FOOLISH LEGISLATION

A Macksburg correspondent of the Courier writes that on his little recreation trip he is going to carry a gun and that he isn't going to pay a dollar license for the privilege either. And he intimates that something might happen to a good fat bird should it impudently cross his way.

While few give public expression to the thought, this correspondent voices the sentiment of a large majority of the people. And this fact goes to show how statute law is disregarded and held in contempt when it conflicts with common sense and infringes on the natural rights of men. The statutes are full of such stupid, unreasonable and uncalled for provisions. They serve no other purpose than to encourage the breaking of the laws. With most people they are not laws in fact but only in form for few feel an obligation to obey them.

There are always a lot of men sent to the legislature because they are good fellows, whose ability isn't large enough to win them a place of feeding hogs, should they apply to the men who vote for them. Count up the number of such you have voted for and then consider who is responsible for the mass of useless, unjust, meaningless and stupid trash that encumbers our statute books. Most all are guilty of casting such votes and they are a unit with the excuse that they did not know the man so well before as after. It is no excuse. It is the duty of an American citizen to learn something about the man he is selecting for a public servant.

The last session of the Oregon legislature seems to have been particularly encumbered with a lot of these freak legislators, who are responsible for most of the erratic legislation of which the people now complain.

To a large extent the papers of a town are responsible for the good name of the town. Nearly every city contains objectionable features, at least in the estimation of some of its citizens, but the wisdom of condemning ourselves in the eyes of the world every time something or some condition arises to our individual displeasure is very questionable. To run down our own city is poor policy, rather had we better stand up for our town, even though conditions, socially and otherwise be not to our liking. It is not necessary that we close our eyes to these conditions, rather that we work quietly to their betterment.

Cottage Grove has hopes of securing a smelter soon.

The battleship Kansas, the largest vessel ever built in the East was launched Saturday at Camden, N. J. An unusual feature was the fact that the vessel was christened with water brought from Kansas by Governor Hoch instead of the customary bottles of champagne. She is a powerful ship with length on the load water line of 460 feet.

Now that Taft has changed his ambition again from an aspirant for the Supreme Bench to the Presidency, he can count on the solid backing of the delegation from the Philippines. Secretary Root, however, is still several votes ahead of Taft in popularity and ability.

The Taggart case shows that Lieut. Fortescue, nephew of President Roosevelt is a strong believer in his uncle's theories about race suicide, pertinently remarks the Salem Journal.

Luther Burbank, the plant world wizard, now expects to produce corn. If Mr. Burbank believes he can displace the roasting ear from the esteem of this country he is mistaken.

Clatsop, Lane, Douglas and Klamath counties have cruised their timber lands in order that the assessors may place a proper estimate on the value of the lands.

The Chinese government has sent a circular to all mandarins and governors and they say they never heard of such a thing as an American boycott.

DO YOU SHARE IN THE PROFITS OF THE GROCERIES YOU PURCHASE? IF NOT, WHY NOT?

Every shareholder in the ROSEBURG ROCHDALE COMPANY is purchasing groceries from himself cheaper and better than he could elsewhere, and at the end of the year takes home to himself the profits on these purchases. This is the Co-operative way.

BE A ROCHDALER

J. J. Hill refused absolutely to intervene in behalf of the striking railway telegraphers. Mr. Hill said the men had been dismissed because they would not obey orders. "Men," continued Mr. Hill, "who will plot to embroil a railroad and its employees just at the beginning of a season when they know a heavy movement of traffic is expected, as at present with the approach of crop movements, do not deserve to be on the payroll of any road. They are in positions of trust and as plotters are not fit to hold them. I will see to it that any of those active in bringing about this strike will never again enter the employ of the road."

Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Government Forestry Bureau, is a wealthy man, but keeps his position through love of the work connected therewith. He is practically the first American to make forestry a profession. His salary of $3,500 is not much of an object to him and doubtless he would be just as enthusiastic if the Government did not pay him anything. He has thrown himself heart and soul into the work, giving to it all his time and strength and working much harder and many hours longer than the ordinary Government clerk.

Fakirs are warned to steer clear of Albany. Something of some kind awaits them there, and it ain't suckers either. Roseburg should pattern after Albany's example and keep the grafters and fakirs moving along. It looks like the business people of the Oregon towns would "get next" to all these prize fight, trading stamp and similar schemes, before they are taken in more than a dozen times.

Just now the trading stamp scheme is having a rocky road to travel in Western Oregon. It is a remarkable fact that no sooner does the trading stamp company get into a town and do business than there is a merchant's league organized and the stamp company is put out of business. It should put forth an effort to have the scheme legalized at the next session of the legislature. There isn't anything that an Oregon legislation will not undertake.

The peace envoys are no more deliberate than should be expected of men who are receiving $200 a day as expenses and liberal salaries.

Without knowing a single item the papers began at once to tell all about what the Russo-Japanese indemnity and peace terms were.

HOW THEY FOOLED THEIR LIEGE LORDS

Drain, Or., Aug. 15, 1905.

MISTAKE EDITOR:—Sumtime ago I seen a peace in the Roseburg Review called "sidelites on a rural telephone," an when I see that I made up my mind to rite fur the paper sum day myself. I ain't got no fault to find with fur best stock, or tellin' them that he gen'ly don't when he rites fur the papers but then I need to scribble sum fur the papers an' I no how it is, but I ain't in practice now an' will hev to bresh up on my spellin' sum.

Me an' Mis' Brown hev been a savin' up egg an' butter money to go to the Luis an' Clark fare, but as I sed before, the telephones made a big hole in our pile of money, an' we heerd so many big yarns about the way it costs to go, that we hed about concluded to stay to hum. 'Til one day I heerd Heskier an' Brown a talkin' about goin' theirselves an' Brown sez "I tell you if we go we don't want no winin' a taggin' along." Heskier sed "no, it won't do; we'll hev to sit up sum to give 'em to stay to hum, so we kin go an' have a good time," so they made it up to tell us there wuz an awful dangerous trail that wasn't safe fur winin' to trail on, so we'd git scart an' not go.

As soon as I heerd that I tude on my sunbonnet an' run over to see Mis' Brown an' when I told her what they sed, she wuz mad as a hornet. She sed: "I ain't bin readin' the papers fur nothin'; this is sum attraction about that trail that Brown an' Heskier is bound to see, an' I'll tell you now how we'll sacrement 'em."

So that evenin' after the chores wuz done, I sed to Heskier, (an' she sed to Brown about the same time.) Well, me an' Mis' Brown has commenced to git ready to go to the fare. Heskier looked up mighty quick (an' she sed Brown did to an' sed, "I'm afeerd, Malvina, it ain't a safe place fur winin' to go to." I sed as innocent as you pleze, "why not, Heskier?" an' he sed "the trail wuzn't safe." Then I rix up an' towered over him an' sed: "Heskier, me an' Mis' Brown ain't agoin' to be outdone by no squaw with a jaw brakin' name that ever lived. We kin go on a trail an' act as a guide an' not expect to have a stante erected for us nuther. An' I just as well tell you, I'm a savin' a piece of bacon an' Mis' Brown hev a sack of beans an' sum dried apples an' kin git a couple o' sacks o' apples an' kin go wherever you do." If there wuz two mechin' lookin' fellers it wuz them an' now they air as good as pie.

Yours truly,
MALVINA JENKINS.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil causes ailments and has a tendency to grip. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera in infancy. For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.
