J. V. Hahn made a business trip to Portland during the week.
 William Terril is home from the Trout Creek country, where he has been working.
 Dr. A. A. Burris has moved his office into the Adams building, first door north of the Madras Market.
 William Hannon returned to Madras Wednesday, from a two month's trip through the John Day Valley.
 Miss Grace Parrish returned home to Haycreek last Sunday after a two-weeks' visit in Madras with friends.
 Wm. Boegh was in town from The Cove last Saturday, bringing to market some produce from his garden.
 Max Lueddemann returned home this morning from a week's business trip to Portland and The Dalles.
 Miss Jessie Hartley returned home Tuesday after closing a term of school at Crook, in the southeastern part of the county.
 Col. F. W. Valle, of Portland, in- spector of Star postal routes for Oregon, arrived in Madras yesterday and has gone to Wamspring on official business.
 Sam Hamilton, a former resident of the Ashwood neighborhood, who has been engaged at carpentering in Prineville for the past year, was in town during the week.
 J. E. Sawhill and A. M. Drake of Bend passed through Madras on Wednesday's stage. Mr. Sawhill goes to Portland to attend the State Bankers' Convention, which comes together this week, and Mr. Drake goes to the metropolis on business.
 J. M. Foster, who had charge of the T. J. Malloy bankrupt stock at this place, has gone to Prineville to take charge of the stock of Claypool Brothers, who recently filed a petition in bankruptcy. Mr. and Mrs. Foster went to Prineville yesterday, the former having finished with the O. T. Company assignment at Wasco, of which he had charge.
 Preparations for the grand Fourth of July celebration in Madras are going forward in a manner that assures a successful event. The finance and other committees report satisfactory progress and those who are desirous of celebrating the day in a rousing manner will not be disappointed in coming to Madras. The program for the celebration will be published as soon as arrangements have been further perfected.
 The combined harvester ordered for Tom Taylor by Sanford, Sill & Co. has arrived at Shaniko, and Mr. Taylor expects to bring the machine in from the railroad within the next ten days. It will be taken to the Taylor ranch on the Little Plain and put in readiness for operation. The harvester is of the Holt make, cuts 16 feet, and requires 26 head of horses to draw it when harvesting. Thirty acres will be an average day's work for the outfit.
 H. L. Friday of Cross Keys was in town yesterday. He says they have commenced haying on the Friday alfalfa ranches and are encountering some difficulty at present in getting the hay to dry after the mowers. The alfalfa crop promises to be good this year and it is believed that there will be an ample supply of water for irrigation purposes on all the ranches along Trout and Hay Creeks. Mr. Friday was out rustling harvest hands. They will employ about 15 men this season.

The 1907 Soil Culture Manual

Is a 320 page cloth bound book, very complete and up-to-date, and has about three times as many illustrations as the 1905 Manual, and in matter and general make-up is quite different, and treats many new and important subjects. It is compiled from careful and persistent experiments and observation in field work, covering over 20 years operation in eight different states, on a great variety of soil, and under widely different climatic conditions.
