

J. A. COBB & CO.
ROSEBURG, OREGON

A Man With Judgment,
One who has the "long green," comes to J. A. COBB & CO. for his Furnishings goods.

THE REASON WHY

First—Because he gets what he wants; Second—Because he can get the fit here, and he takes into consideration the fact that we carry the only exclusive line in town of Gents' Furnishings, Boys' & Men's Clothing.
And last but not least, he knows our prices are right. We have the Clothing and Furnishings that tally with the purchaser's means. If you want a $5 suit, we have the best in town for the money. If your judgment tells you to buy a $14 or an $18 suit, we'll give you your money's worth. Do you know the names of some "snappy" stuff? See if this sounds natural: the "Conqueror" Hat, the "Castle Brands" Hat, the "Packard" Shoe, the "Cluett-Peabody" coat shirt; a full line of "Arrow" brand collars, "Carter & Holmes" ties; "Carson" dress gloves, in 8 shades of tans. We invite you to call and examine our merchandise. We won't pester the life out of you trying to sell you something just because you come in "to look." Ladies, if you have a spare moment when you're out shopping, drop in at Cobb & Co.'s place and inspect our "Boys' Wear" department, or our nice line of ties. You are interested in the way your boy or husband dresses; so are we, and that's why we have turned our whole attention to Men's and Boys' Furnishings.

through the columns of a sensational and blood-thirsty newspaper organ then might the people of Oregon rise to their feet with one accord exclaiming: 'Great Scott, can this be so?'

Today Mrs. S. Hamilton is reported to be very low. She has been quite ill for some time past, but of late her condition was much improved, and it was hoped she would live for some time. Today a change is not encouraging, however. Later—Mrs. Hamilton died this morning at 11:30. Funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church, Saturday, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Interment at the Masonic cemetery.

For the benefit of out of town patrons who were unable to take advantage of our monster fair week sale, we hereby announce that for the next two weeks we will continue to sell all goods included in said sale at the incredible low prices previously advertised. If you have not yet inspected our bargain counters, we advise you to do so at once. Josephson's.

Lela and Georgia Dimmick are on the sick list, but their friends hope they will soon be able to be out again.

ITEMS FROM THE DIFFERENT CHURCHES

Word was received today from Bishop Morrison, of the M. E. Church, south, to the effect that he had appointed Rev. W. F. Lyon to fill the Myrtle Creek charge and Rev. G. W. Gardiner for the Peoria and McFarland fields. Both of these are said to be good, strong men.
"Can God be Blamed for the Facts of Sin and Suffering", will be the subject at the Methodist Episcopal Church next sabbath evening. In the morning the subject will be, "Paul's Appeal to Every Believer." Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to these services.

The various Sunday schools are already beginning to make extensive preparations for the Christmas exercises, and the indications are that it will be an occasion of great rejoicing among the little folks.

Saturday evening the choir of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. Maddox, for practice

Tomorrow will be the meeting of the Stewards of the Methodist Church, South, which will be held here and which promises to be largely attended and a very interesting occasion.

The subjects of the sermons at the Christian Church next Sunday are: 11 a. m., "The Acme of Christian Service,"; 7:30 p. m., "The Folly of a Wise Man." The special offerings of the day will be for Oregon mission churches. Church, corner Pine and Woodward streets. The public is cordially invited to all services.

Soldiers Home

The many friends of Daniel Shell, here at the Home, are rejoicing with him over his piece of good fortune in the fact that he has just succeeded in getting the long delayed pension, which has been eagerly expected. He was an Indian War veteran, and for some time he has been partially paralyzed, and for the past six years he has been in the hospital of this home, where he is almost helpless. The new pension is a veritable god-send for him. It is only for $12 per month, but he gets about $400 back pay, which will be well stored upon one who is in every way worthy of it.

John Steiger is spending a few days visiting with his friends at Eugene.

M. A. Melsenheimer takes exception to the reporter's item from the Soldiers' Home, which had him coming from the Soldier's Home at Orting, Washington state. He thinks that either somebody got mixed or that there is some one else with a name very similar to his. Either of these mistakes might occur, for among a crowd of 143 old veterans, the newgatherer is to be excused, if he should mix up the names, unintentionally, occasionally.

A. P. Mann is sojourning with his Albany friends for a few days, but he will expect to be back in time to enjoy Thanksgiving turkey. VOLUNTEER.

Mrs. F. H. Berger, of Salem, is the guest of her brother, "Doc." Steiner and family. She is just recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever, which has been epidemic up that way. She will remain here some weeks.

IS IT JUSTICE?

The mighty oracle of Portland that pours out its sparks of political wisdom at regular intervals has come forth into the limelight again in the role of a reconstructed Saviour with avowed intention to preserve the great interests of this splendid Commonwealth at Washington. It calls upon three of the four Representatives of the delegation to resign their seats in the Congressional halls and make way for men who can fill them according to the standard prescribed by this almighty power, the "Oregonian." And this request is made in the interests of what? Of justice? If so, justice to whom? Surely not to John H. Mitchell or Newt Williamson whose cases are yet to be decided by the supreme tribunal in this country. Surely not to Binger Hermann who has never been accorded even a trial as promised each member of the delegation by the prosecuting officer. If Binger Hermann should resign his official office it would be a tacit admission of his guilt and an open confession that he is unfit to fill the position he now holds. Would it be justice to Oregon? If justice means the desertion of the States' most vital interests and a complete surrender of the helm to the political elements; if this be justice to Oregon, then these men should resign. The senior member of this delegation, John H. Mitchell, is the strongest man that ever represented Oregon at the National Capitol. It was during the incumbency of Senators Mitchell and Dolph and Representative Hermann that Oregon obtained the bulk of her large appropriations. It is a matter of political history that Oregon's delegation obtained in one year $1,000,000 in appropriations as compared to the half million of dollars secured by the entire delegations of California, Washington and Idaho. These men were and are strong men. They are industrious and untiring workers and the kind who obtain results. If the state of Oregon had depended upon the efforts of the special delegation of Portland citizens headed by the "Oregonian's" editor, to obtain the large appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Fair, it would have failed miserably. These Portland citizens were strangers in a strange land and valueless allies. The "Oregonian" conceded that the Oregon delegation secured the Fair appropriation by an almost superhuman effort. The result of their work was evidenced by the Exposition just closed.

The resignation of these men now while their cases are yet undetermined in the courts will be a greater reflection upon the state and a greater impairment of their influence than their present attitude, as the former course would be a practical admission of their wrongdoing. The editor of the Oregonian or any one else has no right to impose his reflection upon them. The very agitation of this question at this time does a great injury to our state abroad. It is unjust and uncalled for. If the able exponent of Oregon's welfare in the person of the "Oregonian's" editor continues to persist in his present course of persecution

OREGON UNIVERSITY'S INTERESTING BUDGET

Another football victory has been added to our list. On Saturday, Oct. 28, the U. of O. football team defeated the Chemawa Indians by a score of 17 to 10. The game was by far the best seen on the University gridiron this year. Hug, Moore and McKinney of the U. of O. were out of the game on account of injuries, but even without these three stars the victory was won. The team shows a great deal of improvement since the California trip and is now in almost perfect trim.

As a preliminary to the big game, the U. of O. second team played the Eugene High School a scoreless game. In the first half Oregon's second team carried the ball across the high school's goal line, but on account of an off side play the score did not count and Oregon was penalized. Before the ball could again be carried over the line, time was called and the result was, no score.

Vernon Tomlinson, one of the last years graduates, was visiting the University last week.

The twenty-ninth anniversary celebration of the founding of the Laurean Literary and debating society took place on last Friday evening. A special program was rendered and refreshments were served.

Ivan B. Rhodes, better known as "Dusty Rhodes," addressed the Y. M. C. A. of the University on last Friday evening. His subject was, "A College Man's Selections." Mr. Rhodes graduated from the University of California in 1901, and still keeps up his interest in student affairs. He said that the fact that the U. of O. had tied the U. of C. in football this year, made him feel that he was in a good crowd.

The football team goes to Salem on next Saturday where they will play Willamette University. A large crowd of "rooters" will accompany the team. Coach Bruce Shortz addressed the assembly last Wednesday on "Vim and Vigor." He urged all students to take part in student activities whenever they were needed. The address was, in the opinion of many, the best thing of its kind that has ever been heard in the assembly room. At the close of the talk a committee on organized "rooting" was appointed, with the result that a rooters club of about 125 members has been formed. All were at the game Saturday and yelled:

Oskey! Wow! Wow!
Whiskey! Wee! Wee!
Oley Muckee—ci!
Oley Varsitye!
Oregon—ci! Wow!
