

Arrivals at Madras.

Drake of Bend was in town last week on his way to Portland. M. Drake of Bend spent last week in Madras on her way to Portland. The Imperial washing machine, it is reported, is being sold by McTaggart & Bye. H. Snook has rented and will occupy the George Stevens cottage this week. McLaughlin, county road master, was in town last Friday, accompanied by his wife. The heavy underwear this week is good. You can get it cheap at the Big Store. Meat Market, either packing or our own make. Bernard W. Bass of Prineville was in Madras Monday and preached in the Davis hall. The Osborns and wife braved the weather last Tuesday and drove to Lamona to visit friends. Robinson is looking after business and visiting old friends in the country this week. Harold Clarke, the Prineville dentist, was in Madras Wednesday and is attending to his professional line. R. Biggs, of Prineville was in Madras last Friday, representing the Cummings-McLaughlin. T. A. Long and family have returned from the big plains and are occupying the George Loucks. Robinson and family returned from a two weeks' visit to Antelope. Pinkerton left yesterday morning for Athena, where he expects to be several days looking after his business at that point. Sufferers, gloves and heavy overcoats in style these days. Everyone keep you warm at J. W. & M. Robinson & Company's. C. A. Riddle and little son are in town from Medford, in Oregon, to join Mr. Riddle, the manager of the Pioneer. They will occupy the Stevens cottage. Walton Skipworth, president of the Columbia River Conference, visited the Agency and Madras churches of that section last Saturday and Sunday. W. Brown of Heister was in town last night, looking after business. He says that cattle are doing better than he, like all other cattlemen in the section, is kept pretty busy feeding during this cold spell. The up-to-date printed letter head is much to the dignity and general appearance of your business correspondence. The Pioneer office is specially equipped for this kind of work. Call and inquire about it. Mail orders are promptly executed. Mail reached here on Tuesday, but the failure of the Shaniko train to reach its destination on Monday evening, inquiry over the phone elicited the news that the train was snowed out and would not be able to reach here on Monday, and so there was no mail in that direction next day. The Cullas mail route, has moved into the Brownhill house. The change of residence was necessary owing to the pending change in the mail route on that route, as hereafter the mail will leave this office in the direction of returning to Madras in the mail.

The Rev. G. F. Pinkham and bride departed last week for their home at Gilmer, Washington.

F. F. Smith and brother, Claude, spent last Thursday night in Madras, on their way home to Tumalo from a visit in Portland and Seattle.

Call and examine our complete line of P. & O. Canton plows, walking, sulky, gang and disc with all attachments at J. W. & M. A. Robinson & Co.'s.

Arrangements are being made to give a basket social and dance in Madras in the near future for the purpose of raising funds to assist in the new county movement.

Jack Clingan has been spending several days at his ranch near Culver this week. His ranch is rented this year to Col. Reynolds, who recently came to this section from Oklahoma.

Relinquishment for sale at less than half cost of improvements, for a limited period. Land well located, and good improvements. Address or call upon E. A. Gillett, six miles south of Madras. J17

A complete supply of legal blanks for sale including warranty and quit claim deeds, real, chattel and crop mortgages, etc. Justice court blanks and justice court work a specialty. Notary Public.—F. J. Brooks.

Dr. J. A. Porgon, of the government service, arrived in Madras yesterday from New York, and went to Warming Agency today, where he will serve as physician for the people on the reservation. There has been no physician at the Agency since October 1, and Dr. T. A. Long of this place has been the visiting physician since that time, until he could be relieved by the newly appointed physician. There has been considerable sickness among the Indians, and Dr. Long states that on one visit he was called in to see 19 patients.

HUNTER-FULGHAM NUPTIALS

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Fulgham at Opal Prairie on Wednesday, January 9, 1907, at eight o'clock p. m., when their daughter, Miss Hannah, and Mr. C. W. Hunter were united in marriage by Elder E. W. Wilder, pastor of the Menonite church.

Mr. Frank Hunter, brother of the groom, acted as best man and Miss Myrtle Fulgham, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. The young people appeared in the room prepared for the ceremony during the singing of the hymn, "When the Saints are Marching In". The bride was prettily dressed in cream white henrietta, and the bridesmaid wore white lawn.

After the ceremony lunch was served. Mr. Hunter and his bride received many beautiful and useful presents. About 35 guests attended the wedding.

The young couple are well and favorably known in this section. The bride came to the Opal Prairie neighborhood with her parents from Ferndale, Washington, about two years ago. Mr. Hunter has resided in the Opal Prairie district for about five years and owns a ranch there upon which he and his bride will make their home.
