PLANS FOR ESTABLISH-ING POSTAL BANKS

How Bills of Carter and Hitchcock Differ from Madden-Snapp Measure.

DISPOSITION OF THE FUNDS

Democrat Provides for Board of Investment-All Fix Deposit Limit at $1,000.

Upon the indorsement by Postmaster General Meyer and later by President Itoosevelt of the postal savings bank system for the United States, three separate and distinct plans have been proposed to Congress as the proper procedure for establishing and putting into operation such banks. In the House of Representatives Representatives Madden, of Chicago, and Snapp, of Joliet, Ill., have introduced similar measures. Representative Hitchcock, of Omahs, a Democrat, has introduced another House bill, and Senator Thomas Carter, of Montana, is the father of a senate bill. The main differences in these bills lie in the protection afforded depositors and deposits and in the investment features of the funds of the postal savings banks.

All these bills place a limit on the interest-bearing deposits which can be made by any individual within any single calendar year and finally. The Madden-Snapp bill provides that $300 may be deposited within one year and that no interest shall be paid to any depositor upon a deposit in excess of $1,000. The Carter bill makes the limit of annual deposit $500 and the final limit of interest-bearing deposit $1,000, while the Hitchcock bill has if doubleplex. It provides a limit of monthly deposit of $100 and the final limit of any single deposit at $1,000. In addition it provides that no interest shall Directions to Mix a Simple Preparation be paid on more than $500 to any depositor and that if any depositor deposit more than $200 in any one year interest shall not be paid on new deposits in excess of that amount.

Both the Madden-Snapp and Carter bills provide an interest rate of 2 per cent on deposits, while the Hitchcock bill stipulates that the rate on $200 or less shall be 242 per cent, and over that amount and up to $500 the rate shall be fixed by a board of investment, composed of the Postmaster General, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency.

In administration the Madden-Snapp bill provides a general superintendent of postal savings banks, with such assistants and clerks as may be necessary, while the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to increase the auditor's force in the Post Office Department. The sum of $50,000 is set aside to start the banks in operation. Both the Hitchcock and Carter bills stipulate that the head of the postal banks shall be an officer known to the Fifth Assistant Postmaster General, and ask $100,000 to establish the banks.

TRADITIONS OF THE ORIENT.

Delties of India Known Under Many Names.

Of the countless attractions India offers none are greater than her rich stories of myth and tradition. Orithat Hindoo religion in a dim and shadowy past contented itself with venerating some of nature's more immarch of centuries there came an added roll of detties of which Brahma himself was chief, says the London Lady. According to some writers, his two brothers, Vishnu and Shiva, were equally powerful, the former as preserver of Brahma's creations, the latter as destroyer. Vishnu is famous for his countless metamorphoses and appears in the sacred books under no fewer than 1,000 different names. He remains the most popular deity among the Hindoes, who believe his final metamorphosis-that of a horse-is yet Pills and thus haston recovery. to come. While awaiting this last chance he is thought to be resting in a sea of milk, with a serpent for his pfllow. The River Ganges is supposed to Issue from his right foot.

The god Shiva also figures in Hindoo mythology under 1,000 different names, and is invariably represented in some repellant form. Idols show him at one time with five faces, at another with three eyes, while a third will represent him with a necklace of skulls, thick, matted hair and a horn projecting from one of his temples. "When a watch is wound up at night, coming out of a warm pocket, and laid down or hung up in a cool place, the mainspring will contract by the cooling off of the metals. Being wound up tightly all chance of contracting has been shut off and the spring is bound to break,

"If, however, the watch is wound up in the morning, having partly run down through the night, there is room enough left in the barrel to contract. Another reason why it should be wound unin the morning is that the spring will then have more power and thus will be in a better condition to resist the disturbing movement of the bearer during the daytime.

"Reing generally in a horizontal position during the night and running with less nower, the horizontal position in which the balance runs more freely, will operate to make the length of the swing of the balance wheel during the night as nearly as possible the same an In the day time."

CATARRE BLOOD AND SYSTEM DISORDERED

Catarrh is not merely an inflammation of the tissues of the head and ental scholars have unfolded for us throat, as the symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dropping back into the throat, continual hawking and spitting, etc., would seem to inditate; it is a blood disease in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Catarrh is due to the presence of an excess pressive phenomena. Space, the starry of uric acid in the blood. The Liver, Kidneys and Bowels frequently befirmament and the light of day-under come torpid and dull in their action and instead of carrying off the refuse the poetle names of Arditi, Varuna and and waste of the body, leave it to sour and form unic acid in the system. These impurities in the blood irritate and inflame the different membranes and tissues of the body, and the contracting of a cold will start the secretions and other disgusting and disagreeable symptoms of Catarrh. As the blood goes to all parts of the body the catarrhal poison affects all parts of the system. The head has a tight, full feeling, nose continually stopped up, pains above the eyes, slight fever comes and goes, the stomach is upset and the entire system disordered and
