Ladies from Des Moines, Iowa, arrived in Madras on Tuesday, to file upon the Squaw creek locality. One of the ladies, Miss Lillie Holsworth, will be at Laidlaw during the commutation.

J. W. Lehman, the Brownsville man, is at Culver practicing his profession this week. He expects to be at Madras after he leaves there. Dr. Lehman is well known by those who used to live in Brownsville and Linn county.

Phillips and Miss Ruby McCoy, who have been visiting for some time with the family of Mr. Pinkham, returned to their homes. Miss McCoy resides at Madras and Miss Phillips at Pine Creek.—Laidlaw Chronicle.

7570 yards of piece goods have been shipped to Hahn's store. The consignment of bolt goods ever since to Madras will arrive about the 15th. Calicos, outings, chambrays, muslins and dress goods cheap flannellets to fine woolens.

Jim Smith, of Prineville, arrived in Madras the first of the week. On the first trip the latter has made the section in over eighteen years, and was greatly surprised at the changes wrought. When he was last here there were no houses in this locality except one small house here in the section and none of the country through was farmed.

fell south and east of here on the evening, a splendid rain being from Prineville, but none fell in the vicinity although there was quite a rain storm and electrical display. The rain must have fallen, also, where the heavy banks of smoke which hung over this country had almost disappeared next day, so that the sky was clearer than it has been for a week or two.

Forest fires are raging in Canyon Creek, which empties into the Matoles about five miles from here. It is reported here that forest fire dratted into service all of the male population on the Matoles, to help them in fighting the fire, and that they also had about a hundred men from over the mountains with them. Large tracts of valuable timber lying in about the Matoles are jeopardized by this fire, and much valuable timber has already been destroyed. The dense banks of smoke which settled in the basin on the Matoles the week doubtless came from the fires along the Matoles, the nearest fires being not to exceed 35 miles from here.

C. E. Roush, proprietor of the Madras Meat Market, has made arrangements with all mail carriers and stage drivers going out of Madras to take orders for and to deliver meats to patrons along their routes. Send in orders by mail and receive meats by return stage at same price as at the shop.

J. W. Robinson killed a large rattlesnake about six miles south of this place, last Saturday afternoon. When returning from Culver he came upon two young ladies who were making heroic efforts to kill the rattler, which had taken refuge under a sagebrush, from which vantage point he was sounding a terrible warning with his rattle. Mr. Robinson dispatched him with a rock and removed the rattler, which contained nine rattles and a button. The snake was killed near the spot where Jerry Cramer killed one a few weeks ago, and it had the same number of rattles.
