the work of an incendiary: There had been a disturbance about the house only a short time before the fire was discovered and Mr. Watson had got up to see what was the matter, but he made no discovery and returned to bed. At the hour above mentioned he was aroused from sleep by the cries of his daughter who occupied a sleep ing room in the upper story. She called out to her father that the house was on his.
The family was, of course instantly aroused, but nothing could be done to save the house, as the roof was already falling in at the two opposite ends. It was discovered that one fire had been set at one end of the house where a corner beard had been knocked off.
This fire had climbed between the outside weatherboards and the inside ceiling to the roof. Another fire had been started in a store county applied themselves at once to saving their bedding, clothing, and furniture, but owing to the advanced stage of the fire and its rapid progress, they succeeded in getting out only a small part of their bedding and a few clothes, the greater part of everything in the benue being construed. A Deserted Oregon Girl. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 .- Ellett Shadden, who ran away Rom Portland, Oregon, a short time since and came to this city with Pascal Smith, has been abandoned by him, and is in a destitute condition. She applied to Chief Crowley for aid, and was sent to the hospital, where she will remain until Wednesday and then start home, the Chlef having obtained a free pass for the girl. She says Smith pawned everything she had except the clothes she wore and left her without a dollar.
