

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

New goods at Hahn's. Go with the crowd and stop at the Madras hotel.

Peter Kilberg, of Agency Plains, was a business visitor last week.

If you want barbed wire see Loucks Bros., Madras.

FOR SALE—400 bushels large potatoes at 50c per sack. Andrew Larsen, Agency Plains.

Malloy pays best price for your butter and eggs.

Formaldehyde, the new disinfectant, a sure preventative of smut in grain. Now on sale at the Madras Drug Store.

When in Prineville don't forget that yourself and family can get the very best of everything at the Polidexter hotel.

John Thomas, an old Civil War veteran, was looking after pension matters a few days ago while in this city.

Dr. L. D. Idleman, dentist, of Moro, Ore., will be in Madras ready to do any and all kinds of dental and bridge work on or about December 1, 1904.

When looking for a hotel the first thing you think of is modern equipments, etc. You will find all these at the Polidexter hotel, Prineville, Ore.

Frank Fisch, of Culver, was a pleasant visitor last week. Frank was suffering from a severe strain received through lifting too hard on a wagon rack.

Don't buy your fall or winter supplies without getting our prices. We are prepared to make special figures on large orders for farmers and stockmen. J. F. Morris, Prineville, Ore.

The Lone Pine Trading Co. will pay 80c for wheat and 90c per bushel for oats, half cash and half merchandise. For further particulars call or write to the ad at Prineville, Ore.

Abner Ward and James Carpenter, of Centerville, Wash., are here looking for locations. They are well pleased with the appearance of things in and around Madras.

Why pay excessive prices for windows, doors, shingles or builders' materials when you can buy them at right prices of J. F. Morris, Prineville, Ore.

Fred VanNorden, of The Dalles, Ore., is fully prepared to make your clock or watch as good as new. His work is fully guaranteed. Give him a trial. Mail orders promptly attended to.

William Steluke, formerly of Portland, is now on his homestead one-half mile south of town and is building a house and making other improvements before his family comes up this fall.

Miss Elizabeth Fisch, of The Dalles, has taken up a homestead near Culver close to her brother, Frank, and is now building a neat little house. She expects to spend the fall and perhaps the winter on her claim.

John F. Church, Jr., had a surprise last week when his two brothers, Harry and Ben, of Port Angeles, Wash., dropped in on him. They were accompanied by Mr. Kirkpatrick, who has a homestead near Hay Creek.

When looking for a reliable and comfortable hack or buggy don't overlook the stock carried by J. F. Morris, of Prineville, Ore. They are manufactured by the Deere people and are built especially for the western trade.

J. G. Fisch, of The Dalles, came very near meeting with a serious accident while en route from The Dalles to this city. The wagon bounced off a large rock in the road, throwing Mr. Fisch and his daughter out, hurting Mr. Fisch in the back and lungs badly.

Now is the time to plant fruit and shade trees. The Dalles Nurseries (see ad in another column) handle nothing but home grown trees, which are fully guaranteed to be as represented. Get their prices before buying elsewhere. By leaving your orders at The Pioneer office they will receive prompt attention. Call and get a price list.

H. H. and Byron Meeker, of The Dalles, who were here looking for claims a few days ago, had a runaway on their way home. The team ran down the Deschutes grade, smashing the wagon into kindling wood and bruising H. H. Meeker pretty badly. They came back to Madras, patched up the best they could and left for The Dalles the fore part of the week. They expect to return in a few days, bringing their families with them, and will hereafter make their home near Madras. The Meekers are good citizens and we shall be glad to welcome them to our city.

Last Saturday A. L. Goodwillie, W. E. Guerin, Jr., and H. C. Ellis, of Bend, visited the Madras country looking over the prospects for a telephone line. They consider the proposition a good one, and if the people in this vicinity will only come to the front and center with plenty of encouragement we will have the phones in short order. These gentlemen will give us long distance connections with San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and many other points and will give us a rattling good local service. So everybody step up and help a good thing along.

Mrs. H. C. Jacobs was a visitor the fore part of the week.

W. S. Williams left for Shaniko the fore part of the week.

Take your produce to Malloy's Pioneer Cash Store.

A two-story hotel is soon to be built at the hot springs on the Warm Spring Reservation.

W. D. McGee, of Salem, representing the Salem Nurseries, is in this city looking up business for his firm.

Master Mechanic Geo. W. Richardson and son, Vance, are laying the foundation for the new blacksmith and wagon shop of Frank L. Brooks.

W. D. McNemar has just finished a neat little cottage south of the Isham residence. He expects to locate on a homestead near here as soon as possible.

J. H. Jackson arrived last week with his family from The Dalles. He is looking badly, being a sufferer from stomach troubles. We hope he will soon be better.

W. Arney, of North Agency Plains, is making preparations to do some solid work on his farm this winter. Mr. Arney is a rustler and if anybody makes it he will.

N. H. Pinkerton has sold his home to his sister-in-law Miss Emma Rose, and is now busily engaged moving it on to Miss Rose's claim one-half mile distant from the Pinkerton homestead.

Harry Douthitt will be in Madras every Tuesday with beef, which can be bought at Loucks' store between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. of that day. Your patronage is earnestly solicited.

J. W. Jackson & Co. have the lumber on the ground with which to build a butcher shop and green grocery store. This is an enterprise much needed and will doubtless receive a liberal patronage from our people.

James Magness, who has just disposed of his holdings near Clifton Falls, is now located in Madras, where he expects to go into business in the near future. Mr. Magness sat down in a hurry the other day and in consequence then of is now using a cane.

Road Supervisor Ed Campbell has commenced work with a large crew of men on the new road north of town. He has a modern road scraper of large dimensions and is making the grade as fast as men and teams can do the work. This is something badly needed and when finished will be a valuable help in building up the town.

John Palmehn has ordered a 5,000 gallon red wood tank, which, together with the 1 1/2 horse power gasoline engine and necessary pump, hose and connections, will make one of the most complete water systems in Eastern Oregon. All the heavy water hauler will have to do now is to drive under, pull the string and see his barrel fill. He will have the privilege of doing all this for a reasonable price, which will be announced later.

Owing to an unfortunate and unforeseen series of misunderstandings the good Republicans in this vicinity did not understand that W. E. Guerin, Jr., of Bend, was to speak here on the issues of the day last Saturday. Mr. Guerin was a member of the Ohio State Legislature previous to his residence here and had the honor to make the speech nominating Senator Rosker at his last election. We also missed a good speech, but we are assured that Mr. Guerin will visit us again this fall and give us a lecture on some topic of vital interest to our people.

The First Baptist Church of Madras, Oregon, was organized last Sunday morning, October 30, with a membership of twelve persons and one candidate for baptism. The new church starts out with very bright prospects for the future, it having been decided to erect a modern church building to cost not less than $1,500; have called Rev. C. W. Triplett, of Prineville, to preach one sermon on every third Sunday and two on every fifth Sunday in each month. An effort will also be made to build a parsonage in the near future and if possible to secure a minister to be located in Madras. A goodly sum of money has already been subscribed in addition to the necessary lots needed for the buildings mentioned.

An informal meeting was held at Madras on last Saturday, October 29, at which were present A. L. Goodwillie, W. E. Guerin, Jr., H. C. Ellis, all of Bend, and D. P. Reg, of Madras, respectively alumni of Williams College, Cornell College, University of Michigan and Stanford University. It was decided to send invitations to all the college men in Central Oregon to be present at a University Club dinner at Bend on Thanksgiving day. All the university men who are not on the above committee's list are requested to take notice and notify W. E. Guerin, Jr., at Bend, that they will be on the spot at the proper time in force, with their college stories and songs to be fully prepared for one of the old times. The committee made a rough draft of the college men in Central Oregon, i. e., from Shaniko as far south as Bend, and counted up about twenty-five college men, representing about eighteen universities and colleges and about the same number of college fraternities.

WARM SPRING NOTES.

Miss Helen Anderson, of Carson, Wash., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Friend.

Miss Ella Montgomery, who has been visiting in Portland, returned the first of the week.

S. P. Conroy, of the new Madras mill, was canvassing the reservation during the week, in the interest of the mill. The Indians are very much pleased at the prospect.

John T. Disney, blacksmith, is nursing a sprained arm, caused by some heavy work in the shop. He is likely to be off duty for some time.

Isaac J. Powell, the Simenasho farmer, is at the agency saw mill, with a crew of men, getting out logs and sawing lumber for the new barn which has been allowed. The Department is fortunate in having a saw mill man on its force of employes.

Policeman Leonard has been doing a good job having his prisoner grub the sage brush from the new barn site. Frank worked nicely at the sage brush, but stuck when it came to moving the rocks. It was too hard work for one in whose veins flows the blood of former chiefs. He preferred solitary confinement with a bread and water diet. Ego.

Did you see Malloy's ad. Better look.

J. L. Drummond and G. L. Harpham, of Wasilla, were here a few days ago looking for a business location. Mr. Harpham secured an option on some lots and if possible will go into business in Madras before the first of the year.

New, bright, clean rooms at the Madras.

The lumber is on the ground for Bye & McFaggart's new building, which they expect to build as soon as possible.

FOUND—On Agency Plains, a gray coat. Owner can have same by calling at The Pioneer office and paying for this ad.

G. L. Paxton, formerly of Oregon City, was a business visitor last week. Mr. Paxton expects to make his future home on his claim near this city.
