The Weekly Gazette.

About an hour before daylight [illegible] Friday the 20th—we saw a [illegible] light near to us. We all three of us exerted ourselves to the utmost of our strength, hailing her, which was [illegible] ted. In about a quarter of an hour the light disappeared to the east of us. Soon after daylight a lark hove in sight to the northward, the log having [illegible] a little [illegible] that only [illegible] for us to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
