the sentiment of the people of Roseburg and its additions before submitting the water and light charter bill as it was their desire to adhere as closely as possible to the wishes of the people. It is Mr. Gray's opinion regarding the local option measure that nothing will be done with the bill amending it and that the law will remain precisely as it now is as the voice of the people is a matter that most of the legislators do not feel justified in reversing. He stated that several of the cities throughout the state were endeavoring to incorporate the selling of intoxicating liquors into their city charters and that by an oversight Medford had succeeded in doing this, but that the matter would again be taken up and the clause struck out. When asked, if, in his opinion the Central Oregon State Normal school, situated at Drain, would be abolished he said that he did not think it would; that if Senator Haines and Representative Colwell attempted to introduce an a bill it would meet with such an opposition that its passage would be almost impossible.

Pointer to Business Men—No town will become a good business center so long as its business men rely on a few merchants to make the effort to bring trade to town. Too often the men in a few lines of trade are about the only ones to reach out after custom. Other merchants wait until these men induce people to come to town and content themselves with what naturally drifts to their places. A public spirited man should ask himself if he is doing his part to attract people to come and trade and is helping the entire community. No town is a success unless all lines are worked to extend the trade as far as possible, and try to bring a larger territory into the circle in which the town is the business center.
