

The Madras Pioneer.

Entered as second class matter August 29, 1904, at the Postoffice at Madras, Ore., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

New goods at Hahn's.
Go with the crowd and stop at the Madras hotel.
If you want barbed wire see Louche Bros., Madras.

Max Putz, of Mitchell, was a business visitor to Madras last week.

S. P. Conroy, one of the leading merchants of The Dalles, was in Madras on business matters last week.

E. L. Curle, who has a homestead on Agency Plains, was a recent visitor at The Pioneer office.

J. D. Mayes is making some agricultural improvements on his farm near town.

Francis G. Carney is building a large barn on his homestead in Tp. 10 S., R. 13 E.

Ed Campbell, a prosperous farmer of the West End, has commenced putting in his fall grain.

When in Prineville don't forget that yourself and family can get the very best of everything at the Prineville hotel.

George Hurt is building a substantial addition to his residence, also a barn and other outbuildings, on his claim northwest of town.

Don P. Rea has been assisting A. E. Hammond in securing right of way deeds for the proposed automobile line during the last week.

J. I. Chilente, of Agency Plains, left some very fine specimens of corn and potatoes at The Pioneer office last Saturday.

Messrs. William Brownhill and W. C. Latham have just finished hauling the lumber for the new blacksmith shop to be built by Frank J. Brooks.

Don't buy your fall or winter supplies without getting our prices. We are prepared to make special figures on large orders for farmers and stockmen. J. F. Morris, Prineville, Ore.

The Lone Pine Trading Co. will pay 90c for wheat and 80c per bushel for oats, half cash and half merchandise. For further particulars call or write to the above at Prineville, Ore.

Why pay excessive prices for windows, doors, shingles or builders' materials when you can buy them at right prices of J. F. Morris, Prineville, Ore.

Fred VanNorden, of The Dalles, Ore., is fully prepared to make your clock or watch as good as new. His work is fully guaranteed. Give him a trial. Mail orders promptly attended to.

FOR SALE—Golden chaff and little club wheat at 75c per bushel; winter oats at 50c. Parties wishing seed grain should call before Nov. 1st, as I will start for the East shortly after. Isaac Berter.

W. C. Parker is justly proud of his crop of corn, raised on the north end of the Big Plain, a sample left at this office measuring over 9 feet in height, with a number of very fine ears of well matured corn.

J. D. and George Mayes, John Palmehn, C. F. De Lano, Rev. C. A. Sias, L. A. Young, Timothy Brownhill and others in this neighborhood were business visitors at the county seat the fore part of this week.

Rev. W. E. Fulgham, who has been on an extended business trip to Sherman county, has returned to his pastoral duties here and is now at home to his friends on his claim in North Agency Plains.

Edward H. Dean, an old employee of the Baldwin Sheep and Land Co., and who has a homestead near their place, was in town a few days ago making arrangements to offer final proof before U. S. Commissioner Don F. Rea.

All parties indebted to me are hereby notified that all accounts not settled before November 15th will be put into the hands of a lawyer for collection. I need my money and think I have waited long enough. L. M. Hahn.

When looking for a reliable and comfortable back or buggy don't overlook the stock carried by J. F. Morris, of Prineville, Ore. They are manufactured by the Deere people and are built especially for the western trade.

Now is the time to buy that 40 or 80 acre tract of vacant land joining you. Let us figure on it. We can give you immediate possession and a clear title by placing restricted forest reserve scrip, which we are prepared to sell, for spot cash, at prices that defy competition. For further particulars call on or write to Timothy Brownhill, Madras, Ore., and your inquiry will receive prompt attention.

Another and very substantial improvement for Madras, and one that is of great importance to the numerous water haulers, is the new gasoline engine and water tank ordered by John Palmehn. This will form the starter of a complete water works for the city, which will doubtless be installed in the near future. Water rates will be advanced to $1 per month, payable in advance, on and after Nov. 1, 1904.

Did you see Malloy's ad. Better look.

C. N. Banta and wife, of Haystack, were substantial callers this week.

Sankey Harsh, of Hood River, is visiting his uncle, J. C. Storer.

Malloy pays best price for your butter and eggs.

J. P. Sumner, of Culver, was a business visitor last week.

New, bright, clean rooms at the Madras.

A. E. Hammond left for a business trip to Alaska last Monday. He expects to be absent two or three weeks.

L. L. Hill left for The Dalles this week. He expects to return as soon as possible and make his future home near Madras.

Now is the time to put in your fall grain. The weather is good and grain is growing as fast as it can at this time of the year.

When looking for a hotel the first thing you think of is modern equipments, etc. You will find all these at the Prineville hotel, Prineville, Ore.

We shall feel much obliged to the par y or parties who helped themselves to a pair of stretchers the other night if they will return them at their earliest convenience as we need them in our business.

Frank J. Brooks met with what might have proved to be a serious accident a few days ago. While shoeing one of Don Rea's driving horses the animal objected to Frank's manipulation of his foot and proceeded to take it away from him in such a way as to leave the impression that he didn't like that way of doing things, and Frank is now using a crutch.

SUDDEN DEATH.

I. E. Church, commonly called Ed, was found dead on the road near Ed Kutcher's residence last Thursday morning about 10:30 o'clock by J. T. Rice and W. H. Hull. An inquest was held at Davis' hall, in this city, by Frank J. Brooks, Justice of the Peace and ex-officio Coroner, from which we gathered the following information: That I. E. Church had been feeling badly for some time prior to his death; he had also been drinking heavily for some weeks; Wednesday he was in this city on business and left about the middle of the day for his home on the Harry Donthit place; Thursday morning about 10 o'clock W. H. Hull and J. T. Rice drove up to the Ed Kutcher place, where Phillip Hastie and Wesley Hake were working on a new house for Kutcher; soon after their arrival Ed Church, accompanied by his dog, came walking up, and he complained bitterly of being near dead with a pain in his side and breast; said he wanted a drink; after getting which he started for home, making the remark as he was leaving that he was afraid to go for fear he might have a spasm while there and frighten the lady who was putting up fruit for him at the ranch; about 15 minutes after this Messrs. Rice and Hull, who had been in the pasture near Kutcher's, passed down the road, and when about 200 rods from Kutcher's place, Church's dog jumped out of the sage brush and ran toward the wagon; about the same time they discovered Church lying on his back, dead. They immediately went for help, securing Mr. Hake and Mr. Hastie to watch the body until the proper authorities could be notified. Failing to get the Coroner at Prineville they came over for Frank J. Brooks, Justice of the Peace, who brought the body into town and held an inquest over it the next morning. Mr. Church evidently dropped dead, no sign of a struggle appearing where he was found.

Dr. W. H. Snook made an examination of the body before the jury and stated that the cause of death was heart failure, superinduced by excessive drinking.

Mr. Church had been engaged in the butcher business for some time and was well known in the community. He was a jovial, good natured, kind hearted man, generous to a fault, ever mindful of his duty to his fellow men and in many ways had endeared himself to many friends.

The funeral service was held at Davis' hall and was conducted by Rev. W. E. Fulgham, who preached a very appropriate sermon from Psalm 73: "Mark the perfect man, behold the upright for the end of that man is peace."

His remains were interred in the Madras Cemetery.

Mr. Church leaves two brothers, two sisters and a nephew, John F. Church, Jr., who is here, to mourn his loss.

WARM SPRING NOTES.

Frank Queshama was before the Indian court last Monday charged with having too many wives. The court gave him 60 days in the kookum house in which to meditate on the error of his ways.

Rev. J. O. Ashenbarger, of Simnasho, was in town the last of the week. Studying the Warm Spring language, he is obliged to get a Wasco Indian to teach him, as all the Warm Spring interpreters are on a strike.

The employees are all wearing a broad smile this week. Pay day, the first in over three months. The delay was due to a hitch in the renewal of Superintendent Kirk's bond.

Person Mitchell was seen on the streets the other day with a wagon load of watermelons, which he was taking to Kishwaka to treat the thrashing crew with. Who wouldn't be a thrasher hand?

Ryerson bought his melons from Bama Sidewalker, who had in about two acres this year, and from which he harvested several loads of as fine melons as you ever set eyes on, and all without irrigation. He has a sample in the Agency office which weighs 26 pounds.

Miss Jessie Powell, who has been entering for the Employees' club, left for Simnasho Monday. She will spend the winter in Hood River, Ore.

James Hayes is making preparations to improve the hot springs on his allotment. He has the lumber cut for a two story hotel, and during the week brought the doors and windows from The Dalles. He expects to have it up for next summer's business. Ego.

IS IT TRUE

That Madras is to have two flouring mills? Judging from an article in the Crook County Journal, which the editors of that sheet vouch for, it is. We must confess it is news to us. We had learned that some steps had been taken by a company just organized to put in a 25 barrel mill, as soon as arrangements could be completed, but the arrangements are not yet complete, and The Pioneer does not care to mislead its readers by saying that the flouring mill is an assured fact until we know, personally, that it is. We do not know that the Wasco Warehouse Milling Co. has ever thought of Madras as a favorable location for a 100 barrel mill to be erected here by them, and neither do any of our citizens. The column article on the first page of the Journal was evidently premature and misleading.

BASEBALL.

The Haystack-Madras baseball team is forming in line to once more meet the Prineville aggregation at Prineville's October 3rd. This will undoubtedly be the fight of the season and we need all the support the good people of Haystack and Madras can render unto us. All the players are kindly requested to appear at the Madras baseball grounds on October 25, that the line-up may be obtained. When once organized I am sure we will all join hands and stand and play in union until we convince Prineville that Haystack is loyal to the red and the black. F. Rodman, Manager.
