THE WISE ONE
Said—"I am sick; go and call the best doctor and also get for me the very best medicine that money can buy; there is nothing too good for me I want the best."

The attendant called Dr. —, of Roseburg and had the prescriptions prepared in the laboratory of Fullerton & Richardson.

THE WISE ONE RECOVERED QUICKLY.

THE FOOLISH ONE
Said—"I am sick; go find a doctor who won't charge me much, and get my medicine where you can get lots of it for a little money; I want the cheapest that can be found."

The attendant found a cheap fellow who called himself a doctor and got the medicine where they gave him a big bottle full for a few cents.

THE FOOLISH ONE IS STILL SICK.

The Sick are Entitled to the Very Best of Everything and it is the Duty of Their Friends to see that They get it.

ANENT THE LAND OFFICE

The Roseburg Plaindealer in an editorial this week deprecates the condition of affairs at the Roseburg land office. The office has not been open for some months and the Plaindealer thinks and rightly too, that someone should be put in charge of the office until a permanent appointment is made.—Lelaun Critter.

There is a little hope of the Roseburg land office being opened before Senator Fulton returns to Washington, about the middle of next month. Mr. Hitchcock offers no particular excuse so far as known to the writer but appears willing to allow business to accumulate nearly a year without making an effort to relieve the situation. This is a gross injustice to the state. The Roseburg Plaindealer truthfully says: It seems incredible that the opening of this office should hinge on the agreement of the President and Secretary Hitchcock. If the man picked out is not the one for the place, why not put somebody temporarily until the right man is found? Such an arrangement would be very pleasing to a host of anxious people and it would tend to remedy a wrong which has certainly been done, whether intentional or not is not now the question.—Oakland Owl.

We have received a marked copy of the Roseburg Plaindealer deprecating the continued closing of the land office at that city and criticizes the powers that be for its dilatory action and suggests that a temporary official be placed in charge until a suitable man can be agreed upon. We realize that a hard-ship is being waged against the honest settler who has made application for final proof months ago, but we have exhausted our influence towards having the office

ITEMS FROM THE DIFFERENT CHURCHES

All the churches of this city are now having the evening services begin at 8 o'clock, instead of at 7:30, as heretofore.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Hicks, there was no preaching at the Baptist church yesterday. Rev. Hicks has been attending the big church conference at Eugene.

Rev. Mark C. Munson, the Congregational minister of Edenhower, filled an appointment at Eugene yesterday.

The spirit of the Presbyterian church was occupied yesterday morning by Rev. W. A. Smith, former pastor of the church, in the absence of Rev. Dr. Towns, who has been attending the Synod of Oregon meeting which was held at La Grande.

Great preparations are being made at Albany for the State Christian Endeavor convention, which is to be held in that city Feb. 22-25, 1906, at which President Rockwood expects 200 delegates.

The next State Baptist Convention will be held at Albany. The meeting just held at Eugene was very successful. Among the reports of different departments presented during the meeting, the corresponding secretary, Leonard W. Riley, showed the following: Thirty-eight missionaries appointed during the year, and 70 churches and one-stations supplied by them; in 11 new churches 284 baptisms are reported. There are now 122 churches in the state, with 9,838 members. There were 1,014 baptisms during the year. This number, taken with other additions, make a total gain of 2,016 for the year, but there have been some losses, which place the net gain at 1,353. New churches have been organized at Hood River, Madras, Echo, Eagle Point, University Park and St. Johns. Four new churches have been dedicated and five new parsonages secured.

Rev. H. C. Brown, the new pastor of the M. E. Church, South, filled his appointment for the first time here, yesterday. He has moved his family into the parsonage, and already begins to feel very much at home.

"The Power of the Holy Spirit" was the theme of Rev. W. C. Reuter's morning sermon, at the M. E. church, yesterday, and the effort was very favorably received. In the evening a large and attentive audience listened to an able discourse, based upon the miracle of the healing of the blind man, as given in John IX.

Personal & Mention

Hon. F. W. Benson, of this city is being mentioned quite prominently over the state, for the office of Secretary of State. Mr. Benson has a host of friends scattered all over Douglas county and the state of Oregon, who would be only too glad to see him in person. He is right loyal support in case he allows his name to go before the people for this or any other public office.

Osteopathy cures La Grippe. J. A. Freeman witnessed the closing of the big fair.

Mrs. H. C. Stanton was called to San Francisco to attend her daughter, who is quite ill in that city.

M. A. Masenheimer, one of the inmates of Roseburg's Sadler's Home, has gone to Portland, where he will remain for several days, on pleasure and business combined.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Applefield and Miss Mabel Johnson, went out to witness the closing events of the great exposition, at Portland.

The more you know about Osteopathy the better you like it. Investigation leads to adoption.

J. D. Hamilton has been transacting some important business in Portland.

R. S. Barker saw the close of the Lewis and Clark exposition, Saturday.

J. M. Kennedy, E. A. Wall, Jesse Clements, E. R. Galtner and wife, and Gladie, Chas. Hallway, Grand Pass, and Geo. Hittman and wife, of The Dalles, are in attendance upon the sessions of court.

Dr. Warren has moved to Roseburg, from Dilard and will now get the Plaindealer from the press.

Hon. Schiller Hermann, one of Myrtle Point's leading merchants and politicians, is in this city visiting with his parents, Hon. and Mrs. Binger Hermann.

Sergeant Martin Markeson, who has been in the northern part of the state for the benefit of his health, is again mingling with his many friends in this city.

E. Fortin, one of Coles Valley's substantial residents, and his son, were at the county fair, Saturday.

Ray Moore was out at West Park, Friday, on a hunting expedition.

It was an interesting meeting and the best of good feeling prevailed throughout the entire session. There was nothing to mar the occasion. At times the debating was decidedly lively, but no hard feelings were engendered. At one time these seemed to be some pretty spirited sparring, with the rest of the state arrayed against Portland, but the people of the northernmost disposition did not show any resentment, when their rough bonnets were thrown their way. The sessions lasted all the forenoon and afternoon. While there was no direct results apparent, yet, on the whole, it looks as though no harm would come from the gathering, and it is more than likely that much good may result from it.

Perhaps the resolutions were the keynote of the meeting. Mr. Marsters was a member of the committee on resolutions, and the substance of the work outlined by them was as follows:

A declaration asking for the most thorough harmony; reaffirming the republican platform of 1894 and pointing with pride to the record of that party; strongly commending President Roosevelt and his work; declaring for further improvement; asking that the provisions of the direct primary law be fully met and that good men be placed before the people for office; that the state convention, in addition to ratifying the nominations, shall adopt a platform and pledge its candidates to its observance and that the existing state, county and district committees are requested to carry out these resolutions; that the Oregon delegation in congress be requested to support the measures recommended by President Roosevelt to regulate freight rates. There was also a strong clause favoring better laws and deprecating the "hasty, half-baked laws" which are a detriment to our people at home and give a bad reputation elsewhere. The action of State Chairman, Hon. Frank C. Baker, in calling the gathering was heartily and enthusiastically endorsed.

Hon. J. M. Hansbrough, ex-representative of Douglas and Jackson counties in the state legislature, was also in attendance upon the peace conference, and to the Plaindealer reporter said: "Yes, I attended that gathering, and it was of more than passing interest to me. It was very harmonious and it seems to me as though much real good might come from it. I, for one, want to let by-gones be by-gones and to see the party reunited, and I think that was the sense of the gathering of representative republicans."

The ladies of the Baptist church, will entertain at the church Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, October 20. A program will be rendered and refreshments served. All are cordially invited. Admission, 10c and 15c.

We are sole Roseburg agents for Butterick patterns, Gage hats, Black Cat hosiery, the Florheim shoe, the Cross shoe for women, Kuppenheimer guaranteed clothing, Gold and Silver shirts and collars, Kautz carot boy's clothing, Forest Mills underwear. No other store in Roseburg can boast of such a splendid combination of high grade lines of merchandise. It pays to trade at Josephson's.

Ladies, remember that you can get the Ladies' Home Journal patterns at I. Abraham's store. $1-11

Nature. Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions, and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by A. C. Marsters.

Hon. A. C. Marsters of this city and Hon. H. G. Sonnenmann, of Glendale, are back from the gathering of Oregon Republicans, which was held at Portland last Thursday. They report having had a very pleasant time. Every county in the state was well represented and it was a meeting which proved to be very interesting.

Speaking of the gathering, Mr. Marsters said to the Plaindealer man: "Yes,

Some Jury Cases
The case of Neil McBeth vs Chas. Thom, action to recover $5176 alleged to be due as damages, was before the court and jury met on Thursday, and after deliberating upon the evidence from 9:15 in the morning until 2 p. m. the jury brought in a verdict for the defense. Cardwell & Watson appeared for the plaintiff and Coslow & Rice for the defense. The case was the outcome of the arrest of McBeth on the charge of burning the houses and barns of Thom and his brother John several months ago at Cleveland.

In the criminal action brought by the State against Lewis Case, as a result of the finding of a true bill against him by the grand jury, was tried before a jury. Defendant was accused of having shot at F. H. Mann, L. D. Carle and H. B. Matthews, with intent to kill, while these parties were hunting on the McWilliams place on Lewis Creek, east of this city. After hearing the evidence the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of I. S. Con vs Rhoda Con, an appeal from the justice court, and involving the possession of the real estate belonging to the estate of Rev. J. S. Con, deceased, the jury brought in a verdict for the defendant and awarded her the property in question.

Today the motion for a new trial for John C. Barnes, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree, is being argued by the attorneys. Until that motion is disposed of the court will not set the day for the execution of the sentence. The motion for a new trial is based upon alleged imperfections of both court and jury in admitting evidence which was not proper, and in the court having given erroneous instructions.

The grand jury failed to find a true bill against E. C. Tabler, who is accused of having forced Mrs. H. H. Clivington's name to a certificate of deposit at the Douglas County Bank last July.

Antonio Bruno, who is accused of trying to kill W. D. Moore at Greens Station last July, was tried before the grand jury, but that body found him not guilty.

In the case of the state vs Chas. Smith, who was up on the charge of assault and battery, the grand jury found a true bill.

Today the civil case of Collins vs. McLaughlin and Lyons, involving the validity of a promissory note, is being tried by the court and jury.

An interesting document was filed in the estate of S. Marks & Co. The estate was first filed in court in 1893, and the parties interested most were S. and Asher Marks and H. Wollenberg, all dead but the last one named. In their petition filed at that time, the value of real and personal property was given as $5,000, although today it is supposed to be much more valuable. This is the 12th semi-annual report of the estate and shows a net worth of $247,775, receipts and the same disbursements. The claim of J. H. Whitsett, for $24,900, was only allowed for $200.

A Judicial Inquiry
A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

Cured of Lame Back After 15 years of Suffering.
"I had been troubled with lame back or 15 years and I found complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, says John G. Fisher, Gilman, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

A Famous Remedy
Teared My Cough with German Syrup"
"I was told by Dr. G. G. Green."
"As my cough as I tell you, doctor dear, I'm feeling better than ever I've been!"
"The poor consumptive should not be the victim of experiment, as he often is, but the moment the dread disease manifests its presence he should be given Boecher's German Syrup—a pure, non-alcoholic medicine that is made specially for the cure of consumption, and has a world-wide fame as a certain remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections in old and young. It is sold in civilized countries, and has been famous as a consumption cure for almost half a century."
"Try it, bottle, 25c. Big bottle, 75c. At all druggists throughout the world."

Saved His Life

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballar's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors and they told me one of my legs was entirely gone, and the other side badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two 50-cent bottles cured me sound and well."

Insomnia and Indigestion Cured

"Last year I had a very severe attack of indigestion. I could not sleep at night and suffered most excruciating pains for three hours after each meal. I was troubled this way for about three months when I used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and received immediate relief. I am John Dixon, Tullahoma, Ontario, Canada. For sale by A. C.
