slander. A whisper woke the air-A soft light tone and low. Yet harbed with shame and wee: Now might it only perish there! Nor farther go.

Ah me ! a quick and eager car Caught up the little meaning sound ! Another voice has breathed it clear, And so it wanders round, From ear to lip-from lip to ear-Until it reached a gentle heart, And that-it broke.

It was the only heart it found. The only heart 'twas meant to find, When first its accents woke ; It reached the tender heart at last, And that-it broke.

Low as it seemed to other cars, It came-a thunder crash to hers-That fragile girl so fair and gay-That guileless girl so pure and true!

Tis said a lovely humming hird That in a fragrant lily lay, And dreamed the summer morn away, Was killed by but a gun's report. Some idle boy had fired in sport ! The very sound-a death blow came!

And thus her happy heart that beat With love and hope, so fast and sweet, (Shrined in its hily too ; For who the maid that knew, But owned the delicate flower like grace Of her young form and face?) When first that word Her light heart heard. It fluttered like the frightened bird, Then shut its wings and sighed, And with a silent shudder-died ! Francis Orgood.

Good WIVES .- That young lady will continues at her task until the work is finished.

When you hear a young lady say, "I shall attend church, and wear my old bonnet and everyday gown, for I fear we shall have a rain storm,' depend upon it, she will make a good wife.

When a daughter remarks, 'I would not

When you overhear a young woman saying to her father, 'don't purchase a very expensive or showy dress for me, but one that will wear best,' you may always bo certain that she will make a good wife.

When you see a female anxious to learn a trade, so as to earn something to support herself, and perhaps aged parents, you may be sure she will make one of the best of wives.

The best qualities to look after in a wife, are industry, humanity, neatness, gentle-ness; benevolence and piety.

ELOQUENT EXTRACT .-- The sea is the CHEERFULNESS and a festival spirit fills the soul full of harmony-it composes mu-sic for churches and hearts-it makes and sleep without a monument. All graveyards largest of cemeteries, and its slumberers publishes glorifications to God-it produces in other lands show symbols of distinction thankfulness and serves the end of charity ; between the great and the small, the rich and, when the oil of gladness runs over, it and the poor; but in that ocean cemetery makes bright and tall emissions of light the king and the clown, the prince and the and holy fires, reaching up to a cloud, and peasant, are all alike distinguished. The making joy round about; and, therefore, since it is so innocent, and may be so pious by minstrelsy of the ocean is sung to their and full of holy advantage, whatsoever can honor. Over their remains the storm beats, innocently minister to this holy joy does set and the same sun shines on all, and there, forward the work of religion and charity. And, indeed, charity itself, which is the verticle top of all religion, is nothing else but a union of joys concentrated in the heart, and reflected from all the angels of our life and intercourse. It is a rejoicing in God, a gladness in our neighbor's good, a pleasure in doing good, a rejoicing in Him; and without love we cannot have

A CURIOUS FACT .--- Cholera, in its repeated returns, almost invariably revisits the same countries, districts of countries, portion being the briefest possible intimation that of cities and towns, and even particular hou-ses and rooms where it had been before. The first cases that occured in the town of ; (meaning sec-my-coal on.) Leith, Scotland in 1848, was in the same to which the response was : house and within a few feet of the spot from whence the epidemic of 1832 commenced its course. On its re-appearance in the town of Pollakshaws, it snatched its first victim from the first room in which it broke out in 1832. At Oxford, in 1849 as in 1852, the first case occur At Oxford, in 1849 as in 1852 the first case occur red in the county jail. At Gottengen, Hollad the discase attacked the better part of the city only in two houses, and the epidemic broke out in these two identical houses, in the visitation of 1847. Such observations have led medical observers to predict with certainty, the very spot in which cases of cholera would occur. The seats of cholera are the well known haunts of epidemics and pestilential disease, as typhus, scarlet fever, measles, hooping cough, and remittent fever.
