SHOULDER DISLOCATED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

H. L. Marsters and Arthur Parks, of Roseburg had a very exciting experience at Yoncalla Tuesday. They secured a lively team at that place and started out to visit a nearby farm. When a short distance outside the limits of the little town they encountered a rubbish pile by the roadside made up largely of turkey feathers. This unsightly heap frightened the team, which suddenly dashed to one side of the road into a ditch about four feet deep. Mr. Parks leaped from the buggy just in time to save himself a fall over the embankment. Mr. Marsters held the reins firmly and went into the ditch with the rig, the buggy being turned over on its side and with its occupant dragged about 50 yards. In the fall Mr. Marsters struck the embankment on his right shoulder with such force as to cause a very severe and painful dislocation. This rendered the right arm useless but he pluckily held on to the reins with his left hand and run the team against the fence by the roadside and prevented further damage.

He was taken back to Yoncalla by his companion and brought to Roseburg on the evening local by which time he was suffering severely. Drs. Miller and Dugas were summoned and promptly attended to the dislocated shoulder after administering an anesthetic. Mr. Marsters while considerably bruised and shaken up was able to be about town the next day, but will be deprived of the use of his good right arm for several weeks.
