Work was begun Wednesday placing cross-arms on the telephone poles between this city and Dixonville. This work is being done jointly by the owners of the Glide & Oak Creek, Clover Creek and Dixonville systems, so that all may utilize the same poles. Wires for the Oak Creek and Clover Creek lines will be put up as soon as these cross-arms are in place.

Pastor E. H. Hicks desires to invite the people of Roseburg to hear Rev. H. W. Jones preach in the meetings now in progress at the Baptist church. Mr. Jones will preach each evening and will hold afternoon meetings at 2:30 every day. He is state evangelist for Oregon, having come a few months ago from Buffalo, N. Y., where he held a successful pastorate. His work has been attended with specially good results in our state.

Last opportunity. Do not fail to secure lots in White Lake City, which is sure to be a winner. Big returns on a small investment. See McNeill at Hotel McClallen. No chance to lose money if you invest in White Lake City lots, government, irrigation, opening of Indian reservation, rail road soon to reach townsite, billions of feet of good timber. Are these not enough to make a prosperous town. Call on McNeill at Hotel McClallen.

Dr. Lowe the optician leaves Friday night.

One exhibit at the fair, which will attract something more than usual interest, will be the first locomotive used in this state, a mere pigmy when compared with the massive engines of today, weighing as it does, but 10 tons. This "locomotive" was built in San Francisco, 1861-62, and imported here. For two years it made daily runs on wooden rails over a seven mile track along the Columbia river. At the expiration of that time, it was sold to David Heves, a 49'er who returned it to the California metropolis. Mr. Heves now vouchsafes his intention to exhibit the diminutive locomotive at the fair, where he will place it alongside of a 90-ton leviathan recently constructed for the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, the company that first owned the smaller engine. In so far as the latter is but 13 feet long, the contrast will be marked.

ONE THOUSAND TONS OF ORE FOR SMELTER

That the mines of South Myrtle Creek in this county, are coming to the front and are becoming great producers is evident from the fact that Mr. Steward, the principal stockholder in the fine Continental mines in the Myrtle Creek district has another shipment of fabulously rich ore ready for shipment to the reduction plant at San Francisco. This shipment is the largest that has ever been shipped from this mine and will aggregate 1000 tons and will run from $200 to $400 to the ton.

In order to assist in showing up the great and valuable resources of Douglas county at the Lewis and Clark exposition and also the character of the rich mineral formation of the Myrtle Creek mining district, the Continental mine in particular, Mr. Steward manifests his public spirit and enterprise by preparing a ton of fine ore from this mine for shipment to Portland which will comprise the very best mineral exhibit from old Douglas, not excepting the Bohemia mineral display. If the timbermen, dairymen, stockraisers, fruit growers and farmers will manifest as much public spirit and enterprise Douglas county will have an exhibit at the Lewis and Clark exposition which will attract hundreds of housewives and investors to this favored county.

Portland Centennial

Miniature mint in full working operation will be a part of the Government exhibit at the fair.

More than thirty national conventions are scheduled to convene in Portland during the fair.

Electricity in its every conceivable application, representing the most marvelous achievement in modern science may be seen at the fair.

A native Philippine theatre, in which amusements peculiar to the inhabitants of our island territory will be represented, is to be one of the many excellent attractions of the "Fair."

The government fisheries exhibit at the fair will show the evolution of a Royal Chinook Salmon, from the embryo to a well matured fish.

Some idea of the privations endured by the fair in their expedition to the great Northwest, may be gained by a careful examination of the exhibits characteristic of the earlier history of Oregon territory.

The modern dairy farm at the fair in which everything pertaining to scientific dairying methods, the result of recent agricultural research, is to be shown, will prove of particular interest to those interested in dairying.

The interesting melody of the chimes in the towers of the main Government building, will recall mental pictures of the missions founded by Junipero Serra and his interlopers in the seventh century.

But seldom are some of us afforded an opportunity to hear the world's favorite bands. Many of them have been engaged to play at the fair, among them being, Innes, De Caprio's, Elbery's and the Hawaiian Imperial band.

Messrs. Frank G. Merrill, Will H. Fisher and A. A. Bell were in Portland to attend the meeting of the Oregon Development League, as representatives of that vicinity.

Albany Democrat: C. M. Cady, of Roseburg, has been appointed night operator at the S. P. office in this city. Mr. Burt, who has been filling the position, will go to Roseburg Wednesday.

Attorneys J. C. Fullerton and Dexter Rice were in Glendale this week taking testimony in the case of Marvin vs. Eliff, before Referee I. B. Riddle. A title to a certain tract of land is the question involved.

While opening a can of paint at his home Tuesday afternoon, G. W. Bales accidentally made a severe gash across the back of his right hand, severing an artery. Dr. Hoover attended the injury and no serious results are anticipated.

Roseburg Lodge No. 16, A. O. U. W. received an official visit last Monday night from District Deputy Grand Master C. E. Hogue, of Albany. Mr. Hogue's mission was to explain the new "level rate" plan of assessment adopted recently by the Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. of Oregon.

Prof. J. H. Hobbs, closed a very successful term of school at Wilbur Friday. He is one of Supervisor Bartram's faithful forest rangers and will go into the field Monday. For some weeks, he with a few others will be assigned to the Fish Creek Desert country in the Cascades east of Roseburg, from which section they will cut a trail to Diamond Lake country.

An ordinance providing for the improvement of Jackson street, between Lane and Cass streets, was read for the first and second times at a special meeting of the City Council Tuesday night. The recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for the work, the same to be opened at the regular meeting of the council next Monday.

FIRST STRAWBERRIES FROM DOUGLAS

As usual the first Oregon strawberries in the Portland market for the season were from Douglas county, the home of that excellent berry. A crew of J. Willis, of Myrtle Creek has the distinction of marketing the first Oregon berries at the metropolis this year which sold for $6.00 per crate. California berries in the same market selling for but $1.50 per crate at the same time, thus effectively demonstrating the superiority of the Oregon product. Mr. Willis is well pleased with his success and with others of that vicinity will engage in this industry on quite an extensive scale.
