The Pocahontas Memorial Association, of Washington, has the movement in charge, and the distinguished American sculptor, William Ordway Partridge who has to his credit a number of superb pieces, has been selected to make the monument.

Most of the women who are prominent in the movement are descendants of Pocahontas, for the Indian princess became the ancestor of some of the best families in the South. But Pocahontas' descendants are not confined to Virginia. Pennsylvania has one in the person of Miss Harriette de Benneville Keim, of Reading. She is on of the vice presidents for the Pennsylvania division of the Pocahontas Society, and is lending effective aid toward the memorial.
