MY MOTHER'S PICTURE.

How many times, as through the room I hasten, Without a thought of other days at all, I put my eyes, and straightway I am standing Before her picture, hanging on the wall.

Almost it seems her pleasant voice is calling,
 And I am fain to answer, "Yes, I hear."
 All earthly sounds shall be to me as silence If you will speak, O mother, mother dear!

No answer comes; I hush my breath to listen, But still the eyes, with patient, steadfast gaze, Look into mine—they pierce through flesh and spirit:
 I bow my head and blush beneath their rays.

For she is wise, with wisdom that spalls me,
 The solemn secret of the grave she knows;
 And high o'er me, by God's own hand uplifted, Through wondrous ways of His great heaven she goes.

Beyond all change, and safe from time's mutation,
 And grieved no more by earth's forlorn complaints, Thou pictured (aeth'ral) semblance of my mother, How dost thou look among the crowned saints?

So fast so fast! Once, if I faintly called you, Or laughed, or wept, you were so quick to know:
 All else might fall, my mother's love was certain:
 Now gone'st e'en your touch I must forego!

Thou there! I here! And I know not what spaces Beyond the grave's green width divide us two,
 Nor of the times, uncounted and unmeasured, That must go o'er me ere I look on you.

But I shall find you: I am coming, mother!
 Sometime, somewhere, when His great will is done,
 And I am fit to stand once more beside you:
 To your high place I shall have leave to come.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

The great menace to American institutions today is the lack of enforcement of law. The majority of men are law-breakers, some perhaps unintentionally, others intentionally. Our statutes are full of laws that might just as well never have been enacted for all the good they do. This is especially so in numerous cases that are plain to be seen in almost every hamlet or city of the state of Oregon. Why is this? It is because public sentiment is not strong enough to force our officers to action. Law is based upon justice, and justice can not be rendered except where our officers see fit to insist upon justice. The country needs, and should demand, men for office who will be guided in their action—as they are sworn to do—only by the laws of the city, county or state that they have been elected to office in.

If the laws are too harsh or are unjust then let them be repealed. But the law should be enforced and if our officers fail to do this their bonds should be forfeited and others appointed or elected who will see that the law is enforced. Our citizens have been altogether too lax in this regard.
 By another election we hope to see a needed reform along this line, and public sentiment so strong that it will demand officers whose sole object is to do their duty as outlined by the statutes.

A PAYING CROP.

J. W. Gaunt, a Yamhill county farmer, recently sold 27,600 pounds of onions at $2.10 per hundred. This crop grew on less than two acres of land.—Pacific Homestead.

J. H. Horney, one of Culver's prominent farmers, was a business visitor the fore part of the week.

Charles Spring, of Culver, is employed on the hotel building of Archie Mason, now in course of construction in this city. He will take a part in the drama to be given at Culver on March 3d.

J. O. Rose, who has a homestead on the Little Plains, arrived here last Saturday. He will commence work on his place immediately and confidently expects to have in a large crop before spring is over.

A. W. Culp and J. Gerro, of Culver, were in the city the fore part of the week arranging for the advertising of the drama "Under the Laurels," which will be given at Culver school house Friday night, March 3.

Don't forget to attend the drama to be given by the Opal Prairie Dramatic Club at the Culver school house a week from Friday night for the benefit of the Opal Prairie school. This is in behalf of a worthy cause and should be well patronized.

R. H. Barnett, of Haystack, was in town last Friday and while here paid this office a pleasant visit. He is one of the earliest settlers of the Haystack country and has always taken a great interest in its development. Mr.
 Barnett believes in progress, and with this end in view has always kept the best of stock on his farm. A short time ago he killed two hogs aged 20 months which weighed 336 and 288 lbs. net. This is certainly a good showing and one worthy of emulation.

LOCAL NEWS.

John Sumner was a recent visitor to Madras.

U. S. Cowles made a flying trip to Fossil recently on business.

Mrs. J. T. Rice is reported sick at her home near Young's store.

Relinquishments bought and sold by Riley Girihoffer, Shaniko, Oregon.

Ed Kutcher, Hay Creek's most popular bachelor, was in town last Saturday.

Daniel Hastings, brother of John Hastings, deceased, was a business visitor a few days ago.

J. C. Rich, who has a homestead south of this city, was a business visitor last Saturday.

Edward Dean, of Hay Creek, is busy hauling and cutting wood and in other ways preparing for spring work.

The Valentine ball given last Friday night by McTaggart & Bye of this city was voted a success by those who were present.

Dave Travis has the necessary lumber on the ground with which to erect a house and barn on his homestead near Madras.

C. N. Banta was a visitor to our berg last week. He is an enterprising fellow intent on earning a competency for use in his old age.

Wills & Hamilton are again working on their building on Sixth street, and from present appearances will soon have it ready for occupancy.

John Palmeh's gasoline engine is very much in evidence nowadays, pumping water for the numerous settlers who haul water from John's well.

A. B. Phillips has had a force of men at work for several days past grubbing sage brush on the northeast part of his land, preparatory to planting same to wheat.

The frame is up for three new hotel being built by Archie Mason. No pains will be spared to make this the best known hostelry in Eastern Oregon.

Albert Thayer, who has been assisting J. T. Rice to cut wood, is now domiciled on his homestead in the Young district, where he is preparing to put in a spring crop.

The Armour Beef Trust has been declared illegal by a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. This will be good news to many families the world over.

P. L. Huffman, of Haystack, who has been on an extended visit to friends and relatives near and in Portland, returned last week, in order to commence aggressive work on his homestead south of town.

Bert Loomis, who has a homestead in Section 23, Tp. 9 S., R. 13 E., was in town the latter part of last week.
 He has entirely recovered from his recent sickness and is now working on his farm preparatory to putting in a crop in the spring.

Don P. Rea, U. S. Commissioner, who has been on an extended visit to relatives and friends in Portland, arrived home last Thursday night. Don says: "Before leaving Portland I had a ride on the passen' or auto intended for this route, and it is all its builder claims for it."

What is the matter with the contractors who agreed to build the bridge across Willow Creek adjoining this city by the 1st of January. The non-performance of this contract is causing a good deal of complaint among some of our citizens. The bridge should be built at once.

A large number of our citizens were the recipients of various kinds of valentines on February 14 illustrating life in all its joys and sorrows. Some were quite true in character while others were very much exaggerated.
 From some, however, we could all take a lesson.

William Ellis, of the Little Plains, was a visitor last week. He says that he is kept busy these days hauling and preparing wood for spring and summer use. He has at out fifty acres plowed and ready for seeding. As soon as the weather permits he expects to continue plowing and will put in at least eighty acres this spring.

We have a number of correspondents who we should be glad to hear from.
 Mandy, for instance, is one of our best.
 We miss her articles very much. What is the matter, Mandy? Let us hear from you. Sunflower must have frozen up. However, we are having some sunshiney days now and we hope she will soon thaw out and attain her usual brightness. There are also others who we hope will sympathize with ye poor editor in these quiet days and come to his assistance with a good list of happenings from their respective localities.
