The City and County.

From Daily of Wednesday Aug. 14 Off on a Tramp.—One of our Salem vouties took an idea yesterday that he would take a tramp to the Eastern States, with a cousin of his, who took his departure on yesterday's train. His intentions were detected and frustrated in the following way: The boy's father runs a brewery not far from South Salem, and being in the store of Mr. Powell on Commercial street reof Mr. Powell on Commercial street requested him to ride over with him. M P. desiring to purchase some lumber at the South Salem Mills, got into the wagon and rode over with him. While seated in the bar-room of the brewery, the youngest child of the proprietor came in crying, and upon their incurring the cause, said that Willie of the proprietor came in crying, and upon their inquiring the cause, said that Willie had gone off. Somewhat astonished at this the father immediately drove to the depot where he found a valise with his son's name on it checked for Portland. He sent the valise back home, himself taking passage on the train for Brook's Station, where the young man intended to embark, having walked that distance to avoid detection by the visitors at the Salem depot. No cause for his conduct can be given, except boyish for his conduct can be given, except boyish

THE BULLETIN .- This newspaper-Dail and Weekly—lately added a new feature, an one that will be likely to be much liked be all its interior readers. Mr. A. J. ASSAULT AND BATTERY .- A complaint wa Mr. Henry Weich against Jos. Halpen ar. Henry Weich against Jos. Halpenny for assault and battery. It seems that Halpenny has a farm rented from Mr. Cuningham, of this city, and Welch is employed by Cunningham to work on the farm and take care of the stock. Some of the horses under Welch's care jumped into the stubble field, causing Halpenny to use house Innuage toward him at first until busive language toward him at first, unt his anger became so great he could not con strain himself, and to satisfy his rage a saulted said Welch. After considerable of idence had been taken, and a great deal o lawyer's thunder wasted, the Justice fines the accused $10 and cost, STILL FAILING .- Mr. Mansfield the man who threatened to poison himself while drunk, is still in a very critical condition. It is thought by his physician that he was drugged by some villainous scoundrel for the purpose of robbing him. His mind continually wanders, and upon mentioning anything concerning his family, he almost goes wild with lamentations, begging his attendants to leave him and let him die. A telegram was sent to his relations, vesterlay telegram was sent to his relations yesterday afternoon to come and care for him, as his recovery is very doubtful. He is now re-ceiving the best of care at the Commercial Hotel by some of our kind young men.

A New Conundrum.—Our Indian Sup a New Costsback.—Our Indian Super-intendent's office received a dispatch, a day or two since from Engene like this: "A dead squaw here; what shall we do with her?" Odeneal, all unconscious of the portentous impending event had gone away, probably before the gentle aborizine had approached the dark val-ley; and Woodworth was left all alone ley; and Woodworth was left all alone to wrestle with the conundrum. A friend suggested "make a mummy of her." and then we came away. The Eugene connun-drum is still at large.

He will be examined by physicians at an early day on the charge of insanity. SCARCITY OF ITEMS.-It has been some time since we complained about the dearth of local news. But we now lift up our voice and cry out against the dullness and inactivity of our old item furnishers. Ever inactivity of our old item furnishers. Even the burglars have ceased their labors. No usual runaway items. Nobody has taken a sensational idea into their head for weeks. What are we to do. The time has arrived when something must be done, and that immediately. We are naturally of a quiet dicposition, but we are becoming desperate. We must have an item outside of the old beaten pash within the next mouth, or a dire calamity will fall upon some unsuspecting individual that crosses our way.

At Home at Last.—Mr. J. M. Garrison has at last escaped alive from the mountains and returned to civilization. He reports having a splendid time, hunting and fishing. Twelve deer and one elk gave up the ghost to his unerring rifle. A pair of beaudifful volvet antiers proves, at least, one deer did suffer death if not by rifle ball, by old age. He also brought a bottle of water from the hot springs, about sixty miles east of Eugene, to be analyzed by Dr. E. Y. Chase. The fatted cast has been slain. The wanderer has returned.

LOST IN THE WOODS, Our friend J. H. Albert and lady met with quite an adventure a few days since while on a pleasure tour. They, with some friends, were camping out on the Santiani river, and learing there were some picturesque falls about six miles from camp. Mr. and Mrs. Albert concluded to visit them. They left camp about eight o'clock in the morning, the lady mounted on horseback, and the gentleman in attendance on foot. The reached their destination in safety, and a ter rambling around for a few hours the lost their reckoning and realized for the first time that they were lost in the woods. They endeavored for sometime to find their way out, but night overtood them and with half that they were elected to remain over night in the woods away from camp. Not a Burglar.—A couple of musical geniuses who reside in Salem met with an embarrassing adventure a few evenings Mathews, mother of Vice President since, in which it is shown how easily persons may be deceived. The gentleman in house was closed. Nothing daunted our young men knocked boldly at the door and had recently been badly scared by burglars, and the young folks being alone they were naturally timid. They inquired who was there and were answered that it was no one who would hart them. This did not suit the immates, and they requested the intruders to take a spin around the block.
