BITS OF GOSSIP HERE AND THERE

B. W. Strong, president of the Business Men's Protective Association—"Our association had a meeting last night. Yes, we seem to be pulling together nicely. I believe that much good is being accomplished. Of course some people object to being placed on the 'black list,' but that was to be expected. When the dead beats are weeded out it will be the best thing for all parties concerned. It is a good thing and some of the firms are already collecting accounts which they would probably never have gotten, had it not been for this organization."

T. D. Weatherford, proprietor of the O. K. Tensorial Parlors—"I am a firm believer in the old saying that 'competition is the life of trade' and I have just noticed, an example of it. The Portland barber's supply house has been very independent with us people down this way, as they think we will not go elsewhere, but their prices and treatment were not just right and now a Seattle firm has come in and is getting some of the trade. Of course I am for Portland first, but I would like to see fair play."

E. P. Drew, county fruit inspector—"I tell you it is no easy job to drop in here when the dealers are not expecting you, and compel them to throw away a wagon load of fruit, because it is diseased, but that is what I am paid for and, bad as it seems to the man who now suffers, it will seem much worse if I am derelict in my duty and later on he would be blaming me for having been too easy. Yes, it is a hard place to fill, but I am endeavoring to do my duty to the best of my knowledge and belief, showing no fear or favor. If the fruitgrowers will stand by me, we will soon have Douglas county fruit the very best to be found anywhere."

W. H. Fisher, of Fisher & Bellows Co.—"We have no reason to complain, for our business is keeping up as well as it has ever done this time of the year. The house at Portland which furnished our fine show cases, has written down to have us get photographs of the furniture, so they can have some idea how it looks. Yes, business with us is good and we anticipate a good holiday trade, for which we have made ample provisions."

Geo. W. Young, the Seattle capitalist, who has recently come to make Roseburg his home—"Say, I just dropped in to tell you how much my wife and I appreciate the Plaindealer. Ever since we got your first number we have liked it and think you are doing great things for this city and county. By the way, we have read with much interest, your write-ups of the other parts of the county and those articles ought to do much good. They interested us very much and make us take more interest in the other parts of Douglas county."

W. H. Redfield, of Glendale—"I spent the past few months up in the famous Clearwater country, in Idaho. Went up to take in the Portland fair and then went on up into Idaho to hunt and fish. And, say, that is truly the hunter's paradise. I got a handsome buck elk, the head of which is being mounted at Portland and is said to be worth two hundred and fifty dollars. We found the finest trout fishing in the world, but if I told you, you would think that I belonged to the Ananias club. At any rate, it was simply immense."

S. B. Flowers—"I am an enthusiast over Oregon. I came to this state many years ago and the longer I stay, the better I like it. In fifty-three I landed in Douglas county and have made this my home ever since, although I have been away part of the time, only to be glad to get back again. Ohio was my native state, and I was there when it was a territory, and so was I in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Montana, and I came to this state before it was admitted. I have seen much of all of them, but after all, Oregon has, to my way of thinking, the best climate of them all. Of course they all have their failings, but Oregon has the fewest."

Mrs. W. B. Drake, Myrtle Creek—"We are very much interested in the Plaindealer's work for the whole of Douglas county and we find that the paper is very much improved. We came to Douglas county in 'seventy-five and have been reading the Plaindealer ever since." Mrs. Drake brought up some handsome roses, chrysanthemums and strawberries for the show which the Methodist ladies gave yesterday. She says they have been having strawberries all the time and had a nice lot for supper the day before she came. She does some missionary work by sending her copy of the Plaindealer to Colorado relatives who are coming to Douglas county to make their homes, and she writes for eastern papers and magazines, always taking an opportunity to speak a good word for this country. Her articles on the flora of this section have been widely noticed and attracted much attention. Mrs. Drake is enthusiastic over the future of Douglas county and she is doing much to bring about such a state of affairs. It was refreshing to meet her and see what great faith she has and hear her give reason for the faith that is in her. While in this city she was the guest of Mrs. F. H. Churchill, an old time friend. The Plaindealer acknowledges receipt of some beautiful roses and also some luscious strawberries, which Mrs. Drake brought to this office yesterday. She was accompanied by her good friend, Mrs. W. A. Smick of Dixonville, who was in to enjoy the chrysanthemum show, and who took Mrs. Drake home with her for a visit.

Miss Daisy Maiden, who won one of the Telegram's prizes in the voting contest which has just closed—"My, but I was glad when the strain was over and I found that I had won a prize. All the day before the announcement came I pretended not to be overly anxious, but I was decidedly interested when the Telegram came, late in the evening, telling me that I had won, well, I was greatly relieved. But, say, I got nineteen thousand votes the last day from some unknown source. So far I have been unable to account for those votes. I wish you would thank my friends for their kindly interest and assure them I greatly appreciated what they did for me."

ROSEBURGERS WIN SOME NICE PRIZES

Much interest has been taken in the voting contest, which the Telegram of Portland has been carrying on for the past several months. In the Fifth District, which includes Douglas, Josephine, Jackson and Klamath counties, Roseburg has the proud distinction of having carried off both prizes. Miss Flossie Shambrook capturing the one which entitles her to a fine trip to either Colorado or Catalina I-lands, in California or to the Yellowstone Park, while Miss Daisy Maiden gets the scholarship in the Betheke-Walker Business College, of Portland.

The contest has been a good-natured one, and the rivalry has been rather lively and now the friends of both of the successful contestants are offering their congratulations.

Miss Shambrook is a native of Douglas county and is deservedly popular, having friends all over this state, and this doubtless accounts for the very large vote of 108,063. She has concluded to wait until next summer and then take the splendid trip to Yellowstone Park. Miss Shambrook is profoundly grateful to the many friends who assisted her in winning this nice prize and she would like to tell them in person how much she appreciated their kindness.

Miss Maiden, while not a "native daughter," is yet an enthusiastic advocate of anything which is for the best interests of Douglas county. She came to this county five years ago, from Nebraska, her native state and expects to make this her permanent home. Her vote of 100,588 shows that she is very popular and her host of friends supported her right royally. She, too, wishes the Plaindealer to express her hearty thanks to the many persons who took so much interest in helping her to secure this coveted honor.

ROSEBURG TIED IN GAME AT ASHLAND

This morning the following report came from yesterday's big football game between the Roseburg High School and the Ashland Normal, at Ashland:

The game was called at 3 o'clock. Ashland took the kick and Roseburg the west goal. Roseburg advanced the ball 15 yards. By a series of tandem plays and straight-line bucks, Roseburg advanced the ball to Ashland's 25-yard line, where they were forced to punt. Ashland bucked up the field, and was forced to punt. The rest of the game was played chiefly in Ashland's territory. Punting was frequently resorted to. Hannan outpunted Ashland.

In the second half Ashland got the down hill shove and made it very warm for Roseburg. Several times Ashland had the ball on Roseburg's 20 yard line, but either lost in fumbles or were held for downs. Just before time was called, Ashland tried a place kick, but it was blocked and Ashland lost its chance to score.

The game was one of the best ever held in the city. A large crowd attended. The stores were closed for the game.

Roseburg was well treated and is well satisfied with the result. Ashland did not claim to play a straight normal team, but ran in some very large players from the city. The boys are confident of a victory at Grants Pass.
