

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Offered Two Years—Relieved in Three Months.

C. B. FIZER.

Mr. C. B. Fizer, Mt. Sterling, Ky., writes:

"I have suffered with kidney and other trouble for ten years past."

"Last March I commenced using Peruna and continued for three months. I have not used it since, nor have I felt pain."

"I believe that I am well and I therefore give my highest commendation to the curative qualities of Peruna."

Pe-ru-na for Kidney Trouble

Mrs. Geo. H. Simser, Grant, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I had not been well for about four years. I had kidney trouble, and, in fact, I had nearly all the time."

"This summer I got so very bad I thought I would try Peruna, so I wrote my doctor and began at once to take Peruna and Manalin."

"I took only two bottles of Peruna and one of Manalin, and now I feel better than I have for some time."

"I feel that Peruna and Manalin cured me and made a different woman of me altogether. I bless the day I picked up the little book and read of Peruna."

"It is the business of the kidneys to remove from the blood all poisonous matter. They must be active all the time, and the system suffers. There are times when they need a little assistance."

"Peruna is exactly the sort of a remedy. It has saved many people from disaster by rendering the kidneys service at a time when they were not able to bear their own burdens."

Official Seal. The policeman at the crossing grabbed the arm of the pedestrian who was hurrying across the street and brought him to a standstill.

"What are you stopping me for?" demanded the pedestrian. "I'm not getting anybody's way, am I?"

"Divil a bit, sor," answered the officer.

"I wanted to ask ye a question, sor; what's all. Fwiat's the score?"

No Cause for Complaint. The Pacific Fur Company had picked an eligible location on the left bank of the Columbia river and founded the city of Astoria.

"Seems to me," said a prospective settler, "you are asking an awful price for your building lots."

"Hub!" ejaculated the company's business agent. "You may be thankful we didn't call this town Waldorf-Astoria and charge you $20 a day for living here."

In Manila most of the houses and offices have tiny window panes made of translucent oyster shell instead of glass.

Indisputable. The teacher had found a lead pencil the floor of the school room.

"Children," she asked, holding it up, "does this belong to any of you?"

"For several seconds there was no answer. Then a little girl timidly raised her hand."

"Is it yours, Beanie?" said the teacher.

"Yes, in."

"You are sure of it, are you? How do you recognize it?"

"I don't like to tell."

"But you will have to tell, or I can't have it."

"I recognize it, teacher, by the way she sharpened. If it wasn't sure enough I'd be mighty clear of ownin' up such a job as that."

Beanie got her pencil.—Chicago Trib.

COLLEGE BROADENS WORK.

Additional Agricultural Specialties Are Added at Corvallis.

Agriculture is being given more prominence this year at the Oregon Agricultural college. There has been a re-organization of the work and additional agricultural specialists have been added to the faculty. There will now be four men instead of two devoting their time exclusively to livestock, dairying, field crops and poultry. It is hoped to add still further to the agricultural staff at the college so that the Oregon institution may fully meet the demands of the farmers of the state for competent direction along agricultural lines.

Dr. James Withycombe, in addition to his duties as director of the experiment station, will have charge of the animal husbandry work of the college and station. Professor F. L. Kent, heretofore assistant agriculturist, has been made professor of dairying and will give his full time to that subject.

Professor H. L. Scudder, of the Agricultural college of Kansas, has been selected to fill the new chair of agronomy, and his work will be along the line of field crops and farm machinery. Professor Scudder is a graduate of the Illinois college of agriculture, and after leaving college spent some time in the employ of the United States department of agriculture, his work taking him into nearly every agricultural region of the West. In California he made an extensive study of irrigation and soil cultivation. Professor Scudder will be of great assistance to the farmers of the state as well as to the students in the class room.

For the new department of poultry husbandry James Dryden was selected. The poultry industry is a great wealth producer in this state, and the college proposes to aid in its development by the dissemination of information on better methods and in the investigation of problems connected with poultry keeping. Professor Dryden comes from the Utah Agricultural college where his experimental work was so successful as to bring the Utah station international recognition for its poultry work. He spent some time at the Montana station in establishing a poultry department, and from there went to New York state to start a poultry farm for the Cypfers Incubator company, returned to the Utah station last year upon being offered superior inducements. He believes there is room for great development of poultry husbandry in Oregon.

Western Apples Best. The official report of the department of Agriculture on the condition of the apple crop on September 1 fully confirms earlier estimates of a poor apple crop throughout the United States. The average condition is reported as 34.7 per cent. Few if any of the states have an average crop. The Pacific states show up best—California 75 per cent, Oregon 70 per cent, Washington 88 per cent. The Middle states are the poorest, the lowest of all being Kansas, which is 2 per cent, and Missouri, which is 9 per cent. The report is a good advertisement for Oregon and Washington. It will serve to direct further attention to this territory in the United States so neglected.

The contract has been let for construction of a college barn at Salt Lake and Denver than the two roads it will compete with. It has about half the mileage of the other roads between the same points. Of no less interest than the apparent determination of Har-

Devotion. "Dear," said the wife, "I really do believe you would marry again if I were to lose me."

"Oh, I'm devoted enough," replied the husband, "but there are others."

"I wasn't thinking of that," she replied sweetly, "but that I don't know another woman who would have you."

—Philadelphia Ledger.

Real Philosophy. "A real philosopher," said Uncle Eben, "kin allus find sumpin' to be glad about. I used to know a man dat found a heap o' satisfaction in his wooden leg, 'cause it lef' him dat much less room for de rheumatism."

—Washington Star.

Not Encouraging. "I have made up my mind," said Mr. Timmid, "that I shall speak to your father soon."

"Yes," replied the dear girl, "father said he thought you would and he also said if you truly loved me you'd take out an accident-insurance policy in my favor."

—Philadelphia Press.

Goes Without Saying. Conan Doyle had just notified Sherlock Holmes of his approaching marriage.

"Of course," he said, "I need not tell you that I have selected you as my best man. The position naturally belongs to you."

"Quite so," assented Sherlock Holmes, absent merrily shooting a charge of dose into his left arm.

Nature Fake. A member of the proletariat was admitted.

"Sir," said he, "the wolf has been at my door for months."

"Pooh, pooh, my good man," responded the fat capitalist. "Such is not the nature of the wolf. You have evidently been reading unscrupulous literature."

—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Way of It. Husband (during the spat)—I suppose I am never to have my way about anything?

Wife—Of course you are. You can have your way when it is the same as my way, but when our ways are different I intend to have my way.

An Advantage. "There is one thing to be said in favor of a boy going to a circus with his father," remarked the Observer of Events and Things; "he don't have to crawl under the tent."—Yonkers Statesman.

PALMY SHEEP DAYS ARE OVER.

Great Flocks Near Ellensburg a Thing of the Past.

Sheep raising in the Yakima section is undergoing important changes, due to conditions which have arisen in the last 10 years. While it still continues an important industry in Kittitas county and other parts of the Yakima valley, it is not carried on so extensively as a few years ago, and the number of sheep growers is materially decreasing. The ranges are being gradually dimin-

THE DESERTED SANDWICH.

It Had the Fatal Gift of Beauty and It Was Coveted by Many.

"Don't leave your sandwich up there on the advertising boards," said Tommy's mother; "the train will come along soon and you will forget it."

But Tommy did not heed the warning, the train came and went away with Tommy and his mother and the others, bound for Coney Island, and the sandwich remained, says the New York Sun.

It was a remarkably neat package for a sandwich. Lying there on top of the advertising boards it looked as if it had been done up by a jeweler, so rectangular was it and so precisely were the ends of the wrapper folded over.

An elderly man stood near by reading his newspaper. He had heard the talk about the sandwich and he noted that the event had turned out as Tommy's mother had predicted.

A young girl came up the stairs and walked along the platform. She saw the neat package and looked from it toward the man. He drew a step nearer to it, glanced at it as if to assure himself that it was still there, and resumed reading his paper.

Several passengers alighted from the next train, and as they passed the sandwich most of them saw it and the man tried to decide whether it belonged to him. One young fellow strolled back, after going as far as the door of the waiting room, and walked slowly up and down the platform.

The elderly man stepped to the edge of the platform and looked along the track, as if to see whether the train was coming. Just as he turned to take his former position he saw the young man lingering close to the sandwich.

He cleared his throat with a loud "Ahem!" and rested his arm on the advertising boards a few feet away from the package. The young man took the next train that came along.

A large woman rigged out in clothes that she evidently thought were just the thing hurried up the stairs and was rushing toward the train that had just come in. Her eye caught the package, with its jewelry store appearance, and she did not enter the train.

She looked up and down the track and glanced toward the sandwich, and from it toward the man. He folded his paper, put his reading glasses in his pocket and again stepped to the edge of the platform and looked along the rails.

The woman eyed him and the package alternately. The roar of a train was heard. As it slowed down the man, all unmindful of the package hurried to the train.

The Moffat road follows a much straighter course between Salt Lake and Denver than the two roads it will compete with.

It has about half the mileage of the other roads between the same points.

Of no less interest than the apparent determination of Hardevoted to this bit of baby apparel the moment he saw it in a department store.

"That hat is too extravagant for this family," remarked the young mother. "I'll take it back and see what I can do."

A few days later the grandfather called to see the baby in the new hat.

"Do let me see how she looks in it," he said. "And how did you like it?"

"Very much, father, thank you. They gave me two hats, two dresses, a sweater, and thirty-nine cents in change for it."

Politics in Domestic Life. A story is told of a Bradford County politician (the sharp and shifty kind) who was urged by his wife to hoe the garden. He couldn't think of any very good reason, so he went at it. Soon he came in with a silver quarter he said he had found. He washed it, put it in his pocket and went back. In a few minutes he showed up with another coin, this time a half dollar. He said there must be a buried treasure in that garden. He unearthed a couple of dimes and another quarter. Being very tired, he announced his intention of taking a nap, and duly went to sleep. When he awoke his wife had a dangerous and steely glint in her eye, but the garden was all hoed. It is mistrusted that she had hoed while he slept, and that she had failed to find any buried treasure.—Milton Standard.

Good-Bye, Euclid. Within the last few years a revolution has been accomplished at Oxford which ought really to affect the mind of the nation more than the difference between Lord Curzon and Lord Rosebery. A text-book has been discarded which was already venerable for its antiquity at the beginning of the Christian era. Needless to say, we are referring to Euclid's "Elements." For what other text-book ever had such a run as that? It has been accepted ever since its publication, which was in the reign of the first Ptolemy (B. C. 323-285). No writer has ever become so identified with a science as Euclid with geometry. The nearest approaches are to be found in the relation of Aristotle to logic and of Adam Smith to political economy.—London Spectator.

It's very, very easy to be foolish. Better watch out.

CATARRH BLOOD AND SYSTEM DISORDERED

Catarrh is not merely an inflammation of the tissues of the head and throat, as the symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dropping back into the throat, continual hawking and spitting, etc., would seem to indicate; it is a blood disease in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Catarrh is due to the presence of an excess of uric acid in the blood. The Liver, Kidneys and Bowels frequently become torpid and dull in their action and instead of carrying off the refuse and waste of the body, leave it to sour and form uric acid in the system. This is taken up by the blood and through its circulation distributed to all parts of the system. These impurities in the blood irritate and inflame the different membranes and tissues of the body, and the contracting of a cold will start the secretions and other disgusting and disagreeable symptoms of Catarrh. As the blood goes to all parts of the body the catarrhal poison affects all parts of the system. The head has a tight, full feeling, nose continually stopped up, pains above the eyes, slight fever comes and goes, the stomach is upset and the entire system disordered and affected by this disease. It is a waste of time to try to cure Catarrh with sprays, washes, inhalations, etc. Such treatment does not reach the blood, and can, therefore, do nothing more than temporarily relieve the discomfort of the trouble. To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be thoroughly purified and the system cleansed of all poisons, and at the same time strengthened and built up. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. removes every particle of the catarrhal poison from the blood, making this vital stream pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, the head is loosened and cleared, the hawking and spitting cease, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and vigorous health restored. S. S. S. also tones up the stomach and digestion and acts as a fine tonic to the entire system. If you are suffering with Catarrh begin the use of S. S. S. and write us a statement of your case and our physicians will send you literature about Catarrh, and give you special medical advice without charge. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.

I had Catarrh for about fifteen years, and no man could have been worse. I tried everything I could hear of, but no good resulted. I then began S. S. S., and could see a little improvement from the first bottle, and after taking it a short while was cured. This was six years ago, and I am as well today as any man. I think Catarrh is a blood disease, and know there is nothing on earth better for the blood than S. S. S. Nobody thinks more of S. S. S. than I do. M. MATSON, Lapeer, Mich.
