ROSEBURG OREGON

EVERYBODY IS TRULY THANKFUL

Many Delightful Family Reunions and Social Gatherings Marked Eventful Day.

Roseburg is today enjoying the festivities which are attendant upon the proper observance of Thanksgiving day. Most of the business houses are closed for the entire day, while some few, including the grocers and meat market kept open until noon, in order to accommodate the hostesses who might have forgotten to properly look after the larder.

MANY WERE THANKFUL.

The Plaindealer representative took a little time yesterday, trying to ascertain who was truly thankful and why they were thusly, with the following results:

Mayor Hoover—"Because I was elected by a majority of the people, and they can't count me out."

W. A. Burr, of the Burr Music House—"Say, we ought to be thankful, the way we are selling pianos."

F. H. Churchill, the hardware man—"Yes, indeed, I am truly thankful for everything, which includes a handsome business."

J. T. Bryan, the jeweler—"Well, I should say that I have abundant cause for thanksgiving, if anybody has, for my trade is most excellent."

County Treasurer Dimmick—"Now, say, when a fellow has all the good things which are coming my way, why, he can't help but be thankful."

City Recorder Orcutt—"Glad I am to know that the people of Roseburg appreciated my efforts to give them good service. I'll keep up the pace."

Sheriff McClallen—"No one has more cause for gratitude than I have, I cannot begin to enumerate my reasons for being thankful."

Gene Parrott—"Well, that is a big undertaking, to attempt to tell why I am thankful, for there are so many things. But our good shoe trade is one of the many things."

B. W. Strong—"Now, see here, Willis, ask me something easy. Why, I have lots of things to be thankful for, chief among them being our fine trade."

G. W. Kimball—"Guess I am thankful that I am still alive and that I am not troubled with the care of office."

A. D. Bradley—"Pshaw! Let me think. Why, there are many things, but I guess my handsome bays are some of them."

Dave Shambrook—"I am devoutly thankful that Douglas county is going to have a host of newcomers, and that the Farmers' Real Estate Co. will locate a great many of them."

Jim Newland—"Tell them I am thankful for our big trade, for—but, say, that alone, is enough to make any fellow happy."

O. C. Baker—"Well, I am rejoiced that we now have one of the best equipped laundries in Southern Oregon."

Sam Sykes—"Plenty of things. My fine business is one of the many that deserve notice."

W. L. Cobb—"Say, give me an easy one. But, really, our excellent realty trade is enough for anybody."

C. P. Barnard—"For the splendid livery business, I am truly thankful."

Hon. A. C. Marsters—"That I am not in the 'roasting' business this year, makes me more than thankful."

Geo. Kohlhaugen—"My fine trade makes me thankful all over and I am glad to furnish others good things to eat."

Frank Alley—"Well, I declare, I hardly know where to begin, for I have so many causes for thanksgiving."

Opera House Manager, L. B. Moore—"That we are not going to have any more week runs. They're killing."

County Clerk Agee—"Ain't I glad that the papers did not mention that I recently moved my bed and board?"

J. D. Hamilton—"Well, if you had all the good things coming your way, that I have, you'd be thankful, too."

C. B. Cannon—"When a fellow has so many things to enumerate, where is he to begin. I'm glad my pluriy is so much better."

I. Abraham—"If you would ask me something easy, I could answer it, but it is hard to tell all. However, our superb business is one of many."

J. F. Barker—"Among the many things for which I am very thankful, is our constantly increasing business."

Attorney W. W. Cardwell—"Say, I'm so glad they can't prove that I wrote that famous letter. My conscience is clear."

F. M. Beard—"Well, not least among our causes is the good business which has been coming our way right along."

Chief Dispatcher G. C. Morris—"I have reason for thanksgiving, for didn't I get a snap in real estate?"

R. B. Mathews—"Guess I am glad, after all, that my dog is not a rat terrier instead of the fine bird dog that he is."

Will H. Fisher—"Of all people in this city, I think I have ample reason to celebrate. Haven't you noticed what a capital trade we are having. Yes, I am real thankful."

Thos. Gibson—"Thankful I am that the weather nearly always comes just as I order it. Of course they sometimes get my orders a little mixed."

Clink & Woolson—"Together, 'Yes, indeed, we have every reason to be thankful for our growing trade."

A. Salzman—"I am thankful all the time, for my nice trade keeps up all the year around."

H. G. Wilkinson—"Can you blame

a fellow for being thankful, when his better half is about to come home after being away some time?"

Banker J. H. Booth—"One of the many things which make me truly grateful, is the way our line of deposits have been jumping up right along."

Druggist Fullerton—"Glad I am to be in good health again, and to be having such a good trade."

Judge M. D. Thompson—"For the way in which Douglas county is moving along in all that means for her growth and prosperity, I am very thankful."

Senator O. P. Coshaw—"I think it would be a big job for me to undertake to tell half of the reasons why I am thankful. But one of them is that I live in 'Old Douglas.'"

Judge Fullerton—"Well, there are a host of reasons why I am thankful, chief among them being the fact that Douglas county is the best place on earth in which to live, and I want to stay right here."

J. M. Hansbrough—"That I, like the poet Byron, awoke one morning, to find myself famous."

"See Pat"—"Of all mortals, I think I am the one to be thankful, and one reason is because I am a K. O. T. M."

Assessor Staley—"For the fact that Douglas county is steadily growing in population and in material wealth, I am sincerely grateful."

S. B. Flowers—"I am thankful that although I am getting along in years, yet I am not quite so old as the Plaindealer had me, when it said I was in Ohio, when that state was admitted into the union."

All the ministers of the city—"We are delighted with the spirit of brotherly love which prevails among the various churches, as regards one another."

MANY FAMILY REUNIONS.

Family reunions are the order today, and the reporter was almost overwhelmed when he endeavored to get these, for there were so many of them. However, he did get a few which were as follows:

W. A. Burr and family had as their guest, J. W. Maiden and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cannon enjoyed the hospitality of the home of John Agee, near Wilbur.

Druggist W. F. Chapman and wife were with the family of John I. Chapman, at Wilbur.

County Surveyor Roberts and wife had Rev. Dr. J. A. Townsend and family, around the festal board.

Mrs. May Kahler arrived from Seattle, yesterday, to spend the happy occasion with her brother, Attorney W. W. Cardwell and family.

Jeweler A. Salzman and daughter, Miss Anna Salzman, were the guests for the day, of E. M. Atterberry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams, of Roberts Creek, were entertained by Mrs. A. H. Cox, and family, on Mill Street.

Postmaster Parks and his good wife had Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Perry and Wm. Perry as their guests for a fine dinner.

Mrs. S. F. Cobb had the pleasure of having fifteen members of her family gather around the table at the home of her son T. C. Cobb.

Mrs. H. E. Pickens and family had as their guests F. M. Beard and family.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Strong had with them, to enjoy the day, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Metz and daughter. Earl Strong came up from the state university to participate in the festivities of the occasion.

Mrs. S. Zigler, at her home on Jackson street, had one of those good, old-fashioned family reunions. Gathered with her around the festal board were: Mr. and Mrs. Autenreith, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Bolter, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Rice, Miss Zelia Zigler and Mr. C. A. Zigler.

The home of F. H. Churchill was the scene of a happy reunion, the guests being Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Smick, of Dixonville; Miss Jennie Cook and Miss Flora Wilson.

For the past twenty years the families of D. S. K. Buick, J. C. Aiken and S. C. Flint have been holding reunions on Thanksgiving day and today Mr. and Mrs. Flint did the honors. It was a very delightful affair.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Albright, who were just married at Hubbard on the
