EASTERN.

Arrival of Tweed. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Wm. Tweed landed this afternoon at the foot of Grand street and North River, from the Revenue cutter, and was taken in a carriage by the Sheriff, under Sheriff, and Order of Arrest Clerk, Stacy, to Ludlow street jail, where he was admitted through the gate and not by office as usual. He remarked on being admitted to the cell by Warden Watson, "I thought I would come and see you again." No person is allowed to see him to-night, and no one but the watchman will be permitted to enter. The appearance of his escape has made the officials of Ludlow street very watchful. He will be treated precisely as other prisoners, and allowed no privileges. His rooms are much smaller than those previously occupied by him, and are accessible only through the Warden's apartments. Tweed was visited by his son, Wm. M. Tweed, Jr., and an unknown person. They remained two hours. Tweed closed his door and refused to be seen. After supper he retired, and was not visible again during the night. The prison is thronged with reporters, and the visitors are so mixed up that the Warden has hard work noting who is who. Tweed's delivery by the naval officer was made in the presence of District Attorney Phelps, United States District Attorney Bliss and Sheriff Connor. Mr. Phelps has not decided yet whether the forgery suits will be pressed against Tweed. However, an order has been served on the Sheriff calling for the arrest of Tweed should he procure bail in the civil suits pending.

Centennial Award. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The following are among the additional awards made to-day: M. Wilkins, Eugene City, Oregon, combing wool; S. G. Reed, Portland, long combing wool; Hampton Kelly, Portland, fruit butter. Of the Oregon collection of fruit, H. Lambert, Portland, apples; Seth Luelling, Milwaukie, pears; J. E. Sedlak, Portland, collection of prunes.

Tweed's Condition. NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A gentleman who saw Tweed yesterday, in answer to inquiry said, he is crushed and broken, and has lost his old buoyancy and defiant spirit. He is suffering from pleurisy, and is actually ill, and seems worried and very anxious to know about his old acquaintances. He is entirely in the dark as to what to do, and is even without legal advice. He needs medical advice more than anything.

Gold and Stocks. Gold closed 9 3/4; money dull; 2 governments dull but steady; stocks active and better feeling. Transactions at the mining board to-day were 7,300 shares.

Whipping and Whipping Post. NEWCASTLE, Del., Nov. 25.—Six criminals were whipped and exposed in the pillory here to-day—receiving from 20 to 40 lashes.

Statue of Daniel Webster. NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The statue of Daniel Webster, donated to the city by Gordon A. Barnham, was unveiled to-day with appropriate ceremonies in the presence of a large number of spectators. The proceedings were opened by an address from President Martin, of the department of parks. Mr. Barnham made the presentation of the statue, which was accepted in behalf of the city by Mayor Wickham. Other addresses followed. The statue is situated in Central Park, at Fifth Avenue and Seventy-second street entrance, and is 14 feet high. The cost was made by Mulier, of Munich.

Pense, $1,432; Riverside to Eugene, R. H. Parker, $105; Oswego to Portland, George W. Prosser, $150; Washington Territory—Astoria to Klappan, R. L. Pense, $225.

Mail Against General Howard. To-day, District Attorney Wells, entered suit for the United States against General Oliver O. Howard and his aides on land, Shepherd and Edgar Ketchum, to recover the sum of $2,200 which is charged he has not accounted for and which came into his hands while special agent and disbursing officer of the bureau of refugees, freedmen and abandoned lands.

Publishes a Card. The Times Washington special says: Every this evening publishes a card denying explicitly the New York Sun's story that the President ever made any endorsement to that of letters, as the Sun charges.

How Tweed Escaped. NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Thurlow Weed visited Tweed in jail the former afterwards told a reporter he passed an hour and a half with Tweed, and found him in far better health than he expected. He had grown thinner, but this he deemed an improvement, and he regarded him as far better than when he last saw him. Tweed told him he had escaped on the evening of his drive, straight on board a yacht which conveyed him to the vessel on which he started for Cuba. From the hour of his starting to the present, he had suffered only from a slight attack of diabetes, shortly after the Franklin left New York. He had taken but little exercise on the way.

age over as he was compelled to walk to company with a sentinel, which was unpleasant. He had as yet formed no idea as to what course of action he would take; that was under the consideration of his counsel. He had no unkind feeling toward any one. The government had his baggage and were welcome to what it contained. They could not find a word that would implicate any one. He thought Tilden had acted harshly toward him, but he had nothing to say in retaliation and would not say it if he had. The Tribune's account of Weed's interview with Tweed says Tweed, while a prisoner on Blackwell's Island, was anxious to restore the city all his property, but his counsel objected.

Preparing to Begin the Work of the New Session. WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The majority of the House Committee on Appropriations are now here. Randall arrives from New Orleans to-morrow, when the committee will commence business. The estimates of the Treasury Department are not yet fully completed.

Reorganization of the Army. Gen. Manning, Chairman of the Commission to reorganize the army has arrived. A different spirit prevails from that of last year, and even the Democrats are not disposed to further cripple the army, but to make it more efficient.

Movement of Troops. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Battery M Third United States Artillery, numbering 20 men, which has been on duty in camp within the Exposition grounds since May 28, was ordered to Fort Mifflin, and will leave to-morrow morning.

State of the Washington Library. At the sale of the Washington Library to-day, the proceeds of the entire collection sold, including General Washington's own library, formerly owned by other members of the family, and a few books sold on other accounts was about $5,000.

The Historian of the Centennial. Prior to the adjournment of the Centennial, Commissioners Mr. J. A. Johnson of California, was appointed by that body as historian of the National, State and other collective exhibits at the Centennial, and directed to make final report in writing to Gen. Walker Chief of the Bureau of Awards. Mr. Johnson states that the report will make a volume of 300 pages of the size and style of the official reports of the Commission.

Election of Mayor in Providence. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 28.—Mayor Doyle, Republican, was re-elected to-day. He carried every ward in the city.

FOREIGN. Russian Troops Arriving at Belgrade. LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Belgrade says a crisis seems approaching in Eastern affairs. Russians are coming in large numbers via Gadowa, and a heavy detachment of Cossacks are en route to Belgrade. Its commander says it is the advance guard of 30,000 men, destined for Serbia. All barracks in Belgrade have been evacuated and repaired. The Serbian Troops will be quartered in private houses. It is reported a distinguished Russian civilian will accompany Gen. Semperoff, Tolstoy's successor, to Belgrade, and will reside there during the campaign, and have charge of all-civil administration.

The News correspondent seems to correct the resignation of Serbian ministers with the foregoing statement, also says Serbia will be the extreme right wing of the Russian line of operations. Serbians will be sent to Bosnia under their own officers. Rumanian pontoons are all on the Danube ready for use. I have official information that Moslems in Bosnia have raised $300,000 for defense. We shall support any proposal that offer a guarantee of orderly government of the insurgent provinces without involving repatriation of the international frontiers. If our labors are fruitless we shall throw ourselves on the side of either contestant, but shall watch what the future may bring forth.

England will not Occupy Constantinople. LIVERPOOL, Nov. 21.—The Post's London special contradicts, on the authority of the British office, the recent statement that in case Russia should invade Turkey a British army corps would occupy Constantinople and defend it.

Equipping Armies in Russia. BERLIN, Nov. 21.—Letters received here report that the Russian army of the Pruth has been furnished with clothing suitable for a winter campaign. Commander-in-chief's staff, commissariat, engineering, artillery, and other staffs of the army have been formed.

Hamburg, Nov. 24.—It is stated that Russia has contracted with a German firm for the construction of 3,000 torpedoes.

Disastrous Inundation. NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The steamer from Aspinwall arrived to-night. Continued rains served to overflow the railroad track for miles. The pannels along the line from Yutan to Metchin were inundated and the inhabitants forced to leave their dwellings. The last train to cross was on the 10th inst., and soon after telegraphic communication was broken, and not resumed for several days, though communication between Panama and Aspinwall had not been restored when the steamer sailed on the 17th. The inhabitants of Gatun had taken refuge in the church. The waters had risen in the houses more than five feet. Disastrous results of the freshet were feared at Buena Vista, which could not be reached.

An official letter has been directed to Secretary Callahan, minister at Washington, to dispatch him to communicate with the President of the Panama Transit and Pacific Mail Steamship Co., requesting him to arrange that all steamers between San Francisco and Panama shall touch at the port of La Liberia, on both up and down trips.

Subscriptions in aid of the sufferers by the flood in Nicaragua had been opened in Salvador, and substantial assistance had been promised to them.

Nicaragua addresses state that the storm has not been so destructive as the official reports.

exists, and efforts are making to alleviate the condition of those whom the flood left homeless. The cocoa interest appears to have suffered most heavily.

The Main Issue. LONDON, Nov. 23.—A Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphs that the real difference in the conference will be on the question of occupation. Every proposal tending toward compromise or delay on that point is readily taken, hence it has been proposed that an European Commission be formed to accept of reforms, also that commission have power to move for armed occupation. The success of this project depends on its acceptance by Russia, hopes of which are becoming fainter daily, so the question comes to the foreground, what will the Powers do if Russia declines such commission, insists on occupation and carries it into effect. The attitude of the Porte, according to news from Constantinople, is not reassuring. The Porte still takes up the position on the 9th article of the treaty of Paris, which provides that the Powers shall not interfere in the internal affairs of the Turkish Empire.

A Vienna dispatch to the Daily News says Polish papers report Russia proposes that Serbia shall conclude with her a military convention, such as existed between Bavaria and the North German Confederation during the Franco-Prussian war.

More Atrocities to be Investigated. LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Times' Constantinople special states that a new commission is soon to start for Philadelphia to inquire into atrocities. The previous commission convicted no Mussulmans, but demanded that sentence of death be passed upon 42 Bulgarians charged with complicity with the insurgents.

Turkey Protested. Turkey has formally protested against the line of demarcation fixed by the international commission between the Turkish and Montenegrin forces, and complications are feared in connection with revictualing places by the Montenegrins, the regulation of which was left for settlement by subsequent agreement.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The British foreign office publishes a dispatch from Sir Henry Elliot, ambassador at Constantinople, strongly denying the statement made by a correspondent of the Times that he had advised the Porte to hold itself in readiness to stand upon its rights and make demonstrations of force.

PACIFIC COAST. Come Over to the Majority. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Rev. H. Vall was found dead in his bed in the rear of No. 3 Hardie place about 11 o'clock last evening. He was formerly a Presbyterian clergyman in Humboldt county. Of late years he took to drink and became confirmed so. Death ensued from the effects of a fall down stairs while in a state of intoxication.

Postal Commission. The Postal commission returned from the trip on the Northern Pacific R. R. this evening after an enjoyable excursion.

Members' Meeting. VIRGINIA CITY, Nov. 23.—A prize fight between Dublin Pete and Jack Askwa was fought about five miles out on the road to the steambath, and resulted in a victory for Pete in 32 rounds. His antagonist was badly punished. The fight lasted 50 minutes, and was witnessed by about 500 persons.

Suicide of an orphanage.—Frenzied Letter to the Coroner. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Yesterday evening a fine appearing gentleman, about 45 years of age, took a room at the coroner's house. This afternoon he was discovered in bed dying, and expired in a few moments afterwards. Letters were found in the bureau to two parties in this city and one to his brother in Portland, Oregon, also the following:

B. R. SWAN, M. D., Coroner.—DEAR SIR: In order to save you as much trouble as possible, I beg to inform you that this is a case of laudanum, taken with suicidal intent. Reasons concern me no one but myself; still if any one should insist upon having a reason, you can say I was driven to desperation by the Presidential muddle, and seeing no prospect of a certain in this world who was to be the next President went to the next world, where all things are supposed to be known. Please prevent the erection of a monument over my remains, but if you should find a widespread feeling on the part of the people to mark my last resting place, you might let Mr. Young speak to Mr. Crocker and have it fenced in. Respectfully, etc., W. W. MANCROFT.

The last clause in the letter refers to the recent embargo between Chas. Crocker and Mr. Young, of the undertaking firm of Massey & Young, whose house was included by Crocker in a high board fence, because the proprietor refused to sell to Crocker, whose lot adjoined. A letter from his brother in Portland, found in the room, rendered it evident the suicide was prompted by strained circumstances. Other documents showed he was admitted to the Oregon bar in 1867, was clerk of the United States district court at Vancouver in 1862, had been in the tobacco business on Front street. Two empty bottles, which had contained laudanum, were found in the room. The body was removed to the morgue.

Terrible Contest with an Insane Man. ASTORIA, Nov. 25.—The Rev. Mr. at this evening contains the following: A man named James Cuckton, who arrived in this city from San Francisco day before yesterday, went to the gentleman mill early this forenoon, and after surveying the premises for a while, took up a stick belonging to the Mill, and commenced to strike the mill.

A man who had been watching him inquired what he wanted with the ax, when Cuckton answered that he wanted it for the purpose of killing a man who was hunting for him, and before the interrogator could catch up Cuckton had disappeared. It seems that he was laboring under temporary insanity, and stopping in front of Mr. Dunham's residence he deliberately opened the front door which had been left unlocked, entered the parlor and advanced to the bed room where Mr. and Mrs. Dunham and children were sleeping. Fortunately, the bed room was locked, and while he was trying to force his way, Mr. Dunham awoke and asked, "who's there?" The intruder answered, "me; let me in." Before Mr. Dunham could get to the door, the man became impatient and began to bang at the door with the ax and soon broke through. A terrible scuffle ensued between the men, and finally Dunham succeeded in getting the ax from Cuckton, at the same time asking his wife to go for help. Gentlemen soon came to the rescue and Cuckton was forced out of the house, and escorted as far as the Reville office, when the crazy man broke loose and ran as far as the International Hotel. Arriving there he rushed behind the bar and asked Mr. Crescenzo to loan him a pistol as there was a man who wanted to kill him. Marshal Brennan with the help of Mr. Crescenzo and others, overpowered and arrested the insane man, and he is now locked in jail.

The Nevada Prize Fight. VIRGINIA CITY, Nov. 27.—Sports assert that if the authorities take proceedings against the principals in the late prize fight, they will swear out warrants against all the spectators to the number of nearly 500. The survey shows the ring to have been within the county. Four battles have been fought on the same ground.

Suicide. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—About 8 o'clock yesterday evening a young man named L. M. Strickland, guest of the United States Hotel, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had arrived on the overland train at 2:30 p. m., from the north. To an inquiry regarding his previous whereabouts, addressed to him by one of the proprietors of the hotel, he replied that he had been in San Fernando mountains some time, but had suffered so much with fever that he could not remain there. Deceased was about 24 years of age and apparently in well-to-do circumstances. He left a note requesting the coroner to communicate by telegraph with his father at Ottawa, Ill.
