In Portland last week two brothers met for the first time in 32 years. The meeting was apparently by accident, since neither knew of the other's presence in the city. However, it was arranged by a son of one of the brothers, and it was probably the most pleasant surprise they ever experienced. The brothers are G. W. Wanscott, of Riddle, Douglas county, this state, and Charles Wanscott, of Tonapah, Nevada. Both have been successful in business affairs and are well advanced in years. They were born and raised in Virginia, but moved to Illinois and were in that state when the civil war broke out. They were separated by the enlistment of G. W. Wanscott, who joined an Illinois regiment that saw active service during the struggle. However, they met again in 1873 and were together for a brief time. They decided to come west and came by different routes. They have not seen each other since that time until today, says the Portland Journal.

THE LIVER QUARANTINE

"TAKING HIS MEALS OUT."

Quarantined eating has ruined many a man's stomach. The digestion-destroying process is gradual, often unnoticed at first. But it is only a short time until the liver fails, the digestive organs give way, and almost countless ills assail the man who endeavors to economize time at the expense of his health.

A torpid liver causes a quarantine of the entire system. It locks in the diseased germs and body poisons and affords them full play, inviting some serious illness. The families where August Flower is used, a sluggish liver and constipation are unknown, so are all stomach ailments, as well as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches and kidney and bladder affections. No well-regulated family should be without this standard remedy.
