TRIP TO DODSON

A very pleasant excursion was taken to the top of Mt. Dodson on Sanday June 25th by eight young people of this city. Starting from Roseburg at 7 a m. the drive was made up Deer Creek to the Four Corner's thence south up South Deer Creek, thence east up Robert's Creek to a high spur on the south of Dodson. A wagon road along this spur was followed to within a short distance of the top of the famous mounwas spread, a hammock suspended between two trees and a jolly time was

The boy stood on the burning porch Whence all had made a scoot; Roman candle in his hand Was just about to shoot. A frazzled pinwheel at his side Was all that staid to tell How father, minus half his hide, Had fled with grievous yell. A busted boom upon the floor, Some remnants of a hat, Suspender buttons - three or four That was where grandpa sat.

An isle of safety on the lawn Where still the grass was green, Marked where his sister dear had gone To rube on vaseline. Anon the smoke rose from the yard, And then, through one small rift, We saw where mother, scorched and

A smelling bottle sniffed. And at the gate stood Uncie Bill In fragments of his pants, Demanding in his accents shrill:

The boy, as we remarked at first, A Roman candle held. He struck a match and lit the fuse

"This is the last!" he yelled. The Roman candle fizzled and flared, The balls flew far and wide, His relatives, all badly scared,

Once more essayed to hide. Alas! Ere shelter they could find, The direful deed was done; He whirled the candle all about And pinked them every one. In pain they limped up to the porch-

They crept from bush and shrub, And each implored in husky tones; "Let me get at that cub!" There came a burst of thunder sound. The boy-O, where was he?
