Beeekly Dregon Statesman. SALEM, TUESDAY, OCT. 1. THE CITY AND COUNTY From Daily of Wednesday Sept. 25.

THE NEW MINISTER, - We find in the Cin-cinnati Times and Chronicle of the 11th inst the following notice of the new M. E. Minister assigned by the late Conference to Salem ; "At the conclusion of the Sabbath morning services at Grace Methodist Epis-copal Church, the pastor, the Rev. Stephen Bowers, A. M., read a telegram from one of the Bishops of the Church, announcing his transfer to the far Pacific, in charge of some transfer to the far Pacific, in charge of some church in Oregon, which the reverend gentleman, in voice tremnlous with emotion, declared his duty to obey. Then followed a scene not often withcased, showing the strong hold the pastor had on the affections of his people. While some publicly pro-tested against the removal, nearly all in the audience were affected to tears. In the re-moval of Mr. Bowers not only the church, moval of mr. Bowers not only the charth. but the entire community meet with great loss. His lectures upon scientific subjects and acholarly attainments attracted to his church the most intelligent of our people, among them many who seldom attended church, while his carnest, artless preaching wars all bearts. The concentrations during church, while his earnest, artices preaching won all hearts. The congregations during the hot weather have been very large, it being difficult, many evenings, to find a seat in the capacious church. We have no-ticed, with wonder, the large number of young people attending his services, and understand the Sunday school and prayer meeting have been largely attended during the heated term. We understand the au-thority of the Bishops of his Church is su-preme, but surely it must be a work of uninority of the Bishops of his church is su-preme, but surely it must be a work of un-usual needs that would take him from so promising a field. He goes with the good wiahes of everybody, and we predict his complete success in his new home."

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR .-- We have been shown a copy of the proceedings of the cor-one 's inquest held over the body of Thomas Keraly who was found dead by the readside between this city and Gervais on the 17th of this month. Most of the testimony taken is of but little importance, but the evidence is of but little importance, but the evidence of the examining physician. Dr. Cusick, of Gervais, is of that nature that leads us to think there has been foul play committed. The ball penetrated the skull above, and a little behind the right ear, passed down-ward through the brain and lodging against the left side of the head. For the reason that there were no powder marks around the wound, and various other reasons not the wound, and various other reasons hot stated in the testimony, the physician was of the opinion that the wound had been made by a shot from a pistol in the hands of another party. The whole case is envel-oped in a shrond of mystery that may not be through off for some time; but we trust thrown off for some time; but we trust that if a crime has been committed, the criminal may be finally brought to suffer the penalty of the act.

THE FIRST FROST .- Early risers yesterday THE FIRST FROST.—Early risers yesterday morning were somewhat surprised to see the side walks white with frost. This is the first regular through trip that Jack has made in our valley this fall, and his welcome we fear isanything but a hearty one among Webfeet. But the days continue warm and pleasant, and the recent rains have laid the dust so completely that from present appear-ances we shall not be bothered with that ar-tude much during the State Fair. ticle much during the State Fair.

THAT OBCHESTRA .- Theater-goers in this city are load in their praise of the excellent music furnished at the Opera Honse during the present theatrical season. Although there are but two performers, they are both finished musicians, and their selections are excellent. Charlie Bray as a violin and cor-net please has a well established rejutation net player has a well established reputation in musical circles, while Johnny Ross is without a doubt as good an accompaniment player as there is on the coast. Their perormances are highly appreciated by all who hear them.

THE GAME LAW .- This bill which will prove of considerable interest to the hunt-ing fraternity, was under discussion in the Senate Chamber yesterday afternoon. After a lengthy dispute on the "pros and cons" it was ordered engrossed and will be read the third time to-day. Should it become a law, we will publish a condensed report of its main features for the benefit of the "shoot-int".

 Testerday's train from the south brought with it, to this city, a lady who had come overland from Clinton, Iowa, alone, to meet a gentleman, on a promise of marriage as soon as she should arrive. The history of the courtship is a romanic one, and worthy of note, and did we but possess the flowery style of romance writing that some have, we might find foundations for a first class novel, by gaining the full particulars of this courtship, and the proposed marriage. A plain statement of facts, however, will suffice for this occasion. The gentleman was TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION. | amend the act to appoint a Register of

The gentleman was living in one of the Bouthern States, when one day his attention was called to an advert isement that appeared in the Waverly Magazine, from four fun loving girls, living in the above named city, who desired to correspond with an unlimited number of gentleman, object, fun love and its consequences. This gentleman, on the impulsed the moment, in answer to the advertific month, wrote a letter to one of the ladies and pareceived for months, and the circumstance had almost been forgotton, when one day on going to the post-office he found at the only excuse given for her neght, it was neatly written, and well composed, and the only excuse given for her neght. He was so well pleased with his correspondent, that he immediately wrote her his second letter, and since then letters have passed between them regularly at stated in tervals. The first letter was written nearly six years ago, and during that time he had traveled extensively, but had never met her. Meanwhile fortune favored him, and he fell heir to a large fortune by the death of a relative, but in an unfortunate speculation he lost the bulk of it, and came west to establish himself in business.
