The Republican party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith and appeals to its history and announces its position walks of life, and does not seem even walks of life, and does not seem even to know that these men have an existence. Nor is it by any means gantle rebellion; managements and his strikers here, who are Corbett and his strikers here, who not be good policy to start with so ganthe rebellion; emancipated 4,000,000 slaves; decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled unsegminaty, it criminally punished no man for political offenses, and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased, with a firm hand, the resultant disorders of a great war, and initiated a wise policy toward the Indians. The Pacific Railroad, and similar vast enterprises, have been generously assed and successfully conducted. The public lands are treely given to actual settlers; imangration is protected, encouraged, and the indiacknowledgement of the naturalized citizen's rights has been secured from European powers men of Portland support him. He Is quite in keeping with his inordinate vanity, which leads him to suppose rights has been secured from European powers. The national currency has improved in regula-tion and the national credit has been smalle-ed under extraordinary burdens, and new
