Lincoln the Farmer.
The farmer soon reached a crisis which he and his partner out into the field again, where he undertook all the tough farm labor, from splitting rails to plowing. As a man-of-all-trades, however, Lincoln did not prove himself satisfactory to his employers. He was too fond of mounting stumps in the field and "practicing polemics" on the other farm hands, and there was something uncomfortable about a plow driver who read as he followed the team, whether how straight his furrows ran. His practices were irritating, if not contemptuous, and there is a well-known story about a farmer who found a "lizard man" lying in a field beside the road, dressed in his not too elaborate farm clothes, with a book under his arm and a pitchfork in his hand. "What are you reading?" inquired the farmer. "I'm reading," replied Lincoln, "my wonderful eyes on the pages of his book."

Past Resuscitation.
In the days of the first settlers in the Chickasaw country, when Davy Crockett still frequented the Big Hatchie, "Old Man Giddins" was a prosperous citizen of the Forked Deer settlement. One day he started on a trip to Arkansas, and thenceforth for several years Forked Deer knew him no more. As travel in Arkansas was dangerous, and as nothing was heard of Giddins, he was officially declared dead by the court, and his estate divided among his heirs. A year or so later, however, he turned up, and tried to get possession of his property again. He was promptly seized and taken into court. "What do you mean by coming round here, trying to take this property?" roared the court at him. "It's my property," asserted Giddins. "Everybody knows it's mine." "Not at all!" replied the judge. "I'll admit your case seems a hard one, but it can't be helped now. This court has decided that you are extinct and defunct, which is Latin for dead. This court cannot err. Dead you are. If you want any property round here you must take another name and set to work to earn it. Mr. Sheriff, adjourn this court, and we will all go and see that wrestling match you spoke of."

A Little More Credible.
A man who had been shooting on Cape Cod returned by train, and a stranger who was obliged to share his seat entered into conversation with him, and asked if he had had good sport. "Very good, indeed," replied the sportsman. "We got one hundred head to two guns." "You don't say so!" ejaculated the stranger, apparently lost in astonishment at the size of the bag. "Double-barreled guns, I suppose?" "Yes, Verily. To sit upon a jury. Most every man has fitness, but it takes a skillful lawyer to sit upon a witness."

RHEUMATISM

BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

Other bodily suffering is equal to that produced by the pain of Rheumatism. When the poisons and acids, which cause this disease, become imbedded in the blood there is hardly any part of the body that is not affected. The muscles become sore and drawn, the nerves twitch and sting, the joints inflame and swell, the bones ache, every movement is one of pain, and the entire body is racked with pain. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, stomach troubles, torpid Liver, weak Kidneys and a general derangement of the system. The refuse matter instead of passing off through nature's avenues is left to sour and form uric acid, and other acid poisons which are absorbed into the blood. Rheumatism does not affect the skin. In some cases it takes a chronic form; it may be in the hands, feet, hands, back or other parts of the body the next. Others are more seriously, and are never free from pain. The uric acid and other irritating substances find lodgment in the muscles and joints and these deposits increase the muscular stiffness and the joints become stiff and immovable. It matters not what form the disease may be in, it is always the same—a sour condition of the blood. This stream has lost its purity and poisons, and instead of nourishing and feeding the different parts of the body, it fills them with the acids and salts of this filthy and far-reaching disease. The cold and dampness of Winter always rubs the affected parts with liniments, oils, lotions, etc., or uses other and other home remedies. These are desirable because they give temporary ease and comfort but have no effect on the real trouble which is in the blood and beyond the reach of such treatment. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Rheumatism. It goes into the blood and attacks the disease at its head, and by neutralizing and driving out the acids and building up the thin, sour blood it cures the disease permanently. While cleansing the blood S. S. S. tones up the stomach, digestion and every other part of the system, soothes the nerves, reduces the inflammation, dissolves the deposits in the joints, and cures Rheumatism in any form; Muscular, Inflammatory, Articular, Sciatic. Special book on the disease and any medical advice, without charge, to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

"See here!" snapped the landlord, who had responded to the tenant's hurry call for a plumber, "I thought you said the water in your cellar was two feet deep. It's only a few inches." "Well, that's as deep as my two feet," retorted the tenant, "and that's too much."
"I don't see what a man wants with two wives!" snorted Mrs. Enpeck, as she threw down a paper containing an account of the Smoot case. "I don't either," said Mr. Enpeck fervently. It must have been the way he said it that made Mrs. Enpeck so mad.—Louisville Courier-Journal.
"There are great things in store for you," said the fortune-teller to the young man; "but there will be many obstacles to overcome. There is a woman continually crossing your path, a large woman with dark hair and eyes. She will dog your footsteps untiringly." "Yes—I know who that is." "Ah, you have seen her?" "Yes; she's my washwoman."—Milwaukee Sentinel.
It was the wedding day, and the unfortunate bridegroom was making his exit with the usual accompaniment of rice and old boots. He snatched his hat from a peg, seized an umbrella from the hall stand, and was going out of the door, when the bride's father called after him: "You've taken my umbrella, Henry. Bring it back at once. I've six daughters, but only one good umbrella."
"Doctor," said the patient, "I believe there's something wrong with my stomach." "Not a bit of it," replied the doctor. "God made your stomach, and He knows how to make stomachs. There's something wrong with the stuff you put into it, maybe, and with the way you stuff it in and stamp it down; but your stomach is all right." And immediately the patient discharged him.
Careful of Mother's Health.
"Harry, did you not hear your mother calling you?"
"Course I did."
"Then why don't you go to her?"
"She's nervous, if I should go too quick she'd drop dead," and Harry went on with his playing as if nothing disturbed his mind.—Albany, N. Y., Journal.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy. To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the ### General Inutility Boy.

Mr. Hobbs looked thoughtfully at his city guest and then looked out of the window. "When you ask me if it's true that Jim Manton is the most popular boy I've ever had to 'ten store and go round with the order wagon," he said, slowly, "why, I'm bound to tell you it's so. But when you go on to ask me how I think he'd suit down in Boston, I'm kind of dubious—that's what I am, kind of dubious. "You see, it's like this with my business. Order day is order day, and delivery day is delivery day, and whether it's summer, with thirty-two customers on the route, or winter, with well, with some less, all Jim's got to do those days is to get over the route by shutting-up time.

"And he's what you might call a handy boy, Jim is. Groceries and hardware aren't all he's got in his mind, and he's ready to take hold and help with what's going on wherever he goes. So—I feel—kind of dubious when I think of Boston. I don't know as you catch my meaning?" "M-m," said the city man. "I believe I do."

A Knotty Question.

Pokely—I saw a kid watching a ball game through a knothole to-day and—
Jokeley—Pardon me; that reminds me. When may a knothole be said to be not whole?
Pokely—What on earth are you talking about?
Jokeley—The answer is: "When only part of the knot is not."—Philadelphia Press.

Harsh Measures.

Oldpop—I want that man Stoplate to quit hanging around here. You send him away.
Daughter—But, papa, I can't get rid of him. I've given him all sorts of hints, and even treated him rudely, but it's no use.
Oldpop—Well, make it strong. The next time he comes, sing to him.—Cleveland Leader.

Secret Out.

Mr. Stubb—Marie, this paper says that in the wilds of Africa there is a mouse that jumps ten feet at each leap.
Mrs. Stubb—Gracious! Now, I know why so few of the explorers' wives accompany them.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Old Story in New Guise.

"There goes Blower in a swell new overcoat."
"Yes, the price came from gambling."
"You don't say. It is a wonder his wife didn't take the money away from him."
"She gave it to him. She won't playing 'bridge.'"

The Earth's Area.

One of the best authorities estimates the area of the earth's surface at 196,791,984 square miles, of which about 53,000,000 square miles is land, the rest water. Throughout most of this 50,000,000 square miles Pillsbury's Vitos has made its way because it's so good. It is the ideal breakfast food, and may be had at any up-to-date grocery.

In Self-Defense.

"Why in thunder did Eddie Ott's friends work so hard to get him elected to Congress?"
"They wanted to send him to some place where he could talk politics all he wished to, and they wouldn't have to listen to him."—Cleveland Leader.

The Carthage (Mo.) Press says that a Joplin boy asked his Sunday school teacher last Sunday if the James boys wrote the Book of James.
