for more than a month past, returned on last Saturday morning's stage.

Mrs. Sarah Craig and two little daughters, and Willie Patterson, all of Kent, were guests at the parsonage last week.
Charlie Craig returned home with them

J. H. Hadley, of Sanford, Sill & Company, returned from Shaniko on Sunday evening, and will spend some time here looking after business interests of the firm.

J. N. B. Gerking, one of the largest owners of irrigated land under the Columbia Southern ditch, was in town on Monday, on his way to his home near Laidlaw.

Dr. W. C. Ketchum, of Portland, is at the Green Hotel, prepared to do first-class dental work at reasonable prices.
If you have teeth needing attention, now is your opportunity.

J. W. & M. A. Robinson & Co. have just completed a commodious warehouse on the north side of the store building, and which will give them much more floor space for handling their large business.

We call attention to the advertisement of the O. T. Company, Wasco, in this issue. J. M. Foster, who has charge of the O. T. Company's stock for the Merchants' Protective Association, was also in charge of the Malloy sale at this place last summer.

L. E. Allingham, who came up from Portland last week, states that the O. R.
& N. right of way agent got off the train at Grass Valley and proceeded to the Deschutes valley, where he is now securing a right of way for his company. Two lines are being projected up the canyon, presumably the Hill and Harriman projects.—Review.

James C. Robinson returned on Saturday evening from Portland, where he has been for the past three weeks with Mrs.
Robinson, who has been receiving treatment at one of the hospitals here. He says that Mrs. Robinson is getting along nicely, having been removed from the hospital last week, although she is still not well enough to travel.

Frank E. Rodman has purchased of A.
C. Sanford, a half interest in the Sanford lot on Main street and also a half interest in the Madras Milling Company's building which was recently purchased by Mr.
Sanford and is now being moved to their lot. The lower floor will be occupied by Sanford, Sill & Company, and the second floor will be fitted up for a comfortable public hall.

William Boegli was in town on Saturday with a load of fruit from his fruit farm in the Cove on Crooked river. He had with him this time principally cherries of the Royal Anne species, and found a ready market here for all that he brought.
Later on Mr. Boegli expects to have other kinds of fruit for the market at this place, and he has perhaps the biggest tomato patch in Crook county.

Mrs. J. C. Waymire is building a neat little cottage on her homestead adjoining the townsite on the east. The cottage will be located just over the bluff along the creek, on one of the prettiest residence locations in the Madras neighborhood.
Mrs. Waymire's father, Mr. Isham, is also planning to construct a large reservoir on the flat near the cottage, from which to supply water to the numerous ranchers who haul water from the Isham well. The water will be pumped into the reservoir from the well under the hill, and the same pump will supply water for the cottage.
