WEEKLY OREGON STATESMAN.

OREGON STATESN/N THE "JOHNS" ON THE BATTOCK. WALKIN

FRIDAY : : NOVEMBER 10, 1876.

THE SITUATION.

The Presidential election is over, and returns begin to come in, but in shape as to be wholly unreliable, If not unintelligible. There is little doubt of the election of Hayes and Wheeler, and Mr. Williams in Oregon

We have returns from eight voting precincts of Marion county, from which we deduce the conclusion that the "banner of their employers, generally, but furncounty" of Oregon has given about six bundred Republican majority.

One precinct of Lane county indicates a very close vote on the electoral ticket.

Four precincts of Linn county show Republican gains and indicate the election in the State, of the whole Rpublican ticket.

Multuomah county is estimated all the way from four to six hundred Republican majority.

There is every reason to make Republicans hopeful, and create a teeling of security.

REPEATING IN SALEM.

A man by the name of J. H. Long, was arrested yesterday, on a charge of voting twice for Tilden and Lane. He was drunk and claims that he did not know what he was doing It any undue influence was brought to bear on him, the parties controlling him should be punished. An examination will be had, which will probably develop some facts, to us now anknown.

THE PENITENTIARY ORGAN.

Says: "The election in Oregon is so close as to require an official curvass to settle it." This is cheek for you when it is so well known that Mr. Williams' majority must exceed six hundred. It is just as well to deal fairly, now that the election is over and not make such efforts as that to deceive the reading public.

LUTTRELL.

Of California, is probably defeated for Congress in California. His real character crops out like the ears of the ass, which was playing the part of the lion, and the people of his district begin to see it. Such ab'v will be.

"OLD ANXIETY"

The dense crowds which thronged the telegraph office and other places last night gave the uninterested observer many psychological ideas not before conceived. Seeking election pews from mixed disputches-what a joke!

VERY CHEEKY.

The Portland Staudard continues to say "the vote in Oregon is very close," when it is distinctly understood that the State has gone Republicensity an overwhelming majority. When maire the nerve of the editor of that sheet but have no respect for his Judgement.

ELECTION NEWS,

Up to this time the election news is very uncertain. Most of our disputches the first day were vague runnors, but yesterday and this morning. figures are more reli-

The great difficulty of obtaining bired men who will use the mattocks long and successfuly upon our grublands has measurebly forced many of our land holders in the valley counties to hire Chinamea to grub out their brush lands. The cost of grub- Our Poultry Erect! bing, burning and clearing those lands is about half as much with China labor as with that of our own people. The little Celestials board themselves and work all the year round. They buy their own meats and vegetables ish their syrup and rice, and all their hats, shoes and clothing. There is strong opposition to hiring them in this valley. They are in every kitchen, at our woodpiles, in the timbered lands making cord wood, and, indeed, everywhere at such work as they can perform.

The opposition to hiring them arises from those who work around the country by the day or month. Miner's prices are played out here. Labor must come to a level with our products here. Five times as much land should be in cultivation in our valley countles as there is now. Much of the fertile land is covered with light or with dense brush. These lands lie near the railroad and the Willamette river and to good markets. From the influence of immigration here from the States and from Europe and from Chins, we may expect that much of our brush lands and a large acreage of the broad selections held by old settlers here, will be subdivided shortly, and "made to blossom as the rose."

There is some talk of mobbing the Chinamen, here. If we pitch into them, then the best thing is to pitch into the Irish, Dutch, Scotch, English, Swiss or Norwegians. We have long desired cheaper labor here. We cannot prosper without it. We have it, but oh! it is the "Johns." The question is upon us. We must meet it and not shirk it. It is no more the Deep Curses Heaped Upon fault of the Democrats than it is the Republicans. Then hire the Chinamer without respect to politics. All things here must come to a level m men should be left at home, as he prob- prices. There is no fear of the Johns voting, as they are not American citizens and will not become such.

The great revolution which has played the State in the limits of the Republican party has been brought about by the conduct of a administration, and the people now desiring genuine reform, abandon the old rot-able. The election of Hoyes is secure and Oregon has fully redeemed herself.

THAT PETER COOPER.

Business has proved a great failure in Will Martlu of things vile, and ended the United States. It was a Demo cratic scheme to break up the Republican party, but signally failed of its purposes. The vole in that ticket is very light.

NOBLE LINN.

Linn county comes up to the work of the last election in good shape. Only 74 majority is reported for the "unterritied." when General Brown was claiming lour hundred. Good for Linn county and the unterial interests of the State.

"WAY UP FIGURES."

The best hands on figures in the State, place Republican majorities west of the mountains, at eighteen hundred. This gives us an immense majority in the State.

THE GOVERNOR'S ORGAN

Does not indulge in the use of "roosters" at the head of its columns. The defeat of the concern in Oregon is very distasteful, but the people are pleased

A GOOD DEAL.

Clackama county gives Hayes and Wheeler two hundred and eleven majorty. That is more than double what we expected.

THE ELECTION,

Passed off very quietly in Salem. The event was most important. and considerable interest was taken-a tall rote being polled. All Republicans feel jubliant, and Democrats are despondent.

liere' in Silom after March next, so he went after that Confederate note in the genuine Confederate style; scenaed with promising him that Democratic custom would avoid that shop hereafter. Well, when Salem Democrats, including The vote in Oregon for Bill Watkinds, can take a joke, we expect to see Martin's trade improve on the Mercury's special notice.

> Our own conclusion Is, either that Martin invented the scheme and pays for it aan "advertising dodge," or that Bristow mistook himself for a bovine and thought the Confederate note was a red rag-the bloody shirt, in fact.

THE POTATO CROP.

This is about on an average with other easons. The bulbs are generally of fine size, but not many in each hill. The price in Salem is 50 cents per bushel. The tailare of the potato crop on the Columbia bottoms will cause potatoes to pass to Portland and to points below for market. But it is very likely that much of that demand will be supplied from California, as a ton of freight can be shipped from Calitornia to Portland for less money than from Salem to Portland. We are well bottled up in this valley by Grover's allies.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

N.

Maj. O. A. Brown is feeling well over election returns.

Senator Watkinds worked like a beaver all day Tuesday, to see his Penitentiary business fade into nothingness.

Col. Ike Moores came home to deposit a square vote, and goes back to Portland to-day.

A number of boys were out last Hayes and Wheeler.

THE HAT CROP.

It was announced in the STATESMAN early in the season, that there was a lack of the supply of hay, in this locality. Facts justify that statement. Hay is very searce, and much straw was baled and hauled to Salem, but the early, heavy rains spoiled the greater part of the straw where threshed. Hay in Salem sells for twenty dollars per ton, and cannot be bought in the settlements for less than fifteen dollars per toa. P.

This has been varying for a month past. Warm and dusty, cloudy and cool, and then quite heavy pour downs. The streams have been well up, and the earth well soaked with water.
