The Rural Telephone

Neighbors not so far from here, Put in telephones last year. Farmers built a rural line—Instruments all "talked up fine." All you had to do was ring—Every bell went ting-aling! One for Central, two for Boggs, Short and long call for old Scroggs. Every neighbor had his call, Twist the crank and that was all, Mighty nice when work was thro', To gossip for an hour or two With your neighbors one by one, Mighty nice—but lots of fun When you hear some other two Telling what was not for you. Every time the signal rang, To the 'phone each farmer sprang, Styly grinned, and softly took Each receiver from its hook, Other peoples' secrets, dear, Poured into his large red ear; How he lapped his legs—'I swan, Telephoning is lots of fun. Somehow in a year or two Troubles dark began to brew; Farmer Jones got fighting hot, Heard Scroggs calling him a sot, Farmer Scroggs seemed angry, too, Heard Smith telling what he knew, Smith heard Abel telling lies, Paid him off with two black eyes. Abel heard young Isaac Boggs Underbid him on his logs, Boggs o'er heard a sneaking churl Making love to his best girl. Women, too, were in the muse, Raised a most tremendous fuss Every one from Scroggs to Jones In glass houses throwing stones. Now the line has silent grown, Wire struts, poles o'erthrown, Twenty friends are deadly foes, Each one full of griefs and woes, Each too mad to speak a word, 'Cause of things he'd overheard.—Ex.

A Good Suggestion

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. It seems to get at the right spot instantly. He says, For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

The Life of a Bride.

A woman may know that she has ceased to be a bride only—
When she begins to nag.
When she discovers she is jealous.
When he begins to go to his club.
When he becomes sarcastic about the food.
When she grows economical with her kisses.
When he begins to sulogize his mother.
When the first time her husband criticizes her frocks.
When he tells her how pretty some other woman looks.
When she does not mind coming to breakfast in curl papers.
When she begins to hunt up her old friends and enjoys calling on them.
When she finds herself saying uncomplimentary things to her husband.
When a meal becomes so quiet that she can plan a whole frock between the courses.
