OREGON STATE ITEMS OF INTEREST

ADD TO RESERVES,

Washington—The present year is likely to see several million acre added this time 6,072,550 acres have been brought within permanent forest reserves, and 6,908,336 acres additional dicate strong interest on the part of the have been temporarily withdrawn. Just what part of this latter area is to become permanent forest reserve and what part is to be turned back to the public domain has not been determined.

mountain reserve will be placed under project. the forest administratoin.

There has been an intimation that a proclamation will soon issue creating Rogue river forest reserve in Southwestern Oregon, for which 1,192,320 acres have been withdrawn. This proposed reserve takes in fully half of Curry and Josephine counties and small portions of Coos and Douglas. When originally mapped out, the Roxue river reserve was deemed impracticable, because the railroad land grant traverses the area. Now that the lieu land law is repealed and there is no danger of kane. lieu land frauds, this objection from the government standpoint seems to have been removed.

Various withdrawals of small areas in Marion, Linn, Lane and Douglas counties, aggregating 250,040 acres, have been made with a view to enlarging the Cascade reserve along Its west boundary. It is quite probable that these tracts will be permanent reserves. The same is true of the withdrawal of 12 000 acres in Clackamas county adjoining the Cascade reserve.

In Morrow and Grant counties a withdrawal has been made embracing 417,000 acres, which will eventually be made into the Heppner forest reserve unless present plans are abandoned.

It has not yet been determined what disposition shall be made of the Warner mountain withdrawal, which embraces 2,839,816 acres in Klamath, Lake and Crook counties. Much of this land, upon examination, has been found unfit for forest reserve purposes, and will probably be turned back to the public domain, but those portions which are valuable for timber or as protection to watersheds are likely to be permanently reserved at some future time. In addition to the foregoing, 1,280 acres in Jackson county have been withdrawn with a view to enlarging the Ashland reserve and 4.480 acres in Crook county withdrawn to enlarge Maury mountain

Although Umatilla is one of the minor national works in point of cost and acreage, its favorable climate, low altitude, fertile soil and adaptability to a wide variety of products makes this one of the most attractive projects undertaken. The land is suited for orchards and small fruits, and, when so used, from 10 to 20 acres are ample for the support of a family. The fruit and vegetables are the finest on the market. Transportation facilities are excellent, the markets being Portland and Spo-

The engineering works are simple, and, while the cost of the water is $60 per acre, it is relatively low, compared with the values produced. Soil experts who have thoroughly examined the whoie area are enthusiastic concerning the future of this section when watered and predict a populous and prosperous community here at no distant day.

Snow Is Heavy.

Burns - With 24 inches of snow in the Harney valley, and at places three feet of it, with the mountain roads almost impassable on account of the still heavier snowfall there, stockmen are anxious concerning the prospects of getting their stock through the winter. There is an abundance of hay in the county, but stock, and especially sheep, lose flesh after feeding any length of time on the wild product of the valley. In addition to this fact, there is the apprehension that a cold snap would probably have an injur-ous effect.

CAPTAIN LOSES CONTROL.

When Valencia Struck, There Was Mad Rush for Boats.

Seattle, Jan. 31 .- Little by little the testimony of survivors of the Pacific Coast company's steamer Valencia, be-fore Inspectors Whitney and Turner, is demonstrating that immediately after the boat struck there was a mad rush for the boats, in which the men jostled women aside and fought for places, and in which the crew either was powerless to prevent the overcrowding of the boats, or, losing coarage, joined the

There are conspicuous examples of seamen who did not attempt to save themselves, and there stands, out occasionally a man who advised caution, but among the majority of the crew there seems to have spread a panic as great as that felt by the passengers themselves. Inspectors Whitney and Turner - the former in particular show a sympathy for Captain Johnson that is evident in their examination of witnesses. Inspector Whitney today seemed eager to demonstrate that Captain Johnson intended to have held the life boats on the Valencia until the morning after she struck and then send off the passengers. He was just as anxious to bring out proof that the passengers led a rush toward the life boats, and were responsible for their overcrowding and loss.

Strongest of all the testimony that bears upon the crew's responsibility is that of Quartermaster Martin Tarpey, who testified late today that he had helped to lower life boat No. 1, whose fall collapsed and precipitated the passengers into the water. Tarpey says, too, that a watchman begged the men to stand back from the boats and give the women a chance.
