

APPENINGS AT MADRAS

Chronicle of Improvements--The Moving Throng--Business and Social Events--Items Condensed.

Albert Yocum and J. H. Barber were in this city last Monday.

Max Luëddemann will be in Madras again to-morrow evening from a week's visit at The Dalles.

Go to the Grizzly L. Lumber Yard for your doors and windows at prices that make you smile.

Lyn Nichols and Leonard Douglas of Haycreek, with their wives, were visitors at the New Year's dance.

G. Springer of the Grizzly Lake Lumber Co., was in town on Monday attending to some sawmill business.

Fred Fisher and his brother, who has recently come out from Nova Scotia, were visitors from Fisherville last Monday.

If in need of a tombstone, write a postal card to the Watts Marble works of The Dalles and they will send you designs and prices on their first trip out this way.

You have only to stop at Hotel Pointexter to be convinced that it is the most popular hostelry in Prineville. Courteous treatment, good accommodations, and popular prices.

An entertainment will be given by the literary society for the benefit of the school district about January 23. An amusing and interesting programme is being prepared.

There will be a social dance in the New Malloy building on Friday night January 19. First-class supper will be served at Hahn's. Good music and a good time, and a good floor. Everybody invited.

Charles Wilson and wife went to Madras this week to reside. He and Frank Osborne will open a barber shop there. Crook County Journal. [Mr. Wilson arrived in town last Saturday and at once began work here. He is an expert with the razor and scissors.

Silver Lake Oregonian: Mike Sult is hauling a lot of lumber to be used in building watering troughs for his stock which he will take to Twin Lake flats for the winter. Many was the "horse laugh" at Mike's expense when a few years ago he bought and fenced a section of school land on the forbidding desert. Time has proved the wisdom of the investment. What was then a level tract of land as void of vegetation as a city thoroughfare is now a field of heavy, waving blue-joint, the premier of all our native grasses, and the faintest echo of a horse laugh isn't heard.

Several of the younger and older people of Madras met at the school house Monday evening and made the preliminary movements toward the organization of a Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor. The meeting was called to order by C. F. Delano, who stated the purpose of the gathering, and after remarks by others it was decided to call the organization the Y. P. S. C. E. The following officers were elected: President, C. F. Delano; vice-president, J. K. Craig; secretary, S. D. Percival; treasurer, Miss Ida Phillips; organist, Miss Maude Phillips, with assistant, Mrs. J. T. Smith. The first regular meeting of the society will be held on next Sunday evening at 6:30, with C. F. Delano as leader.
