NEW ORLEANS, June 16.—Senator Conkling to-day sailed for Europe in the steamship Messel. A company of distinguished Republicans accompanied the Senator down the bay.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Jones is a convert to Gen. Butler's idea, and is now as strongly in favor of paper money as he was three years ago in favor of gold and silver exclusively, when he influenced Grant to stand by the hard money doctrine.

The commission appointed to investigate the subject having reported that at least $8,000,000 of fractional currency is destroyed it is believed that the Attorney General will decide that this amount of silver can be put out to take its place.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Times' Washington special says the public debt statement for June will show a large reduction in outstanding fractional currency, for the reason that the Treasury Department is now paying the cost of transportation incurred in forwarding fractional currency to the Treasury and the shipment of silver coin in exchange.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Townsend, Tweed's counsel, notifies the World newspaper that Tweed's confession will be furnished the press next Tuesday.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Times' special from Washington says: It is a fact that Hayes and Sherman differ upon the silver question. Sherman is endeavoring to bring Hayes to his views, but without success.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Sun's Washington special says Foster is Hayes' real candidate for Speaker, and he will be pushed for that position.

FOREIGN.

Paris, June 16.—In the Senate to-day Duc De Broglie, president of the Council, presented a message from President MacMahon asking the dissolution of the Chamber.

LONDON, June 17.—Special dispatches from Paris agree that Saturday's sitting of the chamber of deputies was one of the most violent ever witnessed.

The following is the text of MacMahon's message to the Senate:

Clause 5 of the constitution invests the President of the Republic with the right of dissolving the Chamber of Deputies, with the concurrence of the Senate.

LONDON, June 17.—As regards the European seat of war the principal point worthy of remark has been the extraordinary stringency of the precautions taken by the Russians to prevent anything transpiring relative to their operations.

THE SUN SAYS: Fifteen months ago Corolly, who is in Switzerland, made a proposition to pay half a million to the city and return unannounced.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 13.—Seventeen-year locusts are here in abundance. They keep up a disagreeable humdrum noise, but farmers do not think they will be dangerous in destroying the crops.

The Herald's Salt Lake special says Mormonism is so shaken in its very bones by the power given to Howard's elbow at Washington, and by the partial intimations of evidence in his possession in regard to the priesthood, that the latter is kept very busy at the Lion house.

WEST POINT, June 14.—Nearly 5,000 people witnessed the closing exercises of the graduating class to-day.

A dispatch from Lieutenant General Mehemet Ali announces the defeat of Montenegro at Atchina.

INDIAN WAR!

Nez Percés Murdering Settlers at Mount Idaho.

Fort Lapwai Without a Garrison.

Troops to be Taken from Walla Walla.

Latest from the Seat of War.

SIX SOLDIERS KILLED!

YOUNG JOSEPH AND A SQUAW AMONG THE SLAIN.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BEE)

The following dispatch was received by Capt. Ainsworth this morning:

WALLA WALLA, June 16.

Indians murdering settlers near Mt. Idaho. Steamer necessary to convey troops from Wallula to Lewiston, to save lives.

CAPT. WILKINSON.

WALLA WALLA, June 16.—1 P. M.

To THE BEE:—The following are the particulars, as far as known, in regard to the breaking out of the Indians:

A messenger arrived at Fort Lapwai yesterday bringing the news that Ben Norton, who lives on Cottonwood creek, on this end of Camas prairie, had been killed by the Indians, and his wife had her legs broken; but didn't say how.

Capt. Wilkinson started for Walla Walla immediately on receipt of the news for more troops, arriving this morning at 9:30.

PORTLAND, Monday, 5 P. M. The Walla Walla operator reported last night, that the overland stage from Lewiston which arrived at Walla Walla, brought the news that the soldiers from Lapwai and the Indians had a fight about thirteen miles from Cottonwood.

ED. STATESMAN:—We very seldom have any stirring news to record from this favored spot on the Pacific, but such as I have, as per agreement, will gladly give:

Hon. Wm. H. Dunn, some years ago Representative from this county, died very suddenly on the 12th, of heart disease.

The Tribune's London special says a correspondent in Constantinople writes that it is by no means certain that treachery has not much to do with the bad performance of the Turkish army in Asia, and those who have been at Erzerum and Ardahan can only account for the insufficient fortification of these places by the theory that coveted Russian gold is at work.

efficient to start grading on, and the first ground, at his end, was broken at Rocky Bar, a short distance below Elk City, on Tuesday last, and as soon as the company can procure tools, which I understand will be next week, will set a large force to work.

There is considerable good land to be taken up yet, in different parts back from the Bay, all the land on the water front is taken. Should the Siletz Reservation be thrown open to settlers next winter, which is possible, there will be room for hundreds of families and they will be fortunate indeed who secure a location in that favored spot.

The schooner Caroline Nedra, sailed from San Francisco for this port on the 11th inst.

The oyster business is lively as the "Medea" is expected to take out a load. Those luxuriant bivalves sell for $1 per basket, and if Pete Emerson would come over here and bring his restaurant along no doubt he would get rich in a short time.

Whoever originated the idea of creating branch agencies of insurance companies in important localities, deserve high rank as a financier.

The "branch" plan removes this objection and tends to increase the profits of stock holders. The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, which has just started a "branch" here, will invest the moneys here received, so that the capital so accumulated may confer its indirect benefits upon the whole city.

IDEA OF DEATH.—That death and sleep are very much alike, the sages tell us; but see how attractively Leigh Hunt describes the latter: "It is a delicious moment, certainly, that of being nestled in bed, and feeling that you shall drop gently to sleep. The good is to come—not past; the limbs have been just tired enough to render the remaining in one position delightful; the labor of the day is done. A gentle failure of the perceptions comes creeping over one; the spirit of consciousness disengages itself more and more, and hushing degrees, like a mother detaching her hand from that of her sleeping child; the mind seems to have a balmy lid closing over it, like the eye, 'tis closing, 'tis closing—'tis closed. The mysterious spirit has gone to take its airy rounds."

PROPER SYSTEM OF READING.—A proper and judicious system of reading is of the highest importance. Two things are necessary in pursuing the mental labors of others; namely, not to read too much, and pay great attention to the nature of what you do read. Many persons peruse books for the express and avowed purpose of consuming time; and this class of readers forms by far the majority of what are termed the reading public; others, again, read with the laudable anxiety of being made wiser; and when this object is not attained, the disappointment may generally be attributed, either to the habit of reading too much, or paying insufficient attention to what falls under their notice.—Blakey.

INSENSIBLE RICHES.—Every woman has a right to be any age she pleases, for if she were to state her real age no one would believe her. Every woman who makes puddings has a perfect right to believe that she can make a better pudding than any other in the world. Every man who carves, has a decided right to think of himself, by putting a few of the best bits aside. Every woman has a right to think her child the prettiest baby in the world, and it would be the greatest folly to deny her this right, for she would be sure to take it. Every young lady has a right to faint when she pleases, if her lover is by her side to catch her.
