SALEM, WEDNESDAY MAY 16, 1872.

The organ of the plebald cayuse par ty, says: "According to the STATESMAN the only interest which the people of Marion county have in the next Legislature is the "Senatorial question." The sole business of our members in that body will be, in its view, to vote for

Not quite. We have mentioned the Senatorial question as one of the important matters to come before the next Legislature, and as one of the questions in which the Republicans of Marion county as well as of the whole State, will have a deep political in-terest. But that is not all that the Legislature, if it have common honesty, will have to do.

It will have in hand the business defeating the scheme which the Lock and Dam swindle Co., together with the leading Democrats of the State, are preparing, to sell the works to the State at the "cost of construction," thereby consummating a fat job for Miller, Teal, Goldsmith & Co. The law proposes that the State may take ion of the works at their "actual value;" the Lock and Dam swindle Co. are proposing to sell at the "cost of construction," and the Democratic newspapers and stumpers are expressing their approval of that proposition. The "cost of construction" may be any fat figure that the company may choose to write. It will be the business of the Legislature, it a Republican majority be elected, to see that there shall be no further swindle by the Lock and Dam Swindle Co.

Another bit of business which ar honest Legislature will have to do is to undo the villainy of the robbing litigant law. That law robs everybody upon whom it operates of more than half, nearly two thirds, of all the money now paid for legal advertising. There is not an honest man in the State but knows it is unjust, wrong in principle, and outrageously thieving in its operation. An honest Republican Legislature would repeal the law, and allow litigants to choose their own organs and make their own terms for advertising, just as other advertisers

An honest Legislature would have in hand the business of saving the swamp and other lands belonging to the State, from being wasted-divided out among gangs of political partisans, jobbers and grabbers.

It would have in hand the business ot defeating the numerous hordes of mythical military and wagon road, canal and drainage jobbers who swarmed around the last Legislature, like flies of summer around a molasses cask, who will swarm again in augmented numbers next fall, it a Democratic Legislature shall be chosen.

It would have in hand the business of lopping off needless and unconstitutional expenditures of the State's mon ey now given to fatten the purses of State officers, and numerous occupants of places-sinecures-unknown to the

It would have in hand the business of making a fair and equal apportion ment of members of the Legislative Assembly, according to the mandate of the Constitution, so that the people of the various counties and districts may be represented fairly according to population-a measure corruptly withheld by the late Democratic Legislature.

We might enumerate further; but we have mentioned a sufficient num ber of subjects demanding attention to show even the stolid Mercury that Republicans have important interests in the next Legislature above and beyoud the election of an U. S. Senator.

A GEM FROM HORACE.

The utterances of Horace Greeley, are the classics of American political literature. There are thousands of young men in this country who have been educated by the Tribune, and still look to Horace as the Oracle of the age. A late number of his paper contains a letter from one of these grateful and confiding proteges, who probably lives upon some rural creek at the head of a hollow, in which political information and guidance is the subject of the most respectful interroga-tory. To this flattering letter the sage of the white hat-may it never be of the White House! responds at length with what he knows about the duties of young men in the present crisis. We extract:

The Republican party has thus accompilshed its original object, with very much more. It will soon be transformed or disintegrated by reason of its complete, conclusive successes. A party with this name may outlast the century; but it must contemplate other objects and work to other ends than those which united and animated the Republicans of 1856-60. Your present duty, young men, is to read. than those which united and animated the Republicans of 1856-60. Your present duty, young men, is to read, observe, and think. The party called Republican may be the best in existence, and it may be your duty to sustain it; but it is so, if at all, for different may be the which called that it; but it is so, if at all, for different reasons from those which called that party into being.

If the Democratic party, untaught by disaster, should hisist on fighting over again the struggles of 1860, 1864, 1868, of course the Republicum must stand to their arms and fall into line. But of this there is no more prespect. But of this there is no more prospect that of re-fighting the battle of Bunker

This was written before the Conven tion at Cincinnati, and fully explains at that time; but does it not also answer some of the queries that float in the political atmosphere now? It will be noticed in the first place that Greeley, with whom candor is religion, expresses himselt very much after the manner of Jack Bunsby, the Delphic idol of Captain Cuttle, but there is a effort to weaken the young les frith in the Republican party om the old name, and break the charm of its history and tra-ditions. Having accomplished that, the anxious youth would naturally be the ready receptacle of liberal ideas and would doubtless support the Cinsinnati nominee, peradventure Horace own and leave Cincinnati to prop its own creations! In that dire event the Republicans must fall into line, as he thinks too much of Republican principles to peril them when he cannot himself reach the White House by Democratic votes. All of which neans this: If the Democracy will not support me, I, with my host of disciples, will stand by Grant and the les, will stand by Grant and the fair will then, by the signs of the hour, prove a flasco instead of nominating the next President.

There is a split in the Jackson County Democracy. The Viute-Grover wing, finding themselves bosten in the convention held Thursday, boiled and withdrew from the convention. With the Grover crowd, it is "rule or "The Mercury is not the only Democratic paper in the State which has crowed over the glorious affairs of old Polk. The facts in the case are: During the Republican administration, eight or nine large bridges were built, which cost a large sum of money; the roads were kept in passably good repair, and while the rate of taxation was seventeen mills on the dollar, the valuation of all taxable property was such as to make the taxes light. How is it now? True, the Democracy have lowered the rate of taxation from seventeen to twelve mills on the dollar, but they have increased the valuation until taxes are nearly double what they were last year. We had occasion to visit Yambill county last week, when a resident of that county, a man of high standing, told us that he had a plece of property in Polk county, the usual tax upon which had been mineteen dollars was yet due. He did not understand it and requested us so ascerial the facts. We inquired and was told that his land had been assessed and taxed at the regular rate, and the tax which was formerly nineteen dollars, was now thitty-four. True, our country is free from debit, but we have to pay more than double cur former tax.

There will be but a few such works and those that are being constructed.

In the name of the Great Eternal can we not have some honesty in this State?
Are the people so many hewers of wood and drawers of water, placed here merely to work for the few ed lazaroni that hover over them, vulture like, and swoop down upon their prey when they see a fortune at a singie grasp? Are the people created for no higher purpose than to labor from one year's end to another for enough to pay taxes to enrich these virtuous robbers? Can a few sanctimonious scoundrels engraft themselves upon our Legislature, buy votes enough to give themselves a contract with the State, and then fulfill that contract to just the extent they wish, and no further?"

These are the reasons why a few conspirators met in secre caucus and concocted the "Independent Ticket" which the Mercury is pleased to call a ticket of the people's own. Impudence and assurance could no further go.

Among the resolutions adopted by the Republican Convention of Multnomah county we find the following: Resolved, That we pledge our Senators and Representatives to the Legislature to use their best endeavors to procure the repeal of the law known as the act to protect litigants.

A DREAM. BY OLIVE HARPER. Hand in hand on the beach we walked.
In a blissful dream last night;
The waves came up and kissed the shore;
Foaming and alivery white;
The moon looked down with tender eye,
The stars shone out in the azure sky,
And the sweet south wind blew softly by,
As hand in hand on the beach we walked
And of love's sweet fancies idly talked;
And the hours went floating by. State Senator, J. N. Dolph; Representatives, J. F. Caples, Sol. Hirsh, J. B. Congle, J. D. Blles; Sberiff, J. M. Caywood; Clerk, W. H. Harris; Treasurer, Wm. Ah! how the sweet, sweet words come back Ah! how the sweet, sweet words come bac
As I think of my last night's dream.
Strange, that a misty, shadow thing,
So wondrously real can seem.
For love is only a flower of June,
The waning light of an autumn moon,
The tender noces of a low sweet tune
That breaks in a dreamy afternoon,
Charming the heart and the senses away
Alluring us on with a childish play,
That endeth, ah me! so soon.
