

HAPPENINGS AT MADRAS

A Chronicle of Improvements--The Moving Throng--Business and Social Events--Items Condensed.

Advertisers who desire changes in their ads. are requested to hand in for change by Monday morning.

W. R. Roush, proprietor of the Madras market, was a business visitor in town last Monday.

Andrew Larsen was in town Saturday, from Haystack, where he has a school.

U. S. Cowles and Howard Turner returned Saturday morning from the county seat.

O. P. Hulse, of Moro, was in town during the week, in the interest of an improvement house.

Myrtle J. Williams, of Salem, is at Hotel Green. Later she will go to Warm Springs to reside.

Born, to the wife of G. W. Miller, at their home near Forest, an 8-pound daughter, on March 31, 1906.

J. W. Livingston has rented the livery barn from Moore & Disney, heretofore run in connection with the Green Hotel.

Frank Elkins and family returned last Saturday evening from Prineville, where they have been visiting for a week or more.

John Gavin, a prominent attorney from the Dalles, is here in the interest of the defendant in the contest case of Bye vs. Deems.

Jim Hurt, who is employed at the Bolter ranch on Trout creek, is in town this week, attending to his contest against the homestead entry of B. Dumick.

The Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company wants rock-men, teamsters, slip-holders and ax men at Redmond. Wages $2.25 per day. Board $4.50 per week. 4 to 25.

A. Zell, one of the pioneer residents of the county, was in Madras the first of the week. He has been visiting for several days past at the home of his son, who has a ranch on Agency Plains.

You have only to stop at Hotel Poindeexter to be convinced that it is the most popular hostelry in Prineville. Courteous treatment, good accommodations, and popular prices.

SEEDS--All kinds,--Turkistan alfalfa, carrots, turnips, rutabagas, onion sets and seed, flower seeds, etc., you can buy these seeds cheaper than you can send away for them. McTaggart & Bye, Madras.

The Christian Endeavor Society will give a social at the Lodge hall Saturday evening, April 7, from 8 to 10 o'clock. Admission 10c. Entertainment provided. Proceeds to go toward paying for song books.

Dr. M. V. Turley and C. L. Gist, of the Sisters neighborhood, were in Madras last Thursday. These gentlemen are both prominently connected with the development of the irrigation district between Laidlaw and Sisters.

J. S. McCain has been in town during the week, from his Grey Butte ranch. He has with him his coach horse, "Coach" and also his roan Percheron, "Prince," both of which are fine specimens of Oregon bred and Oregon grown horses.

C. M. Hyskell, railroad editor on the Oregon Journal staff, and W. L. Crissy, secretary of Tom Richardson, of the Portland Commercial club, were in Madras last Thursday, on their way home from a visit into southwestern Crook.

Joe Bedingfield leaves today for Wasco, where he goes to work for J. M. Foster who has charge of the O. T. Company for the Merchants' Protective Association of Portland. Joe was in the employ of Mr. Foster when he settled up the Malloy business at this place.

Conrad Schreiber and his sister, Miss Anna, who have been visiting in Portland for several months past, returned to Madras yesterday. They both have home steads in the Methodist Hill neighborhood, and expect to reside there permanently in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Davis, who have been residing at Laidlaw spent Monday night in town, while enroute to their old home at Snyder, Oklahoma. Mr. Davis recently bought the John Fryrear ranch on Squaw creek, and will return to make permanent residence in Crook county. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are the parents of Mrs. W. P. Myers, of Laidlaw.

A. R. Eastwood and Jack Dee, who were indicted by the federal grand jury and taken to Portland last week, were charged with cutting timber upon government land. They were the owners of the Dee & Eastwood sawmill near Grizzly mountain. A year or more ago they put a large amount of lumber in a yard at this place to be sold, but as this lumber was sawed from a portion of the timber cut on government land, its sale was forbidden by the government, and the lumber still stands on the lot held Roush's meat market.

W. R. Roush, proprietor of the Madras market, was a business visitor at the county seat Wednesday.

Roscoe W. Bell went to Prineville yesterday, in the interest of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for county surveyor.
