DON'T STOP MY PAPER.

Don't stop my paper, printer; don't strike my name off yet,
 You know the times are hard, and dollars hard to get;
 But try a little harder, is what I mean to do, And scrape the dimes together—enough for me and you.
 I can't afford to drop it, and I find it doesn't pay
 To do without a paper, however others may;
 I hate to ask the neighbors to give me theirs on loan,
 They don't just say, but mean it, why don't you have your own?
 You can't tell how we miss it, if it by any fate Should happen not to reach us, or come a little late;
 Then all is in a hubbub and things go all awry,
 And, printer, if you're married, you'll know the reason why.
 The children want those stories, and husband's anxious, too,
 At first to glance it over, and then to read it through;
 I read the editorials, the locals I peruse, And read the correspondence and every bit of news.

LIFE IS WHAT WE MAKE IT.

The tissue of the life to be We weave with colors all our own,
 And in the field of destiny We reap as we have sown. —Whittier.
 Men at some times are masters of their fates;
 The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, But in ourselves, that we are underlings. —Shakespeare.

"There is dew in one flower and not in another," said Beecher, "because one opens its cups and takes it in, while the other closes itself and the drop runs off."

Are you dissatisfied with today's success? It is the harvest from yesterday's sowing. Do you dream of a golden morrow? You will reap what you are sowing today. We get out of life just what we put into it. The world has for us just what we have for it. It is a mirror which reflects the faces we make. If we smile and are glad, it reflects a cheerful, sunny face.
 If we are sour, irritable, mean and contemptible, it still shows us a true copy of ourselves. The world is a whispering gallery which returns the echo of our voices. What we say of others is said of us. We shall find nothing in the world which we do not first find in ourselves.—Marden.

Beecher truly said that "From the same materials one builds palaces and another hovels; one rears a stately edifice, while his brother, vacillating and incompetent, lives forever amid ruins."

How true is all this? The man or woman who would succeed in life must trample under foot all obstacles, must "find a way or make one," must be patient, kind and true; ever mindful of others as well as self; upright and honorable in all things, saying and believing as Paul believed and acted, "not slothful in business; fervent in spirit, serving the Lord; rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer; distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality. Bless them which persecute you, bless and curse not. Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep."

This perhaps is hard to do. It, however, is an ideal worth striving for and one which all would do well to keep in mind. Nevertheless it is an easy matter for us to say a kind word, to assist a discouraged or weary brother along life's way and perhaps to do as James Whitcomb Riley suggests in his famous poem:

SEAR HIM ON THE BACK.
 If you should meet a fellow-man with trouble's flag unfurled,
 An' lookin' like he didn't have a friend in all the world,
 Go up and slap him on the back, and holler "How d' you do?"
 An' grasp his hand so warm he'll know he has a friend in you.
 Then ask what's hurtin' him, an' laugh his cares away, An' tell him that the darkest night is just before the day, Don't talk in graveyard palaver, but say it right out loud,
 That God will sprinkle sunshine in the trail of every cloud.
 This world at best is but a hash of pleasure and of pain;
 Some days are bright and sunny, and some are slashed with rain.
 An' that's just how it ought to be, for when the clouds roll by We'll know just how to 'precelate the bright and smilin' sky.
 Some learn to take it as it comes, and don't sweat at the pores Because the Lord's opinion doesn't coincide with yours;
 But always keep rememberin', when cares your path onshroud, That God has lots of sunshine to spill behind the clouds.

Now is the time to plant fruit and shade trees. The Dalles Nurseries (see ad in another column) handle nothing but home grown trees, which are fully guaranteed to be as represented. Get their prices before buying elsewhere. By leaving your orders at The Pioneer office they will receive prompt attention. Call and get a price list.

LOCAL NEWS.

Oscar Cox, of Lamonta, was a visitor to our city last week.

Miles Fox, wife and three children are all sick in bed with a gripple.

Relinquishments bought and sold by Riley Girthoffer, Shaniko, Oregon.

J. T. McHargue was in the city last week making arrangements to offer proof on his homestead near town.

Mrs. C. C. Fox is having a very serious time of it. She has been sick for some weeks past and is not any better yet.

Carpenters started to work Monday morning on the new butcher shop for Williams & Roush. Fred Gutendorf is superintending the work.

Mart Pratt, Agency Plain's popular football champion, arrived home last week from Oregon's metropolis. Mart has been lionized both by the press and public, but, we are glad to say, it has not spoiled him in the least.

It is now decided for sure that a new saw mill will be built on the east side of Des Chutes river at or near the landing of the old ferry, opposite the Warm Spring Agency. One million feet of logs have been contracted for and sawing will commence on or about the 1st of June. Messrs. Derham and Cowles are the promoters.

Anyone wishing to secure a choice selection of garden seeds, specially adapted to this climate, accompanied by suitable premiums when purchases amount to $1 or over, may secure same by applying to H. H. Curtis, on the "Little Plain." Mr. Curtis has sample orders already made out which can be seen at The Pioneer office.

Alex. Holbrook, who has a homestead six miles southwest of town, was a business visitor Monday. He says that he has plowed 40 acres of sod between times this winter. This work was done with three horses, which have been fed rye hay and whole-boiled wheat. The horses are fat and ready to plow a good deal more when the time comes.

CULVER HAPPENINGS.

The snow is slowly disappearing just like the one before.

We heard the question, "Am I my brother's keeper," ably discussed from an affirmative standpoint at Red Rock school house Saturday evening.

The rabbit hunters of this section are at work again this winter. A hunt was given last Monday and about 400 of the little pests were killed.

Issac Smith was seen on the streets of Culver with his family sleigh. Now that is pretty good for a bachelor to have such a sleigh as that. Lots of them can't afford any at all.

The younger children of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Malloy, who have been so ill for some weeks past, are now on the fair way to recovery again. In the constant strain of caring for her little ones Mrs. Malloy has become somewhat run down, but she too is commencing to feel better now.

Frank Osborn is preparing to move onto his ranch near Madras. He will then engage in clearing up land and putting in a crop. He wants to put in half of his ranch this season. The school is progressing nicely with Miss Lillie Read as teacher. She has been taking pictures of the pupils snow-balling. We haven't seen any of them yet but we know they will be gone, for the way they were snow-balling wasn't slow. Ralph Armstrong had both ears and eyes full but he couldn't stop while the picture was being taken.

A dance was given at Al Henneman's residence near Methodist Hill Tuesday evening which was a grand success in every respect. The house was crowded.
 There was hardly room enough to turn around without dancing. The party was given as a greeting to Mr. Henne-mann and bride. The Culver boys report a good time in general.

For all this weather is rather disagreeable now it ought to please the farmers of this section as it assures good crops for the coming year. Some say that it isn't the snows that make the crops but the spring rains. We differ with them, perhaps not all together, but the two together would be better.

Most all the Culver people who have sleighs have been taking advantage of the good sleighing we have been having lately. Walter McCain, of Lamont, has been giving exhibitions almost every day. We heard today that Kate Fendall and Lula Osborn got a good rolling in the snow Sunday, Walter's team getting the best of him and running away. No harm was done as near as we could find out. It must have been quite a scene. How funny it would have been to have been there with a good kodac and taken a few snapshots? Culver Sport.
