

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

New goods at Hahn's.
 Salted salmon at Malloy's.
 Fred Dalles arrived out from Shaniko Sunday.
 If you want barbed wire see Loucks Bros., Madras.
 Dr. Brock has erected a barn on his Madras lot.
 John Palmbebb attended church last Sunday.
 A large stock of fresh drugs at the Pioneer Cash Store.
 Rye for sale at G. W. Klidder's, Haystack, Ore.
 Miss Marie Galloway has taken a position as clerk at Hahn's store.
 Get Malloy's prices on heating and cook stoves before purchasing elsewhere.
 FOR SALE—400 bushels large potatoes at 50c per sack. Andrew Larsen, Agency Plains.
 Formaldehyde, the new disinfectant, a sure preventative of smut in grain. Now on sale at the Madras Drug Store.
 When in Prineville don't forget that yourself and family can get the very best of everything at the Poindexter hotel.
 John W. Jackson & Co. have erected a new butcher shop and are prepared to dish out bunch-grass beef in quantities to suit.
 S. P. Conroy, the mill man, has filed on a homestead near here, which should convince some of our people that he will remain among us.
 Jens Kaas has returned from Collins Springs, where he put in the summer and is now fixing up his ranch preparatory to the arrival of a new cook.
 Dr. L. D. Idleman, dentist, of Moro, Ore., will be in Madras ready to do any and all kinds of dental and bridge work on or about December 1, 1904.
 When looking for a hotel the first thing you think of is modern equipments, etc. You will find all these at the Poindexter hotel, Prineville, Ore.
 N. H. Pinkerton, assisted by R. T. Jones, Kyle Loucks and sixteen head of horses, moved a dwelling house about three-quarters of a mile on the Plains last Saturday.
 The building of Byc & McTaggart is fast assuming the proportions of a store and we will soon be able to purchase our ribbons and bacon and underwear and horseshoes there also.
 Don't buy your fall or winter supplies without getting our prices. We are prepared to make special figures on large orders for farmers and stockmen.
 J. F. Morris, Prineville, Ore.
 The Lone Pine Trading Co. will pay 40c for wheat and 60c per bushel for oats, half cash and half merchandise. For further particulars call or write to the above at Prineville, Ore.
 Fred VanNorden, of The Dalles, Ore., is fully prepared to make your clock or watch as good as new. His work is fully guaranteed. Give him a trial. Mail orders promptly attended to.
 Louis Volzath, of this place, while hauling grain for El Campbell to O'Neil's store at Forest, had a runaway near Laponta postoffice, in which one of Mr. Campbell's horses was severely injured.
 Tice Loucks left Thursday morning for Prineville, where he took the finishing steps toward obtaining a six months' license for disposing of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in quantities less than one gallon.
 When looking for a reliable and comfortable hack or buggy don't overlook the stock carried by J. F. Morris, of Prineville, Ore. They are manufactured by the Deere people and are built specially for the western trade.
 A panel door was stolen from Mrs. E. E. McClure's house a few miles north of here. The person who took this door is known, and if it is returned within ten days no questions will be asked.
 Harry Douthitt will be in Madras every Tuesday with beef, which can be bought at Loucks' store between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. of that day. Your patronage is earnestly solicited.
 Fred Stollker didn't like the appearance of the Cline Falls country, and came back here, where he found a fine homestead waiting for some able-bodied man. Mr. Stollker decided that he was the man, and on Thursday morning he moved his effects thereon and took final possession.
 H. D. Turvey, president, and J. O. Johnston, vice president and general manager of the Deschutes Irrigation and Power Co., at Bend, passed Sunday night in Madras. These gentlemen have just come out from Columbus, Ohio, on an inspection tour of their irrigation works in the desert.
 Last Friday morning the roof of the new Pioneer building caught fire from a defective flue. There was a great deal of excitement for a time. Everybody rushed to the scene with buckets, and Mr. Peter Vibbert, who had just filled a load of barrels with water, kindly drove up to the building, a bucket brigade was organized and the fire was quickly subdued.

Soda water 1 cent a glass at the Pioneer Cash Store.
 Julius A. Larsen, who has a claim on Agency Plains, arrived in Madras a few days ago and is well pleased with the progress of the place.
 Mrs. E. L. Bradford, of Prineville, and Mrs. J. A. McDowell, of Haystack, were looking at our new town last Thursday morning. Mrs. Bradford purchased a couple of lots in Madras and will soon commence building on them.
 T. J. Malloy has rented the house and buildings where he has been living to J. L. Drummond, of Wapinitia, Ore. Mr. Drummond will take possession about the 15th of this month and will operate an up-to-date feed stable. Mr. Malloy is contemplating the erection of a large and substantial store building. He finds himself somewhat crowded in his present quarters.

AGENCY PLAINS ITEMS.

Wheat sowing is progressing nicely. Several parties on the Plains were hauling grain to Prineville last week.
 W. C. Parker's commodious residence is nearing completion, and is quite an improvement for this part of the Plains.
 A good many horses on the Plains are afflicted with some disease like pink eye.
 Alf Parkey has recently moved his dwelling to another part of his homestead and made other substantial improvements thereon. We presume he must have a very dry ranch, judging from the frequent trips he makes to Madras for water. Perhaps there is some female attraction.
 S. P. Conroy was on this part of the Plain Saturday taking pledges from our farmers to donate stipulated amounts of wheat to the new roller mill to be erected at Madras. He informed us that he was having good success and that the mill was a success.
 John Gari has his imposing residence almost completed, which adds much to the home-like appearance of this part of the Plain.
 T. M. Burden is having good success disposing of his seed wheat to parties on the Plain.
 Fred Hutchinson and David Burden came in from Washington a few days since and report that they did not make their fortune in that state pressing hay this summer.
 D. Roberts, of Prineville, is canvassing the Plains this week in the interest of the Oregon Nursery Company of Salem. He exhibits a fine display of fruit on paper and is making many sales.
 What has become of Tecumseh, Jr.? I fear the old man knocked him out of line.
 David Burden is quite sick with something like typhoid fever. Dr. T. A. Long is attending him.
 Grandpa Ramsey had the misfortune to loose his house and contents by fire early Saturday morning and was himself severely burned about the head and hands. A fine hammerless shotgun, a fine watch, a good feather bed, his clothing and many other minor articles were consumed by the fire. His son, W. H., will rebuild and refurbish his house in the near future.
 Maude.

MUD SPRINGS DOINGS.

Hurrah for the Madras Flouring Mill. This is just what we need. The farmers here are very enthusiastic over its coming and express themselves as willing to help it along financially.
 Our school opened about a month ago with Mrs. Ralph Brown installed as teacher. There is now in attendance about 20 pupils. Mrs. Brown's work among the little ones is very much appreciated.
 L. A. Young has in a field of sun-fallow wheat that looks exceedingly well. We have seen nothing better in this or any other country.
 R. Parrish has plowed and seeded 160 acres of grain on his place east of the Young store.
 Miss Mary Booth has just finished putting in a large field of grain.
 Edward Deah is through putting in his fall grain and is now taking life a little easier.
 A postoffice and a telephone line is what we need and must soon have.
 Ed Kutcher is wearing a 24x smile now. His sister, Mrs. Brown, has arrived from California and is now installed in Ed's new house, making the kind of apple pie that his mother used to make. All the old batchelors in the country will be paying Ed a visit if they ever get a taste of that pie.
 J. P. Vanhouten, U. S. Cowles and J. A. Allen were called together a few days ago to appraise the estate of John Hastings, deceased. The estate is valued at about $8,000, and comprises 500 acres of deeded land, a few horses and some personal effects. Ed Kutcher was appointed administrator of the estate.
 The B. S. & L. Co. are now at home in their new store, which is being filled to overflowing with new goods of every kind and description.
 Traveler.

A fresh invoice of Chocolats, Bon Bons, Klondyke Nuggets and other candies at Malloy's.
 Ed Kutcher was a business visitor a short time ago. Mr. Kutcher has the distinction of being the oldest Mason in this part of the country. He is very anxious to have a lodge established here.
 Mrs. G. W. Klidder, of Haystack, was a business visitor last week. G. W. and herself have spent a very pleasant and profitable time visiting their old home near Oregon City, from where they have just returned.
 Rev. C. A. Sias will meet his regular appointment at the school house in Madras next Sunday, November 13th. Morning subject: "The Gospel." Evening: "The Drama of Human Life."

The election passed off quietly in this (Kutcher) precinct, with the following result: Roosevelt, 85; Parker, 24; Debs, 6; Swallow, 8; Watson, 2.
 A runaway accident occurred seven miles southeast of town Tuesday morning in which James Arkens was seriously injured. He was brought to Madras and given medical attention and will probably recover.
 Messrs. Morrow & Keenan have had a force of men, under their personal supervision, leveling the Auto grade through their big pasture. They are sowing the strip to rye, and as an order enjoining them from any interference with the Autoway was obtained last week, there is very apt to be things doing on Willow Creek soon.
