ARTICLE VIL

By every mail the exchange office of each country shall send to the exchange office of the other country a certified list of asms ray-able in that country, and received since the despatch of the previous list. As soon as any such list shall have reached the New York office and been verified, this office shall make out inland money-orders in favor of the payces for the amount specified in the tist, and shall promptly forward them to the payces or to the paying office, in con-formity with the regulations existing in the United States, for the payment of money-orders.

United States, for the payment of money-orders. The list forwarded to the United Kingpom shall be accompanied by the relative letters of advice of the orders entered therein, to-gether with the orders themselves, as already settled in Article VI. After comparison with the link, the advices shall be despatched to the offices drawn upon, and the letters in-closing the orders posted for delivery. The lists, by means of which each office of exchange communicates with the other, shall be according to the Forms A and B, annexed. in

ABTICLE VIII.

The lists despatched from each office of exchange shall be numbered consecutively, commencing with No. L at the beginning of each year, and the entries also in these in the lists from the United Kingdom commencing each calendar month with No. L Of each list despatched from New York, a duplicate shall be sent, which duplicate shall, after being verified at the British office, be returned to New York.

ABTICLE IX.

Should any list fail to be received, in due course, the despatching office shall, on re-ceiving information to that effect, transmit without denay a duplicate of the list, duly certified as such.

ARTICLE X.

Each office of exchange shall promptly communicate to the other the correction of any simple error which it may discover in the verification of the lists. When the lists shall show irregularities which the receiving office shall not be able to receivity, that office shall apply for an explanation from the desnatch-ing office; and this explanation shall be at-forded without delay.

ARTICLE XI.

Cuplicate orders shall only be issued by the postal administration of the country on which the original orders were drawn, and in conformity with the regulations established or to be established in that country.

ABTICLE XII.

ARTICLE XII. At the close of each quarter three copies of an account shall be prepared and transmitted by the office at London, exhibiting the bal-ance found due on the exchanges of orders during the quarter: which balance, after proper verification, shall, if due by the United States office, be paid at London ; but if due by the British office, it shall be paid at New York, and always in the money of the coun-try to which the payment is made. If, pend-ing the settlement of an account, one of the two postal nonministrations shall ascentan that it owes the other a balance excertain that if owes the other a balance excertain one thousand pounds sterling, the indebted a liministration shall promptly remit the ap-proximate amount of such balance to the credit of the other. This account, and the letters which accompany such intermediate remittances, shall be in accortance with the Form C, D and E, aunexed to this conven-tion.

ARTICLE XIII.

Until the two general postoffices shall con-sent to an alteration, it is agreed that, in all matters of account relative to money-orders which shall result from the execution of the present convention, the pound sterling of Great Britain shall be considered as equiva-lent to four dollars and eighty six cents of the gold coin of the United States.
