Sawhill, the Bend banker, was in Tuesday, on his way to Portland. Sawhill says that Bend is dead, and that the re-establishment of the headquarters of the irrigation company with their weekly payroll, will stimulate all kinds in the community.

E. McClure of Portland was the first of the week, to appear before Commissioner of the homestead entry of her E. McClure, in 10 14. Mr. McClure at the Parrish place near Bend six years ago, within six months of the time he filed upon a homestead in this locality.

Milling Company has added a large addition on their place at this place. The new building will be used for storing flour, is 32 x 30 feet in dimension and has a basement and one story. The company has not had sufficient space for handling their flour movements, and the addition is in order that they might be able to handle this season's crop.

Taylor of Haycreek has been as principal of the Madras school for the ensuing school year, to begin next month. Miss Taylor is highly recommended as a teacher and has had several years' experience in the schools. Her home was in Alabama, but for the past year she has been teaching in New York, which place she came to three months ago to join her mother, who resides near Haycreek. She will teach in the school this year.

T. A. Wall, who has been employed in the railroad offices at Shaniko, has returned to his homestead south of this place.

F. J. Damon, who owns the Elk Drug Store at this place, arrived today to look after his interests. He is now in the O. R. & N. train service running out of Portland.

Prof. P. C. Fulton and wife returned the last week from Hood River, where they have spent the past two months or more. Mrs. Fulton, who was in poor health when they left here, has been greatly benefited by the trip. Prof. Fulton has been engaged to teach the Agency Plains school for the ensuing year.

Albert Yocum of Culver was in town yesterday. He says that the recent report that he had struck plenty of water in the deep well on his place was not altogether true. Water was struck at a depth of 350 feet, but only a small quantity of it, and this has been lost by seepage. They expect to begin drilling again soon, and from indications, do not believe they will have to go very much further before finding a permanent supply of water.

OPERATING THE COMBINED HARVESTER

Tom Taylor started up his combined harvester the first of the week, and for the next thirty days he expects to have a busy season with the harvest. The machine bought by Mr. Taylor is the first "combined" to be brought into this section, and marks the beginning of harvesting by that method in this wheat belt. This machine requires 20 head of horses to operate it. In the older wheat sections of the state most of the harvesting is done with combined harvesters, more than 200 of them being in operation in Umatilla County this year.

FROM COUNTY EXCHANGES

The little three-year old daughter of Oscar Cox was accidentally shot last Saturday by an older brother. The little girl was playing in bed when her 15 year old brother picked up a 22-caliber rifle and in a spirit of fun soaped it at her, not thinking it was loaded. The bullet struck the child in the thigh, passing through the flesh without doing much damage. Dr. Berkup was called and he says the little girl is getting along all right.—Journal.

About a year ago there was a great rush made to secure a homestead filing on Crane Prairie, which lies in the reserve, and application was made to the government to have this land, comprising a township or more of fine meadow land, thrown open to settlement. An inspector has recently examined the land and his report will be adverse to opening it.—Bulletin.

Tom Sharp, who was in town Tuesday, said he killed a rattler on his ranch 10 miles west of Prineville that measured seven feet two inches in length and sported 27 nice, cream-tinted rattles. We are patiently waiting for him to bring that snake into town so that we can get a photograph.—Review.
