Fine Pianos for Little Money.

Never before in the history of Southern Oregon, has there been such a display of fine pianos and organs, gramophones and small instruments, as Burr's Music House is showing to the public.

On Mr. Burr's recent trip east, he secured some rare instruments at some startling low prices, and he is going to give his patrons the benefit of some extremely low figures. Think of a brand new Kimball piano in an antique oak case, one of Chicago's best products for $315.00; one lovely brand new Jacob Doll in a burr walnut case $288.00, and will accept $15.00 down and $8 per month.

A brand new Sherman piano, that we have known other dealers to ask $550.00 to $1000.00 for, is taken at once $243.00. We also have a few bargains in second hand or used pianos one of Kimball in a black case in perfect condition for $175, another piano used only three years for $165. We also have some rare bargains in organs but space will not permit us to enumerate them.
