W. Wilder drove to Shaniko Monday with his mother, who is visiting him at Opal Prairie for a few days, and who was returning to her home at Bellingham, Washington.

D. Brown last week finished construction of a large machine shed for A. W. Boyce at the latter's place. The structure is a large and is a very substantial improvement.

Van Tassel moved into his new home in Madras Addition last Saturday. The Brownhill house, heretofore occupied by him, will be occupied by Mr. Tucker, who moved into it last Saturday.

Dr. Davis of Prineville came to Madras last week, to take charge of the L. M. Lamb stock of merchandise assigned, D. F. Stewart. Mr. Stewart expects to remain in Madras until the stock is disposed of by the assignee.

Miss M. Adams left last Thursday for the Dalles, where she will spend a few days. She was accompanied by Mrs. Jackson, who has been visiting her for several weeks, and who returns to Spokane, where she is now on her home.

Dr. Covey, wife of Supt. C. C. Covey of the Warm Springs Reservation, has been seriously ill at her home at Prineville during the past week. Dr. Covey of this place was called in consultation by the resident physician at the reservation, the first of the week, and upon reports that Mrs. Covey's condition is very much improved.

Madras was defeated in a game of football with an All College Stars team, which was played last Saturday. Martin Pratt, who has resided at Madras several years and has many friends here, was one of the players on the Multnomah team. He was injured in the game, and was hospitalized as among "the injured" in the game. In one of the mixed-up games, the gentle game of football was played by an All Star team, and a jolt which broke his nose and other slight injuries. Such accidents are hardly worth recording in connection with a real game of football, however, and are only chronicled for the sake of friends in this locality who were there.

W. Weekly was in town last Tuesday with two wagon loads of fine apples from Pine Creek, in the John Day valley country. The fruit was raised by Charles Huntley, whose ranch near Cebelo is one of the best known in Wheeler County. In the morning Mr. Huntley found a ready market for all the fruit he could raise, at the Dalles and Fossil, but the increasing demand of his orchards has driven him to the new markets, and this year he has sent three loads to Agency Prineville and Madras, a distance of practically 100 miles from his ranch. Mr. Huntley is marketing the fruit for the locality, and has found a ready market for the fruit he has been bringing. On the last trip he left at this place exceptionally fine specimens of the Bellflower, King, Wintergreen, Spitzenberg and other well known varieties.

Frank Blair of Youngs was a visitor in Madras yesterday.

Logan McPherson was in town yesterday from Heiler.

Dave Rogers was in town from Opal Prairie the last of the week.

Mrs. R. A. Brown was in town the first of the week from Heiler.

born, to the wife of Fred Killingbeck, Sunday, November 3, a daughter.

Robert Osborn of Culver was a business visitor in Madras last Tuesday.

Austin Culp made proof on his homestead on Opal Prairie last Thursday.

W. J. Cowherd made final proof on his homestead on the Little Plains last Saturday.

Frank Loveland made a trip to Prineville Tuesday after repairs to his engine, returning next day.

Fred McDowell returned the last of the week from Willamette Valley point, where he spent the summer.

Mrs. Frank Huffman of Culver was in attendance at the Sunday School convention at this place last Saturday.

John Hoffman, jr., has gone to work at the Cove Orchard, where he is engaged in pruning about 1000 fruit trees.

W. S. Williams and William Harper made final proofs last Friday upon their homesteads on Agency Plains.

Luther F. Killingbeck made final proof on his Opal Prairie homestead before Commissioner Osborn, yesterday.

W. Riley Cook of Culver made final proof upon his homestead in that neighborhood before Commissioner Osborn last Saturday.

John Hoffman, sr., went to Prineville the last of the week to work on the new Methodist Church building, which is being completed.

Miss Elvira Smith who is teaching school at Culver, was in town last Saturday, in attendance at the Sunday School convention held here.

William H. Short and T. H. McGhee of Lamonta were in town last Friday. The former filed upon a homestead in the Lamonta neighborhood.

Andrew Morrow was in town yesterday from Upper Willow Creek, delivering grain to the Madras mill, and looking after other matters in connection with his land in this vicinity.

Married, at the residence of the bride's brother, Allen Harvey, on Wednesday, November 6, 1927, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Vanderveen of Bakeoven and Mr. Jerome Buzan, of Flanagan, Rev. E. W. Wilder officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Buzan will reside at Flanagan.

John Bolter of Cross Keys was in town last Tuesday. This was Mr. Bolter's first visit to Madras in some time, and he expressed surprise at the steady growth of the community. He owns a good business corner on Main Street, which he says is not for sale, as he thinks Madras has a good future ahead of it.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Burris drove down yesterday from Bend, where they are now located. After spending three or four days here, they will drive on through to The Dalles, and from there proceed to the Willamette Valley for a visit with their children. They are much pleased with their new location at Bend.

The Mud Springs School and Literary Society will give an entertainment on the evening of Saturday, November 30, to which the public is cordially invited. The proceeds of the entertainment will go towards creating a fund for use in having a public Christmas Tree for the little ones in Mud Springs district this year.

Creed Triplett and wife, formerly of Bend, were in Madras last Thursday night on their way to that place, where they expect to reside. Mr. Triplett, who was formerly in the barber business at Bend has been following that occupation at Myrtle Point, in Coos County, but says he doesn't like the wet weather of that section.

George W. Rankin made proof on his homestead claim last Thursday, and left next day for The Dalles. He has suffered for some time with rheumatism and expected to go to the Soldiers' Home at Los Angeles, Calif., as soon as his proof was made, but he has a place offered him at Cebelo, which he will try for awhile, and if he can hold the place down he will remain there for the winter.

In spite of continuous work on the Pinkerton well on Agency Plains, very slow progress is being made, as the drill is now in the hardest rock they have encountered since they began drilling. Mr. Pinkerton says that they are not able to make more than half the distance they were making before they struck this rock. No more water has been struck, but they have not lost what they had, the water continuing to run in at the rate of 15 gallons an hour. In the Magill well the water was found just below the hard rock formation similar to that in which the Pinkerton well now is, and Mr. Pinkerton has hopes of making a similar strike in his well, when they get through the hard rock.
