

HAPPENINGS AT MADRAS

A Chronicle of Improvements--The Moving Throng--Business and Social Events--Items Condensed.

On Friday, June 23, 1905, the school at Red Rock, taught by L. A. Hunt, will close and an entertainment and box social will be had in the evening. A good time, a good laugh, and the chance of a good supper assured to all who come early. The leading question of the evening will be, "How can everyone promote the success of the evening's fun?" Ladies answer: By bringing a large basket well filled with cake and pickles. Gentlemen's answer:—Well, they all know anyhow.

Annual School Meeting.

There is a call for the annual school meeting next Monday when a director will be elected for one year and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

It is pertinent to mention at this time that Madras is in the need of a larger school house. The room was to small last year, and it is probable that two teachers will be needed this year to accommodate the increased number of school children.

The need of more room is so self evident that it scarcely admits of negative discussion. The patrons of this school district should all attend the meeting and see that matter attended to rightly.

Interesting Ball Game.

A very evenly contested game of baseball was played here Sunday afternoon between the Madras team and a nine from Culver. Culver shut out the Madras nine in the 1st, 3d and 9th innings, and Culver was only goose egged in 6th chapter, but by lucky batting the Madras boys won the game. Peter Kalama umpired. Summary:

GAME BY INNINGS

Culver 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9-15
Madras 0 1 0 0 1 1 1 2 0-16

A game has been made with Prineville for next Sunday afternoon at Madras diamond and the boys here will likely have a hard time gaining a victory. A dance is to be given on Saturday evening to help defray the expenses of the ball teams.
