The Madras Pioneer

John Scott, who formerly owned the Tygh Valley flouring mill, and under whose management the product of that mill acquired an enviable reputation throughout this section of the state, was in town the latter part of last week. It is understood that Mr. Scott was looking for a new location, and that he was here to look over this field and the Madras flouring mill with that object in view. The Madras mill is not for sale, however, as the present owners desire to hold on to it, and so Mr. Scott did not invest here. He has sold out his Tygh Valley mill, and is at present located at Scott's Mill, operating the flouring mill which his father established 34 years ago.

A. C. Sanford has received a new windmill and pump, which will be installed at the well on his building lots on the flat. He has planted a number of trees and vines and is improving these lots with the intention of building a home there later on. The windmill will pump enough water for irrigating all of the plants, and when Mr. Sanford is ready to build, he will have one of the most attractive residence plats in Madras. Others would do well to emulate his example.

The town of Kent in Sherman county was partially destroyed by fire last week more than half of the business houses of the town being burned. The loss is estimated at $50,000, with only about $9000 insurance. The Kent Recorder, the only newspaper in the town, was burned.

DIED OF SPINAL MENINGITIS

Elsie, the infant daughter of Mrs. Susie Hardwick, died last Saturday afternoon of spinal meningitis, after an illness of only three days. The death occurred at the home of John Reichen, father of Mrs. Hardwick, where she and her infant daughter were residing. Interment took place on Monday, only the members of the family who had already been exposed being permitted to attend the funeral, owing to the fact that the disease is now generally regarded as contagious.

Thirty citizens of Wasco, a Sherman county town, subscribed $50 each to secure the services of Charles M. Hatfield, the California "rain maker", who agrees to make six inches of rain between May 25 and July 25 of this year. The money subscribed is payable if Hatfield secures the rainfall as per agreement during that period. The average rainfall in that section during that period is less than inch, and for the entire year there is something like ten to twelve inches. The fifteen hundred dollars to be paid to the "rain maker" will be returned an hundred-fold, should he secure the promised rainfall.

A brother of "Shorty" Davis brought suit against the state for the property of his brother, which was escheated to the state upon the disappearance of his brother seven years ago, and he was awarded a judgment for the amount of the estate in the suit which was tried in the Circuit Court at Prineville last week. The surviving brother was entitled to the estate, and the verdict of the jury will give general satisfaction.

M'GHEE-COWAN

Miss Florence P. Cowan and Mr. Carl McGhee were united in marriage on Friday, May 10, in the parlor of the Lamonta Hotel, Rev. J. K. Craig of Madras performing the marriage ceremony. The immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom were present to witness the solemnization of the happy event.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cowan of Lamonta, and has many friends and admirers in that community. Mr. McGhee is a prominent young business man of Lamonta, where he has resided since the town was first laid out. He also has a fine quarter section of land near town, upon which he expects to make his home. Mr. and Mrs. McGhee were the recipients of a number of handsome presents from their numerous friends.
