

The City and County

From Daily of Saturday, July 20.
TUESDAY.—The Tatters have now got to the point of completing their work on the present perfecting arrangements for opening to the public. It will be ready for occupation Tuesday evening next, at which time the society will have their first exercises. Thanks to the liberality of some of its members and of some of the gentlemen who have done the work at remarkably low figures, the entire outfit has been erected at a cost of only about $200. Of this sum only $75 remains unpaid which leaves the society almost free from debt at the start. An initiation fee of $2.50 is charged for regular membership with $1 each more as dues. For the second year each person as may desire to try the benefits of this exercise one month before entering as regular members, the society has issued tickets good for that time which entitles the holder to the privilege of the hall two evenings each week during the time for which it is issued. After the first month arrangements may be made which will extend all regular members from the privileges of the hall. This movement is one which will no doubt meet with public favor and we predict for the society a lasting popularity. Those wishing to purchase tickets can do so by applying to J. H. Reynolds, leader of the society or to Thos. H. Reynolds, leader. As this is a society that is in successful operation in every large city, we have no hesitancy in recommending it to the public generally. Their hall is already fitted up as an indoor or outdoor exercise ground and their drill will give a person, without a lasting benefit to any who may wish to join. When well drilled, their exercises are really graceful, and their performance in public gives gratification but they are not to be mistaken for the kind of thing that Rev. P. S. Knight has had in his possession for the past six months. He has been kept in the shed near his residence, and every morning at sunrise has stretched his long neck in the direction of the hall, and he has desired to spread his wings and fly away in search of the shining orb. Mr. Knight with this pleading glance as long as he could, until a few mornings since he had decided to give up the idea and to take a short walk for his health. He was old, but he never again was caught by an admiring curiosity hunter, nor ever again devoted to confinement.

THE PIONEER OIL MILLS.—These pioneer mills have received a thorough renovation, and will commence running again about the middle of next week. They were during the day at first, probably turning out about 250 gallons of oil daily. When run and they will increase to double that amount. Reports from different portions of the State show an increase in the crop of seed, and they will find no difficulty in obtaining a full supply. They will manufacture as large quantity of oil during the coming season as the increased demands for the article will warrant.

MEVY ORDER DENIED.—Mr. Rickey informs us of a slight change in the charge on money orders which he doubts will be of interest to the public. Henceforth the charge on all orders less than $20 has been ten cents each. But a recent postal law has reduced the rate to five cents for all orders of ten dollars or over. This certainly seems reasonable enough, and any man that would guard at these rates would growl if he was going to be hung. In connection with this we might also state that during the week ending January 1st, over $1,000,000 worth of money orders were sold at this office. The money business every year, and this mode of sending money is daily becoming more universal.

SHORT OPS.—The water has been shut off from the mill race in order that Mr. A. Myers may proceed with his work on the water power into his new Agricultural Works. The Railroad Company have constructed a waste gate near the Oil Mills in order that they may supply their tanks as they see fit. It is expected that the city of Salem will have suspended operations for a few days. It will only be a short time, however, before we shall hear the busy hum of machinery that will be heard in the city.

their folly to imagine she ever cared for me. I can not recall the details of the meetings, although romantic, are far from being a paying investment. The young man desired to name mentioned, but related the circumstances for the benefit of his own down-trodden sex. The moral is plain.

THAT SIDEWALK.
Another Card—and the Last of the Series.
ERNEST STANLEY: I am the interested party in the card of Sam Clarke and others in your paper yesterday, concerning my sidewalk. As you have thrown open your "doors to him, please allow me to make a few remarks. My sidewalk has been built by me and is a sidewalk of great width on an elevation not on a grade with my finished fence; and as he has failed to succeed he is showing his unwillingness to be brought to shame publicly. The Committee appointed to report on the petition of Clarke to the Council, after examining my sidewalk expressed themselves satisfied. Now I have a better walk than any of the persons signing Sam Clarke's card. The Street Commissioner works duty it is to look after walks, has never had to remind me of need for repairs. W. L. MORRIS.

CAPTAIN AT HIS OWN GAME.—Why it is that a man whose work can be counted by thousands is capable of contemplating men in the streets of the city, who are making money by the sweat of his brow, and lives (as the saying is) "from mouth to mouth," would seem to be guilty of a crime that will always remain unpunished. It is a fact that the man who is making money by the sweat of his brow, and lives (as the saying is) "from mouth to mouth," would seem to be guilty of a crime that will always remain unpunished.

RECOVERY OF STOLEN PROPERTY.—Our readers will recall that Ben & Davidson and a valuable horse, and in the hands of the men from in some few days. Telegrams were sent north and south, and a reward of one hundred dollars offered for his arrest. A telegram was received last Saturday night from the Sheriff of Linn county, saying he had found the horse, but the thief had made his escape. One of the proprietors went up there and found the horse at a farmer's, where the thief had left him, saying he would return for him in a few days. He went south from there. He must have feared discovery and abandoned the idea of taking the horse away with him. We congratulate the owners on the recovery of the animal.

HEAD FRO.—We received a letter from Miss Miller, yesterday, written at Summit Prairie Blue Mountains, July 17th. They had arrived at their destination, having been just three weeks on the road. They were four days crossing the Cascade Range, a distance of 45 miles. Three days more were used in crossing the Deschutes river with the flock of sheep and considerable danger was experienced before the entire lot were across. His health is constantly improving and he writes in excellent spirits. Every thing has passed off as pleasantly as could be expected and the chances are that he will remain up there all winter, for to use his own words "I'm fat, ruddy and racy, and the dirt against me." We are pleased to hear of his success.

GEN. HOOKER.—This veteran soldier arrived at this city by the 11 o'clock train from Portland yesterday. He was met at the depot by a number of members of Russell Post, G. A. R., but no formal reception was given. The general was accompanied by his wife and two children. He was taken in a private carriage by Mr. Bush, who at once started with him for the valley of the La Crosse. Gen. Hooker will return here probably Wednesday and will go to Portland Tuesday.

THE OLD STORY.—A gentleman entered one of our city restaurants yesterday and seated himself at one of the tables. A waiter stepped up and asked him what he would have "beef, pork, mutton or ham and eggs?" "I don't care a rap for any of them," replied he, picking up the Daily Statesman, "anything but beef Gravy." He was evidently a discouraged politician.

DEBTY BONES.—A ride on any of our back streets at the present time is anything but an agreeable pastime, owing to the heavy loads. Our Portland neighbors were favored with a brisk and busy night, which laid the dust and was a welcome visitor. Why can't we have all of the same kind?

A. O. U. D.—A petition was in circulation yesterday in view of the organization of a new club in this city. It is an order that has met with public favor wherever it has been introduced. It will no doubt meet with success in Salem. Quite a number have already signed the petition and many more have signified their intention to do so.
