There are many who have never known the biossing of strong nerves, having been born with weak once. Those who have, and through disease or some other cause, have suffered a loss of nerve power, can, by contrast, more fully appreciate the magnitude of that loss. The true way to repair it is to invigorate the system through the medium of improved diges-tion, secretiser, and the establishment of a rega for habit of body, three results invariably ac-complianed by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the thorough conversion of the food into pure, nourisbing blood, from which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gather vigor, the which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gather vigor, the grand prerequisite of health. The great objec-tion to sedatives and narcotics is that they not only exert no tonic influence, but are always fol-owed by a hurtful reaction. Such a far from eing the case with the Bitters, the primary ction of which is most salutary, and whose fter effects are benchcial in the extreme.

He came home one night with a torn cost, which she kindly undertook to mend; but when she turned it upside down, so that a letter and a "Domostic Fasilion" of a new overskirt, which she had given him to mail to ber mother some wo weeks before, tumbled out of one of the bekets, it was so lively there for the next ten minutes that his first move in the morning was to the direction of a wir store to the proprietor in the direction of a wig store, to the proprietor of which he gravely explained that close applica-tion to the study of the Foreign Policy of the Khediva of Egypt had done it.
