ONLY A WORD.
Only a word of counsel Given in early youth, May prove a shield from danger And lead in paths of truth.
Only a word of comfort Spoken in kindly tone, May cast a ray of sunshine In some grief-stricken home.
A gentle word of greeting To the outcast, sad and lone, May turn the way-worn traveler Toward loving friends and home.
Only a word in season,
As we travel on through life, Brings many unlooked-for blessings In a world of toil and strife.
—Anna M. Higgins.

HORSE TALK.
Now is the time to train the colts.
There is no more delicate thing in the world than a horse's mouth. How few ever stop to give it a thought.
In training the colt work on the delicacy of the mouth and do not try to harden it.
Unless a man has a good, firm, light hand he can never make a good driver.
A colt should be so trained that it will respond to every vibration of the rein, and he will if his mouth is not spoiled by ignorant handling.
From the time the colt is born he should be handled and gentled and taught that he receives nothing but kindness and favors from his master.
He should be taught, also, that when he is near a person he must not indulge in play, but allow himself to be petted and handled in any way. This rule should be enforced.
If raised in this way he is ready to be hitched up and driven when he is old enough.
A loud-voiced, brutal-tempered man should never be allowed in the same barn with a colt. He will take money right out of your pocket.
The real secret of horse-breaking is intelligent kindness.
Badly ventilated stables are a frequent cause of disease. Look out!
It is better to keep a horse warm with blankets than to shut out all pure air in order to keep the stable warm.
Horses that have been worked or driven in cold rains should not be left to dry without a vigorous rubbing.
They should then be protected by a light blanket.
Any farmer can afford to give his horses common-sense care, and this will often save the life of a valuable or useful animal.—Farm Journal.

GOSSIP.
Among the most despicable of the world's inhabitants is the one who liberately starts a falsehood about another, and one almost as bad is the one who aids and abets this by spreading the statement as true without waiting to investigate and find out the truth concerning it.
No person is exempt. The names of our women, our men and our children are all subjects of these worse than snakes in the grass, who delight in giving it as their opinion that John Doe was drunk because of the fact that something happened to him, or that this girl or woman is no good because of some peculiarity of character or disposition that she cannot help, or that Jim Jones, who is progressing in this world's goods, is not making it honestly. These scums of the earth have no use for honesty or anything pertaining to it. No person is good or can be so unless they think and do precisely as these malicious backbiters would have them to do. These parasites of the human family are everywhere. You will find them in the church, lodges and society in general.
The world has always been troubled with them and we presume it always will, but it is annoying to have to be pestered with such an affliction and no adequate way to be rid of it except it be by silent contempt.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE LEAVE THE EAST.
This evening's trains will leave Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and St. Paul carrying colonists to the Pacific Northwest on the cheap rates that went into effect today.
These rates are: From Missouri river points, $25; from St. Louis and the Mississippi river, $30; from Chicago territory, $33. The rates will continue in effect two and a half months, or 15 days longer than has been the custom in western immigration movements.
A large number of people who expect to come here to stay will take advantage of these rates. The vanguard of the movement will arrive in Portland next Saturday. It will be a week or more before railroad officials will be able to make any estimate of the probable volume of travel.—Portland Journal, March 8.

LOCAL NEWS.
S. P. Conroy made a flying trip to Shaniko recently.
W. S. Williams made a trip to Shaniko last week.
The new butcher shop in this city is rapidly nearing completion.
Mrs. Mary Ann O'Hara has filed on a homestead south of this city.
Relinquishments bought and sold by Riley Girthoffer, Shaniko, Oregon.
The new hotel building of Archie Mason is fast approaching completion.
James Melton was sowing oats for C. C. Fox on his homestead last week.
The Hotel Poindexter of Prineville is the place to go for home-like comforts at popular prices.
G. R. Graham, who has a homestead west of town, was a pleasant visitor last Saturday.
John Harit and family, of Spokane, Wash., have moved onto their homestead west of town.
Mr. Bethune and family, of Boyd, Ore., have arrived and are now located on their homestead east of town.
The tent city in the north-end of town still holds its own. As fast as one moves out another comes in.
Ernest Doty and B. C. Dove are plowing lots of sod this spring and from present prospects will have in a large crop.
Walter Williams is running a two 12-inch gang plow and four horses on his farm on Agency Plains. He says it does fine.
Grandpa Whitener, who has been sick so long, is not any better. A trained nurse has been secured to wait upon him.
H. H. Curtis, with the assistance of Mr. Truax, is running two 3 horseplows and will soon have his spring work done.
The buildings at the Lewis and Clarke Fair are rapidly nearing completion. The fair is to be second to none for its size.
Mrs. R. Baird and son, Bruce, of the Big Plain, were pleasant visitors to the Brownhill home last Saturday.
Mr. Baird is at his mine in the Green horn district.
Jake Peterson was assisting Billy Brownhill to haul seed grain and feed to his ranch last week. Jake claims not to be married, but intimates that it is not his fault.
Louis Larsen, of the North End, was a pleasant visitor last Saturday. He says that he has 88 acres plowed and will commence seeding soon. He is running two teams.
Jerry Creamer and George Stevens have bought the Robert Rea lots opposite Hahn's store, on Fifth street.
Consideration, $500. They will build as soon as the necessary material can be got on the ground.
James Rice, who took a contract for plowing on the Timothy Brownhill farm north of town, has made a trade with Archie Mason whereby Mr.
Mason does the plowing and Rice builds fence around the Mason homestead in the Young district.
Miss Dottie Hefty, proprietor, published and editor of the Gardiner Gazette, a splay 6-column paper published at Gardiner, Oregon, is causing more than usual interest in her paper just now by printing the third page upside down.
C. C. Fox, of the Big Plain, is now able to be around, but looks very thin and not at all like his usual appearance. Mrs. Fox is also better but suffers a good deal from chills, etc.
She says the neighbors are very kind and they have had plenty of help through their long seige of sickness.
The steamship Oregon, en route from San Francisco to Portland, with 56 passengers and a load of general merchandise, caught fire when opposite Crescent City last week and was compelled to transfer the passengers to the steamer Del Norte, which answered the Oregon's call of distress. The Oregon was run into Eureka, Cal., and beached upon the mud flats, where the flames were soon subdued.
Our informant appears to have been wrong when he said that Eastwood & Dee and Sam Compton had received notice from the Interior department that final proofs on their timber claims had been held up, etc. As is shown by a letter received from Eastwood & Dee, all the notice received by them was the same as is sent to all applicants, and their patents will doubtless come in good time. In the meantime Eastwood & Dee will continue to turnish their patrons with all the lumber they want, and we presume Mr.
Compton will do likewise as soon as he can rebuild.
