

Arrivals at Madras.

Miss Grace Merrill and Miss Cowan, of Lamonta, were shopping in Madras, Wednesday.

Take out that board from your window and get a pane of glass from Sanford, Sill & Co.

Born, to the wife of John W. Jones, on Agency Plains, September 3, 1906, a ten-pound girl.

Loucks Bros., the furniture dealers, will take wheat at 85c per bushel on outstanding accounts or in payment for new goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Read and Miss Lilly Read, of Culver, were attending to business matters in town, Wednesday.

The ladies especially invited to call and see our late arrival of white enameled ware just received from Germany. Sanford Sill & Co.

The Pioneer office is prepared to turn out all classes of up-to-date commercial job printing. New stock, new machinery, new type. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Fruit jars? Now is the time you want your fruit jars and we have them and they are all for sale. Why don't you buy what you want now? Sanford, Sill & Co.

If you have a farm or town property for sale, list it with the Madras Realty Company, Madras, Oregon. Office in Townsite Building, Madras, Oregon.

Remember the grand Harvest Ball to be given September 14 in Sanford & Rodman's hall. The best of music has been provided and a good crowd is expected.

Mrs. William Kadletz, of Warm-spring, was in Madras yesterday, making arrangements to come to Madras to reside in order that her daughter may attend the public schools.

Culver school district is making preparations for a dance and ice cream social to be given at the Culver hall Sept. 7, the proceeds to be for the benefit of the district. Everybody invited to attend.

Frank Rodmen and C. A. Riddle returned to Madras last Thursday evening from their vacation trip in the Cascade mountains, having visited several points in the vicinity of Fish Lake on the Santiam road.

A complete supply of legal blanks for sale including warranty and quit claim deeds, real, chattel and crop mortgages, etc. Justice court blanks and justice court work a specialty. Notary Public.—F. J. Brooks.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ketchum departed Tuesday morning for North Yakima, Washington, where they will spend a month with the doctor's parents. They then expect to return to Portland where the doctor will continue his dental work.

Call and see our large line of P. & O. Canton Plows. We have the several styles and sizes of this best plow on the market for dry land farming. We carry the Superior grain drill, and the name tells a true story. J. W. & M. A. Robinson & Co.

C. E. Roush, proprietor of the Madras Meat Market, has made arrangements with all mail carriers and stage drivers going out of Madras to take orders for and to deliver meats to patrons along their routes. Send in orders by mail and receive meats by return stage at same price as at the shop.

Bert Porter and family and Miss Desie Hearing and Frank Blackmer and family of Wasco, stopped over in Madras Monday night. They are on their way to Burns, in Harney County, where the men have filed on homestead claims and where they will make their residence. Mrs. Porter and Miss Hearing are sisters of Mrs. J. P. Hahn of Madras.

Hauling water is not only expensive but at the time you need it the most you are very busy harvesting and can spare the time the least, and now as harvest is about over if you would dig your cistern and cement it and have it all ready, then haul your water during the winter months while you have the most idle time, then you would have a good supply of water when you are busy. For your house use it would be nice if you would first fill your cistern with snow then with water; do not open it until about May, and you will be surprised to find what you have at your door. Sanford, Sill & Co. sell the cement.

A. W. Boyce, a successful rancher 7 1/2 miles south of Madras, brought in some samples of plums, peaches and apples Saturday which would delight the eye of a grower in a locality even in the best fruit-raising localities. The apples were of the Gravenstein variety, and well formed and colored. Unfortunately, Mr. Boyce was unable to tell the name of the peaches grown by him this year, which were of a medium size and delicious to the taste, as he has a number of kinds in his orchard and only this one species are bearers this year. When many peach orchards in the favored localities are total failures this year, it is of special interest to know what variety will survive such chilling blasts as swept over this section last March. Mr. Boyce's orchard is situated on a north hill side, and those acquainted with the country in Haystack vicinity will know that there are no sheltered sections there, but open to all kinds of weather.
