The Curtis ranch consists of about 125 acres of cultivated land and 25 acres now used for pasture although it is also plough land. It is one of the best ranches on the Little Plain and Mr. Alexander has bought a nice piece of property.

Persons, Mr. Curtis has closed a deal for 320 acres of land in the famous Palouse country, near Colfax, Washington, and expects to move there with his family during the fall. The land he bought near Colfax was an improved farm for which he paid about $45 per acre. The community will regret to lose Mr. Curtis and his family, who have made many friends during their residence in this locality.
